GOT YOUR TICKET TO MEDFORD?

Better Hurry; May Be No Excursion

Wednesday Is Last Day Allowed to Insure Special

You fans who have secured the railroad company to furnish rolling stock's seats, and what that time was going for sure, must know by Wednesday night whether the special is to be made up, and between now and Wednesday night, there must be about fifty tickets sold to insure the special.

If the required hundred tickets are disposed of, all the baseball fans of Klamath county can make the trip to Medford and return for $6.20, just half the usual charge. Moreover, they will go in a special train, which will get them back with no great delay.

The tickets have a ten-day stop-over privilege, allowing time for quite a visit in the Rogue River Valley.

In Monday's game at Medford there will be seen in action some of the best ball players in the world. The White Sox have recruited a number of stars from other teams, besides their own best men.

Christy Mathewson, of course, ranks first with the fans of this country, and "Big Six," it is believed, will be on the mound, with Chief Meyers behind the bat. Walter Johnson, who put the Washington Americans on the map this year, appears as a twirler for Chicago.

One of the big attractions is Ray Schalk, the boy player on the White Sox team. He is regarded as a phenomenon by all who have seen him in action. Although only 19 years old, Schalk was the regular catcher for up to you to move quickly, or else pay full fare to Medford? In response to request, the Herald took up the matter of a special train from here to Medford for next Monday's game, and secured a promise of the White Sox all this year, and he leads the American League in fielding his position.

Hal Chase, whose name is known wherever baseball is mentioned, was injured in the South a few weeks ago, but reports from San Francisco are to the effect that he will recover in time to cover the initial sack for the Chicago aggregation at Medford.

This Speaker, often classed with the great Ty Cobb, is playing center for the Sox, while Sam Crawford, a side partner of Cobb's is alternating between first and the outfield.

Sam, one of the greatest sluggers the game has ever seen, has been filling in at first since Hal Chase was injured.

LANDING OF PENN. IS CELEBRATED

ANNIVERSARY OF ARRIVAL OF THE FAMOUS QUAKER IS THE CAUSE OF BIG DOINGS IN THE OLD COMMONWEALTH

United Press Service PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Philadelphia, and especially Quakers, today celebrated with appropriate ceremonies the 239th anniversary of the landing of William Penn on the shores of Dock Creek, known today as Front and Dock streets.

The City of Brotherly love on the day the band of Quakers set foot on Pennsylvania soil consisted of only three or four cottages which had been erected by the Swedes.

Today it ranks third in population and first in manufacturing of the cities of this country.

Market Recovers Very Slowly From the Slump

(Herald Special Service)

PORTLAND, Nov. 19.—Although cattle liquidation was a third less last week than the total for the week previous, beef values have not been lifted appreciably, so demoralizing was the condition of the market ten days ago.

However, the decrease in receipts was the very panacea the trade needed, and while no general rise in prices was consummated, a few strong bids for an occasional load of prime steers or cows showed the underlying steadiness to the market.

Monday and Wednesday were the only days which were factors in better prices.

The remainder of the week's business was transacted in poor grades of stock, of which there was a large quantity.

Generally the cattle market was steadier to a shade firmer than it was and the outlet for strictly prime cows and steers was better.

Top quotations were: steers $7 to $7.35; cows $6 to $6.50; heifers $6.50 to $6.75; calves $8 to $9, and bulls $5.50 to $5.75.

Depression hit the swine market late in the week, but was not entirely unexpected.

Portland has been 25c to 40c higher than other American markets for ten days, and has maintained strength up to Thursday of last week.

Prime light hogs sold steady at $8.30 for the first half of the week, but buyers refused to bid that price at the close, and tops dropped to $8.20.

Trade opinion was not so optimistic as the week closed.

Muttons and lambs sold strong and freely supported the high price range established a few days ago.

Prime yearlings at $4.75, old wethers at $4.50, and ewes at $4.10, were sheep house features.

Lambs were strong at $5.75. Receipts were comparatively light, and the demand exceeded the supply. Ah prices were steady to firm and the trade was brisk.

Campanini, Chief Musical Figure in the West

Campanini, director of the Chicago opera company, who has just come back from Europe, where he made arrangements for great singers to be heard in Chicago this winter, will try to lift that city to the equal of New York in operatic matters. He will succeed if that can be done, for he is a man of tireless energy. As conductor for the Manhattan opera house under Oscar Hammerstein, he revolutionized opera in New York. The staid old Metropolitan company has to acknowledge the greatness of Campanini. But New York will see him and his company during the season, as will Philadelphia and Boston. For by the arrangement made for an interchange of the companies he will take his company to those cities.
