A trading stamp magnate died the other day worth $10,000,000, every cent of which he made off gullible merchants, and they in turn got their profits, if any, from their customers. The people pay the bills after all, and imagine they are getting value received, while the promoter gets all the real money.

A Has the Tango Apparently of the opinion that the dances at present conducted in Roseburg savor of immorality, and should be elevated to a higher plane, a number of local ladies recently conferred with the Portland officers, and have received a copy of an ordinance governing dances in that city. This ordinance will be submitted to the consideration of the city council, and if found satisfactory, will probably be adopted in part by the local municipal fathers. The ordinance is very drastic, and if adopted will add considerable to the burden of the officers entrusted with its enforcement—Roseburg Review.

NO USE The other day a lady read an announcement of Shepherd's special piano sale to her family. They told her it would be no use to investigate, but she did so and purchased a piano for Christmas. She was so well pleased with the price and terms that she sent a friend around, who also purchased one. You will make no mistake when you call next door to the postoffice.

A little tragedy: Mother tells the child that an angel is beautiful, has wings and flies. Child tells mother that father called the hired girl an angel. The hired girl at once flew.

SAGE TEA PUTS LIFE AND COLOR IN HAIR

IT'S GRANDMOTHER'S RECIPE TO RESTORE COLOR, GLOSS AND THICKNESS

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe. Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance. Mrs. Helen Britton, Only Woman Baseball Magnate on the Job

Mrs. Helen Britton, owner of the St. Louis National League baseball club, was one of the interested baseball magnates at the meeting of the National League presidents in New York when Governor John K. Tener of Pennsylvania was chosen president of the league. Of course Mrs. Britton in person did not sit in the meeting of the eight baseball club presidents who chose Governor Tener, because her husband is the president of her club. But he voted for the governor all right, and he voted as his wife wished. Mrs. Britton was much in evidence about the corridors of the Waldorf-Astoria, where the baseball men and magnates gathered, and many a fanning bee she held with the stars of the diamond who were there. She was so stylishly dressed that she attracted much attention, and was pointed out to all the New York women who flock the corridors of the hotel every afternoon and evening.

Advice to Philanthropists

At a meeting in Philadelphia last week Miss Rose Winslow scored those philanthropists who spend time and money erecting homes for working girls. The effort spent in making it possible for underpaid women to live in a semi-charitable institution, she said, might better be expended in securing to the wage earner an independent living wage.

The women will listen to a missionary tell how the Chinese women bind their feet to make them smaller, and will grow highly indignant over the blindness of the poor heathen. Then they will go home and get out of their straight fronts and spend a half hour powdering the welts and bruises around the cinch line caused by tight corsets.

The good old red flannel petticoat days seem to have passed, but occasionally one is displayed in time to save a train load of passengers from a horrible and untimely death.

The good old days when a man drove a horse with one arm and supported a dainty bit of calico with the other are only memories of middle-aged couples. The present generation only imagines it is enjoying itself.

Deeds, Not Words

Klamath Falls People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit. The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills for Klamath Falls' kidney sufferers have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Klamath Falls people.

N. Marchand, Warden ave., Klamath Falls, Ore., says: "About two years ago I first noticed symptoms of kidney trouble. My back pained me intensely and I was obliged to get up many times during the night, owing to too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. Often my back was so weak that I had to quit work. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally brought to my attention and I began using them. They made my kidneys normal and removed the pains in my back. I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for this cure and highly recommend them to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

America Taking the South African Trade

What American manufacturers can accomplish in the field of export trade when they seriously set themselves to the task is strikingly indicated in the case of the Union of South Africa.

During the year of 1912 the United States outranked all other foreign countries in the imports into the Union and was second only to Great Britain in supplying the people with their requirements.

For the first time in five years we exceeded Germany in the trade. This was accomplished in spite of the fact that there is a fortnightly service of German passenger and freight steamers between Hamburg and South African ports; that there are large investments of German capital in the mines and other industries of the country, and that German manufacturers sent out numerous travelers every year in an attempt to secure a larger share of the trade.

The value of the imports of merchandise from the United States into the provinces which make up the Union of South Africa has risen from $9,446,626 in 1907 to $15,732,321 in 1912, an increase of more than 55 per cent.

We supply more oil, agricultural machinery, timber and lumber, windmills and carriages and carts than any other country, including the United Kingdom, and with the exception of lumber, more than all other countries combined. Mining machinery, motor cars, hardware, boots and shoes, electrical machinery, corrugated iron, furniture, tools, typewriters, cash registers and miscellaneous iron and steel products are other articles which are sold extensively in the country.

The success of the American automobile in South Africa has been phenomenal. According to our own statistics, the exports of automobiles to South Africa have increased in value from $61,185 in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1910, to $1,167,371 in the fiscal year 1913.

Today South Africa ranks fifth, following Canada, England, Australia and Argentina, as purchasers of the American motor cars.

MANILA HERO IS 76 TODAY

ADMIRAL DEWEY IS FLOODED WITH CALLS AND LETTERS OF CONGRATULATION ON THE OCCASION

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 26.—Admiral Dewey, hero of Manila Bay, was 76 years young today.

His years did not keep him away from his desk and duties at the navy department, but the continuous stream of callers to offer congratulations did.

Besides "best wishes" personally offered by high officials and friends in Washington, the Spanish-American war naval hero was literally showered with letters and telegrams of congratulations from all over the country.

There are still a few people in this crazy modern world who are in favor of short courtships and long marriages, but their number appears to be growing rapidly less.
