Washington Gives Constitutionalists No Encouragement

ANTI-HUERTISTAS ARE IN DANGER AS THE RESULT OF HESITANCY IN WASHINGTON AND PETTY JEALOUSY

VILLA PLANS TO SUPPLANT CARANZA OR LEAD OWN REVOLUTION

Hale Still in Conference With Rebel Leader—Execution of Federals at Jaurez Displeasing to the United States, and It is Believed That Negotiations With Constitutionalists Will Be Broken Off.

United Press Service

BOULGAS, Ariz., Nov. 18.—It is rumored among the rebel forces that General Villas will try to supplant General Carranza in the leadership of the rebels unless Carranza starts independently to capture Mexico City, capturing Chihuahua City en route to the capital.

Carranza has lost prestige among the constitutionalists on account of his failure to secure the lifting of the embargo on arms and munitions.

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—Rumors of an impending break in negotiations between America and the constitutionalists forces are heard today. Whether or not there will be a complete break depends upon the outcome of a conference between William Howard Hale and Carranza today.

Wilson and Bryan are greatly displeased at the execution of federals by the rebels at Jaurez. The chief reason, though, for the present status is the reported unwillingness of Carranza to outline a future course.

As far as Huerta is concerned, the situation remains unchanged.

Lind and O'Shaughnessy, writing from Vera Cruz and Mexico City, say things are quiet on the surface. They report a strong undercurrent of antagonism toward Americans, engendered by Huertistas.

United Press Service

NOGALLES, Sonora, Nov. 18.—General Carranza and Ambassador Hale refused to discuss the rumored meeting of last night, at which meeting, it is rumored, the futility of prolonging negotiations was admitted.

Hale and Escudero are scheduled to confer late this afternoon, when a final effort will be made to agree.

General Carranza will probably not attend this meeting, as the rebels at present do not seem to care whether or not the embargo against arms is removed.

The capture of Jaurez has apparently convinced them that they are in a position to win out without any addition to their supplies.

Chemist to Prevent Bichloride Poisoning

Gilbert I. Stodola, a young chemist of New York City, has invented a capsule that it is believed will make safe the handling of the dreaded bichloride of mercury.

Since the death of Banker Walker of Macon, Ga., some months ago, I have been working on a capsule which I believe would make death impossible from the accidental taking of bichloride, said the young chemist. "I have long been convinced that the only safe method of putting up this deadly poison was in insoluble capsules. About a month ago I was convinced that I had discovered the right composition. It consisted for the most part of India rubber, and I had proved to my satisfaction that my capsule would not dissolve in the stomach. I went to see Dr. Charles Fabot of Brooklyn, whom I knew was interested in the subject, and told him of my discovery. The doctor asked me if I would swallow one of my capsules. October 27 was agreed on for the test, and on that date, in the presence of Dr. Charles Fabot and Dr. J. W. Ederly, I swallowed a capsule. The doctors kept me under close observation, and in twenty-four hours declared the test successful, the capsule having passed regularly."

WILLIAMSON IS CLOSED TO THE TIMBER DRIVES

ACTION WILL CANCEL MANY BIG SALES

Millions of Feet of Fine Timber on Klamath Reservation Adjacent to Williamson River Are Tied Up, Because the Commissioner of Indian Affairs Favors Visiting Fishermen Rather Than Purchasers.

One of the most serious blows to the lumber industry in Klamath county was received in a recent order of Commissioner Sells of the department of Indian affairs, revoking all permits for running logs in Williamson River on the Klamath Indian reservation.

It is estimated that there are 1,500,000,000 feet of good merchantable timber tributary to Williamson River. The recent action of the department in cutting this timber area up into units and placing it on the market has attracted the attention of the prominent lumber men all over the United States.

Already a number of sales have been made and sawmills and lumber camps established. The interest shown by other lumber men indicated that the reservation would shortly become one of the most active manufacturing centers on the coast.

All these bright prospects, however, have been wiped out by the new order of the commissioner, made a few days ago.

Four timber units have been estimated and offered for sale. Bids for some of this timber were rejected for the reason they were made on the provision that the contract should contain a permit to use Williamson River for conveying the logs to the mills. As the use of the river is the only practical method of bringing the logs to the mills, this will mean that there will be no further purchases of timber on the reservation.

One of the units offered for sale contains 400,000,000 feet; another 70,000,000 feet; a third 50,000,000, and the fourth 16,000,000 feet. The manufacture of this large amount of timber would mean employment of thousands of men and the establishment of a large settlement on the reservation.

The loss of this enormous development, by the order of the commissioner, has stirred the business people of
