Death Ends Suffering

After Weeks of Illness, Mrs. Morine Goes Beyond

After lingering at the point of death for two weeks or more, Mrs. Addie Morine was summoned beyond by the Grim Reaper this morning. She has been a sufferer from varicose veins for several years, and recently underwent an operation at the Blackburn hospital, where death occurred. It was thought that the operation would relieve the vein trouble, but instead of rallying, Mrs. Morine sank, and it was only her wonderful constitution that kept alive the spark of life through weeks of suffering.

Deceased was a native of Canada. Prior to her marriage to George W. Morine in 1881, she was Miss Addie Gilt. With her parents, she came to Oregon when she was a small child,

SPORTSMEN ARE GETTING READY

IN FIRST TWO DAYS OF THE NEW YEAR NEARLY 150 GAME LICENSES WERE ISSUED IN THIS COUNTY

While there has been a dearth in the issuance of marriage licenses since the first of the year, this cannot be said of the other license department of the county clerk's office—the game licenses.

In the first two days of 1914, Friday and Saturday, there were issued 133 licenses. These represent 72 permits to hunt and 61 anglers' licenses.

Besides these there are many applications today.

WILL FIX WATER RATES IN SECOND UNIT WEDNESDAY

WATER USERS ASS'N MAKES ANNUAL LEVY

Fifteen Cents an Acre Will Be Charged This Year for the Maintenance of the Association—Is Four Cents Higher Than Last Year, Owing to the Elimination of Poe Valley Land From Payments.

Fifteen cents an acre was the assessment levied by the directors of the Klamath Water Users Association at their meeting Saturday for the maintenance of the association through the coming year. Last year the levy was 11 cents an acre.

According to the directors, the charge is greater this year, owing to the elimination of Poe Valley lands from assessment.

Project Manager J. G. Camp of the reclamation service was present at the meeting. At this it was agreed that Mr. Camp and the directors of the association will meet with the farmers of the Poe Valley country on Wednesday evening, to decide upon the rates to be charged the water users under the second unit of the project for water.

This spring will mark the first use of water furnished by the reclamation service for irrigation in the second unit, as the ditches and laterals were completed late in the fall. For the coming season the water will be furnished under the new unit upon a rental basis.

SPRING WEATHER THROUGH COUNTY

WARM WINDS AND CLEAR DAYS HAVE CAUSED THE SNOW TO VANISH, AND FRONT DOORS ARE LEFT OPEN

... and what so rare—as a June day in January—is the way it is being said today in Klamath county. If ever he who deals out the weather slipped Klamath county a winning hand, it is right now, for while other cities are snowbound, and a storm is beating it up and down the Jersey coast, the weather here is better than springtime in many other lands.

There was some snow on the ground when 1914 put in appearance, but immediately afterwards came copious rains. Following this came warm winds, and today, there is but little to indicate that winter has not departed. Overcoats have been discarded, and the front doors of all business houses are wide open.

The heavy rain carried the frost out of the ground, and in different parts of the valley farmers are today plowing.

Abstractor Returns.

Ernie Bubb of the Klamath County Abstract company, returned last night from San Francisco and Palo Alto, where he spent the holidays with home folks. Ernie states that the New Year's celebration in San Francisco was not so strenuous this year as has been in former years.

$100,000.00 Worth of Radium to Cure His Cancer

Representative Robert Gunn Bremner of New Jersey, publisher of the Daily Herald at Passaic, in that state, is in a private hospital in Baltimore, showing improvement after $100,000 worth of radium was placed in his shoulder to cure the cancer from which he has been suffering for four years.

The radium was contained in 11 tubes each 2 1/2 inches long and one-third of an inch in diameter. The weight of the metal was between 800 and 900 milligrams, and is probably the most expensive quantity ever used in a single operation. The tubes were planted in eleven incisions in the cancer, and allowed to remain twelve hours, during which the radio-active properties of the radium played through the cancerous growth.

After carefully observing the result of the first application Dr. Howard A. Kelly, who performed the operation, is of the opinion that the operation will be successful. If cure or even improvement result, another step forward will have been taken in the fight on this disease. Although about a dozen cures of cancer with radium have been reported by physicians and surgeons in the last six years, medical men still hesitate to subscribe without reserve to the curative properties of the precious metal.

young people the things their elders knew, of passing down to the coming generation the wisdom of their ancestors. Now, however, he maintains, this is not enough.

The young people are going to live in a world that is different from anything their parents or their teachers can possibly know about.

Therefore, the schools must aim to give the student the power of recognizing and understanding strange changes as they occur, and the ability to adapt themselves to states of society about which we know little except this one thing—that they will not be like the present state of society.
