

Oregon's Woman Mayor Wouldn't Run Again

United Press Service
 WARRENTON, Ore., Jan. 6.—I have reached the conclusion that mayoralty is no position for women. I will not state my reasons, not wishing to become involved in controversies with those who believe differently, but they appear good and sufficient to me.

This was the statement today of Miss Clara Cynthia Munson, who on January 1st retired to private life after enjoying for one year the distinction of being the only woman mayor in the west. George Schmitz, a mere man, succeeded her. Miss Munson's constituency was more than satisfied with her administration, but she could not be induced to make the race again.

"Although my term in office was pleasant in the extreme, and the city council over which I presided treated me with the greatest respect, no persuasion could make me take an office again. I refused even to run for the city council.

"I had no trouble whatever during my term, not even with the liquor interests. I am a believer in prohibition as it is being handled today, and did not believe it incumbent on me to interfere with the local saloons so long as they were conducted in accordance with the laws of the city, county and state. When the government severs its partnership with the liquor interests by refusing to issue licenses, then, and only then, will prohibition prohibit."

While she was mayor, Miss Munson acted as city attorney and chief of police also, having dispensed with the services of those dignitaries as soon as she assumed office. The money thus saved was used for civic improvements. She was not, however, called on to make any arrests. When in need of legal advice, Miss Munson appealed to the mayor of Astoria. Miss Munson spent her girlhood and young womanhood in a lighthouse on the Oregon coast, and her knowledge of political affairs, which is quite extensive, was gained through discussions with her father during the long periods when the beacon was isolated by storms.

"The time I spent in the mayorality chair was not altogether without its compensation," concluded Miss Munson, "for during that time I received nearly a score of marriage proposals from men as a result of the publicity given my being the only western woman mayor."

Boy of Fifteen May Be Champ Swimmer

Gilbert E. Tomlinson of Philadelphia is the 15-year-old lad who sprang a real sensation last summer, when, practically a novice, he broke the one-mile national swimming record and then captured the half mile title of supremacy from a large and representative field. Competent judges have pronounced him as promising a middle distance paddler as ever was the great C. M. Daniels a sprinter.

Experts believe that within a few years he will be one of the notable champions.

"There ain't going to be no widows' pensions," according to the 1914 Marion county budget as drawn up by the court. While the county authorities claimed heretofore that there were no funds on hand with which to follow out the strict letter of the widows' pension act, passed by the last legislature, and by this excuse turned down over sixty-five legal applicants for such pensions, just what excuse it may make for not granting is a source of conjecture among the many destitute mothers who have taken advantage of the new law, so far as they could, by filing the necessary applications with the county clerk.—Salem Capital Journal.

Study Proves Benefit to the Mentally Sick

United Press Service
 COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 6.—Insanity experts of many sections are watching with great interest Ohio's experiment of its Massillon state hospital, where 390 inmates are attending school, studying reading, arithmetic, geography, music and other branches just like normal folk. Stimulation of mental effort in the subnormal brain is the object of the school. Pupils are not allowed to be unoccupied for a moment during study hours, on the theory that idleness produces melancholy.

Mathematic appears the most difficult study for the inmate-pupils. Teaching is done by the system of object lessons. Cows, horses and people are subtracted, added and multiplied in lieu of mere figures. Mental activity produces strength, according to Dr. M. C. Eymann, superintendent who declares that many cures may be almost wholly attributed to the "insane" school work.

When a patient shows an interest and adaptability in the work he is advanced to the more recreational classes, which include pool, billiards, bowling, tennis and baseball, and all these are a part of the regular curriculum. They provide healthful enjoyment, excite mental interest, arouse energy and stimulate activity to the physical and mental benefit of the patient.

DEMOCRATS OWN INDIANAPOLIS

JOSEPH E. BELL AND HIS NEW ADMINISTRATION ARE NOW IN CHARGE OF THE MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

United Press Service
 INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 6.—City Hall was swept practically clean of Republicans today when Joseph E. Bell, at the head of the new Democratic administration, was inducted into office as mayor, succeeding Harry Wallace, Republican, who served as mayor six weeks, having moved up from the position of city comptroller when Mayor Samuel Lew Shank was forced to resign by a threat of impeachment made by business interests dissatisfied with his conduct during the street car strike.

Samuel V. Perrott became superintendent of police today. He is an appointee of Bell's. Captain George V. Coffin, who organized the department on a military basis during the teamsters' strike, will be Perrott's chief aid. Hardly a city department has not had an almost complete change of personnel.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

IF YOUR BACK IS ACHING OR BLADDER BOTHERS, DRINK LOTS OF WATER AND EAT LESS MEAT.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days, and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which every one should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

Monotonous!

Wouldn't it be for a book-agent to call every day or three times a week for an order? You wouldn't tolerate it, you say, for a minute. Then are grocerymen who solicit your orders more welcome than the book-agents? And why should they be, when either are after the same thing—Profit—and a fat one they must get, or they would not come so often. Increased buying of small amounts that add increased service must mean increased monthly bills—there's no other way around it unless you trade at a store that does not solicit.
