SEC'Y WILSON IS GOING TO SETTLE CALUMET TROUBLE

REPORT FROM HIS OFFICE CENSURES OPERATORS

Treatment Accorded the Miners in the Copper Country is Criticized by the Department of Labor, Which Has Been Making an Investigation of Conditions—No opinion is Ventured Regarding Christmas Horror

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—The department of labor today published a report criticizing the operators at Calumet in their treatment of the strikers and strikebreakers. The report outlines five mediation propositions, all of which the operators have rejected.

There was only a passing reference to the panic of Christmas Eve, in which 75 lives were lost, most of whom were little children.

The report contained a formal recital of the facts and the conditions in the strike region, which knowledge was gained by three members of the department who were sent there to make an attempt to settle the strike.

EUGENIST WOULD HAVE PEDIGREES FOR ALL HUMANS

ADVOCATES HUMAN STOCK SHOW HEREAFTER

Blue Ribbons for the Most perfect Development Would Be a Great Honor. He Says—Others Attending the National Conference on Race Betterment Forward Some Startling New Remedies.

BATTLECREEK, Mich., Jan. 10.—Dr. J. H. Kellogg, of Battlecreek today read a paper before the opening session of the National Conference on Race Betterment, advocating the giving of pedigrees to every perfect male and female of the human species, and suggested the giving of human stock shows, claiming that the blue ribbons awarded to the most perfect specimens of the race would be something to be extremely proud of.

In making up the pedigree he says that it show the physical, mental and moral makeup of ancestors. He also said:

"The way to stimulate right living is to establish the eugenic record and pedigree book. Persons who have been pronounced perfect can register their own names, and their children will ultimately have a line of people showing the results of the movement toward race betterment. We want good men and women. Why not proceed in the same manner as in raising fancy sheep, hogs, etc.?"

He proposes that the American Genetic Association start the pedigree work.

Dr. I. McKen Cattell, professor of philosophy at Columbia University also addressed the meeting, and among other things, said:

"In order that the existing population may be maintained, or, indeed, that the race may survive, it will apparently be necessary to make a eugenic selection of healthy mothers and to provide that the cost of bearing and rearing children shall be equally shared by all."

Dr. Cattell's array of statistics in regard to the tremendous declines in the world's birthrate created a sensation. Continuing he said:

"The completed family of contemporary scientific man is about 2; the surviving family about 1.8, and the number of surviving children for each scientific man about 1.6. Twenty-two per cent of the families are childless; only one family in 75 is larger than six. The same conditions obtain for college graduates. If the size of family of college graduates should continue to decrease as it did during the nineteenth century, students graduating in 1925 would have no children. If the birth rates in England, Germany and France should continue to decrease as they have since 1880, there would be no children born a hundred years from now. In France the population is now stationary, while in some departments there are four deaths for every three births. In other nations an increase

Secretary of Commerce Wants Eight Hours to Be Working Day

Secretary Wm. C. Redfield of the department of commerce expresses the belief that it would be "far better for the pockets as well as the peace of mind of employers" if they would work their men only eight hours a day. He was speaking before the American Association for Labor Legislation, which is meeting with the American Political Science Association.

"I believe," the secretary said, "that when our factories are run so that the workmen go home without being fatigued from over long hours, and not till then, will we be able to compete successfully against all comers in the markets of the world. I could not afford to employ in a factory men who are half sick, who come to work after having had bad breakfasts, who are partly poisoned; they would be economically unprofitable. And yet fatigue is part poison."

Secretary Redfield said there should be a thorough study made of conditions under which men work best. This subject of the human element in manufacturing, he added, which could not be treated from the mathematical standpoint.

Austin B. Garretson, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, told the association that in 1913 there had been 261,000 violations of the law prohibiting the working of a trainman more than sixteen hours in one day. The law of averages, he said, would show that this was but a small portion of the number of men employed.

"And yet the law of averages," he declared, "does not give any rest to these men, nor can it restore the lives lost through accidents due to fatigue. During the past year an army of men running into the millions have worked in excess of ten hours on a stretch."

MILITIA AND POLICE HURRIED TO THE SCENE

Troops Are Being Mobilized in All Parts of the Colony, and Prepared for Active Service—Railway Strike in Progress Makes the Dispatch of Help to Trouble Zone a Difficult Proposition.

PRETORIA, South Africa, Jan. 10.—All the available militia and police of Bloemfontein are being put on special trains headed for Jagersfontein, where 9,000 natives have started an uprising and are attacking all Europeans.

A reign of terror exists there, according to reports. The blacks are over-running the people and looting the homes.

On account of the strike on the railway matters are worse. The secretary and president of the union were arrested today, charged with being instrumental in obstructing the sending of relief trains.

Infantry, cavalry and artillery are mobilized at Johannesburg, ready to go forward. Owing to the strike no trains have left there for thirty-six hours.

JAGERSFONTEIN, Jan. 10.—It is reported that twelve white men were killed, seven natives killed and forty wounded in this morning's fighting. The Europeans succeeded in temporarily dispersing the natives, but a fresh attack is feared.

The attack by the natives upon the Europeans comes as a result of the chaotic conditions resulting from a general railroad strike through the British colonies.

Give Miners' Benefit Here

Socialists Have Arranged Program for Tomorrow

The local socialists, having been compelled to defer their observance of the day set apart as "Children's Day" by their national organization, December 28th, will hold a meeting for that purpose tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the socialist headquarters on Fourth street, near Main.

Children of the local socialists will render some of the numbers on the program, and local speakers will give a resume of causes leading to the present troubles in the great copper fields of Michigan which have rendered a federal investigation necessary.

H. J. Weeks, recently of Detroit, has consented to deliver an address. Mr. Weeks' articles in the local papers have attracted much attention. Incidentally, phases will be touched on of what socialists are pleased to refer to as "the present revolution," as evidenced by the present widespread unrest of labor and the practical warfare in Lawrence, Little Falls, Calumet, Trinidad, Los Angeles and elsewhere.

Invitations to participate have been issued to all the local ministers of the gospel, all but two of whom have declined to date, on account of prior engagements.

Donations will be received for the benefit of the children of the strikers at Calumet, which was so recently the scene of one of the most horrifying catastrophes in labor annals, nearly all of the victims being children.

Stamps similar to the Red Cross stamps are on sale by the local organization.

Every one welcome, especially workmen and their families.
