PRISONER WANTS TO SHARE WEALTH

CONFIDENCE GAME OF ANTEMLUVIAN VINTAGE IS PULLED ON LOCAL MAN WHO HAS NO HANKERING FOR SHARE

We have with us again the old patriarch of bunco schemes, namely, the absconding Russian banker, his imprisonment in a Spanish dungeon, his letter appealing to an American to get this stolen money and return two-thirds to the absconder's daughter and keep one-third for his pains.

ANTI-JEWISH PLOT IS DEFEATED

M. Krassovsky, chief of the Kiev detective department, was actually instructed to proceed on the theory that the crime was the work of Jews, although the only possible pretext for the "ritual" charge was that the boy's body bore 47 stab wounds.

When Krassovsky made his first report to his superiors he was sternly reprimanded. Later he was practically forced by them to arrest Mendel Bellis, a Jew, 40 years of age, foreman of the brick yard.

In the meantime the case had attracted world-wide attention. Many prominent men in England, including the archbishops of Canterbury and York, Lord Rosebery, Austen Chamberlain, A. J. Balfour and scores of university professors, scientists and ministers of the gospel, signed and sent out to Russia a strongly worded protest against the "blood accusation."

More than 600,000 men are employed in working the railways of the United Kingdom.

GIANTS AND SOX IN FINE SHAPE

McGRAW SAYS WARM WEATHER IMPROVED PLAYING—BUILDING ADDITIONAL SEATS FOR FANS AT MEDFORD

MEDFORD, Nov. 11.—A message from John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, from Beaumont, Texas, states that the Giants and White Sox, who play here November 17th, are already feeling the effects of the "pep" which warm weather furnishes.

Matty Johnson, Teareau and Wiltsae have already got back into their regular form, and are "putting everything on it." It is fortunate for the local fans that the teams reach here direct from a southern trip, and will be well limbered up, so that they can show some genuine, fast baseball.

Arrangements have been completed for special trains at reduced rates from Roseburg, Redding, Klamath Falls and intermediate points, and the requests for seats from those three places alone would tax the seating capacity of the grounds.

The management has decided to continue the seat sale in Medford for a few days more, but after a date, to be announced in a day or two, all unsold seats will be reserved for out-of-town people.

Work has begun on the grounds, and they will be put in first class condition immediately, and then protected from the weather, so that the game will not have to be played in a swamp, as has been the case at the recent games in the Middle West, some of which have been actually played in snow storms.

On account of the demand for seats, carpenters have been employed to provide additional stands to accommodate those who desire seats but are late in securing their tickets.
