

WEST IS UPHELD BY BAKER CO. JUDGE

Wilson Says Tariff Law Increased Business

SAYS THE COURTS CAN'T SET ASIDE HIS MARTIAL LAW

EVERY CONTENTION OF WEST IS SUSTAINED

Judge Anderson, in ruling on the injunction suit brought against the Executive by Residents of Copperfield, holds that the courts have no jurisdiction over West as the Executive Head of the State.

BAKER, Jan. 19.—In his opinion today, Circuit Judge Anderson upheld the contention of Governor West and his attorneys that the courts could not interfere with his declaration of martial law in Copperfield.

Every point raised by Attorney Collier, representing the governor, was sustained by the judge. The case was an injunction suit brought by the Copperfield saloon men against the seizure of the liquor and fixtures of the bars by Colonel Lawson of the National Guard.

Anderson's decision stated that the local courts had no jurisdiction whatever over West as the executive head of the state.

88 YEARS OLD, IS STILL BUILDING

FRIEND WHO IS VISITING BOB ALEXANDER, BUILT CHICAGO'S FIRST SKYSCRAPER—IN GREAT TRAVELER

It is not every man who continues in active business after he reaches that city, and erected the first sky-his 70th year, and of those who do, there are very few who will continue in such a strenuous line as construction work. Such a man, however, is William Young of Fowlerville, Mich., who is here visiting his old friend, Bob Alexander.

Although 88 years of age, Mr. Young is still active in construction work, and will go any place on the work without any fear of falling or making a mistake, superintending the work in a manner that is beyond any younger man. He quit work in Chicago eighteen years ago to "retire," but ever since he has been hard at it. His name, "Young," seems appropriate.

A native of Scotland, Mr. Young came to Canada when but a boy. In 1848 he went to Chicago, then Fort Dearborn, a town with no railroad. He was active in the early history of scrapers there, a building eighteen stories high. That was before steel was used in structural work.

A couple of years ago Mr. Young went to his former home in Canada to attend an "old boys" reunion. Silver medals were offered for the oldest man present and the man who had traveled the longest distance. Young took them both.

Every winter Mr. Young takes a long trip. He has been to China once, to Scotland several times, and has made many runs to the Coast. Just before coming here he visited Los Angeles, and before going home will visit Medford, Portland, Seattle, Butte, Toronto and other places.

Mr. Young and Bob Alexander were old friends, and for three years Mr. Young has tried to locate the old railroad. Once he went to Butte Falls, instead of Klamath Falls. Another time he was snowed in at Weed, but this time he found his friend, and the two are having a highly delightful time, seeing the town and talking over old times together.

Home Tonight. Mr. and Mrs. George J. Walton and family are expected home this evening after a three day absence. Mr. Walton attended to business matters in Medford, while Mrs. Walton visited relatives near Montague.

Business Trip. Monroe Lytle, a prominent rancher of the Bonanza country, is registered at the Marshall house, while attending to business affairs in the county seat.

Mexican Women Going to the Front

When a rebel army in Mexico moves it causes something like a general house moving, for the families of many soldiers insist on accompanying them. Not only do the women go, but they take their children with them. This illustration shows the women loaded on a flat car, with all their household goods and little ones, following their husbands into the field.

If the rebels lose it means these families will become wanderers or be wiped out. But if the families remain at home they know they will be in danger from the first company of the soldiers of the enemy which may reach their town. The determination to follow their husbands is due, likely, to the knowledge that the greatest safety is with the rebel army.

THREE FAILED TO PASS EXAM

THESE THREE WERE NOT TEACHERS—OTHERS TOOK TESTS FOR EXEMPTIONS IN LIFE CERTIFICATES

Out of the fifteen persons who took the recent state teachers' examinations here, but three failed. These were eighth grade pupils, who are not teaching school.

Six of the teachers tried for one-year certificates, and there were granted them. The other teachers took up at this time some of the twenty-four subjects required for life certificates, and they all passed in these. They will be granted exemptions in these, and when they take the remainder of the studies, they will be granted life certificates.

Chastain a Candidate.

The first Klamath county man to become an avowed candidate for office is George Chastain, the popular clerk of the circuit court, who Saturday filed a petition for re-election. Chastain is well experienced in this work, as he served two terms as county clerk. Though a democrat, he was the choice of both parties in his second campaign, being endorsed by the republicans also. He was named by Judge Benson for the present office, which was created by the last session of the legislature.

Musical Movie Show.

It is a debatable question whether the majority of the patrons of the Star theater go to see the pictures or to listen to the excellent music of the Star orchestra. This talented aggregation of musicians render nightly a musical program that is equal to the programs of concerts given by orchestras in the large cities. They keep right up with all the new and difficult orchestra music produced by the leading composers, giving the patrons of the theater a new musical treat with every change of pictures.

Back From Session.

Project Engineer Hincks, in charge of the Modoc Point irrigation project, returned last evening from an extended visit in Yakima and other cities in Washington. While away he attended the Washington irrigation congress. At this the delegates went on record as favoring a water code similar to that used in Oregon.

Paper made from seaweed has been invented by an English chemist. It is said to be fire proof, water proof and odorless.

DIVORCE REFORM LOST IN ITALY

CATHOLIC LEGISLATORS KEEP OUT MEASURE PERMITTING DIVORCES BEING GRANTED IN THAT COUNTRY

United Press Service

ROME, Jan. 19.—Italy's hopes of being able to secure from the present parliament a divorce law are again confidently believed to have gone a-glimmering.

Of the 598 deputies which compose the chamber, Count Gentiloni, who engineered the Catholic vote during the recent elections, has just made it known that 223 of these, in return for Catholic reform, pledged themselves to the Catholic program of legislation.

The latter is irrevocably against permitting divorce, and Italians, as in the past, will have to go to Switzerland and Austria, taking out naturalization papers in those countries, return to Italy, renounce their foreign citizenship and retake that of Italy.

DATES SET FOR THE ROUND-UP

PENDLETON'S FRONTIER SHOW WILL TAKE PLACE SEPTEMBER 24-26—EASTERN ROADS TO HAVE SPECIALS

(Herald Special Service) PENDLETON, Jan. 19.—Dates for the 1914 Round-Up were definitely selected as September 24, 25 and 26 by the board of directors here.

This early action was taken at the urgent request of the Eastern railroads, who have agreed to put the Round-Up on as an additional drawing card for their regular fall home-seekers' excursions, in order that they might have plenty of time to get their literature printed and distributed over the country and get it into the hands of the prospective home-seekers.

As the Round-Up, especially during the past two years, has drawn heavily from the East and Middle West, the railroads have taken advantage of this, and are combining it with their regular colonist rates.

After trying out nearly every week in September during the past four years, the management has become firmly convinced that the last week in the month is the best time for staging the Round-Up, and have selected it permanently.

OUTLINES A NEW COURSE FOR THE TRUST QUESTION

WOULD GIVE THEM CHANCE TO GET IN LINE

In Discussion With Visitors Today, Wilson Says He Would Make It Easier for Big Combines to Conform to the Laws, Rather Than to Start Lots of Dissolution Proceedings in the Federal Courts.

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 19.—President Wilson this afternoon declared there is no foundation for the stories that business has suffered through the new tariff law. On the contrary, he told his visitors that small business throughout the country has increased in volume.

The president admitted that certain industries that are dependent upon railroads for equipment orders, etc., suffered a little, but he said he believed that an improvement would be shown soon.

Wilson denied emphatically that he had told anyone that he favored allowing the railroads to increase their rates.

As to the trusts, he explained that his plans contemplate facilitating processes, by which the big combinations can conform with the law, rather than indulge in legal processes to force dissolution.

Attorney General McReynolds, the president pointed out, has not, and will not, abate the laws, but has tried to give the corporations sufficient time to change their business methods, so as not to violate the laws.

In From Ranch.

Soon to Get Hatchery

Indian Commission Cleans Up Red Tape Matters

Regarding the acquiring of the Spring Creek site for a central trout hatchery, State Game Warden Wm. L. Finley has received the following letter from Congressman Willis C. Hawley:

"Relative to the proposal to acquire land on Spring Creek, Klamath county, Oregon, for the purpose of establishing a fish hatchery to be operated by the state of Oregon, I beg to give below a copy of a letter I have just received relative to the matter from the office of Indian affairs:

"Referring to the correspondence had with you concerning the establishment of a fish hatchery in the waters of Spring Creek, on the Klamath Indian reservation, Oregon, I now have pleasure in advising you that the secretary of the interior has determined the heirs of Joe Nimrod and Hattie Blair, two of the allottees whose lands are desired, in part for hatchery purposes; that petitions for the sale of the parts selected have been approved, together with a petition from the guardian of Leona E. Weeks, a minor allottee, a part of whose land is likewise desired by the commission. The superintendent has been directed to complete negotiations with the board, and after a re-appraisal of the timber on each separate tract, to forward all papers to this office. Very truly yours, E. B. MERRITT, Assistant Commissioner."

"I hope the state of Oregon may soon acquire the lands needed for the hatchery, and I will be glad to be of further assistance at any time."

VETS OF 98-00 MAY ORGANIZE

LOCAL MEN WHO WERE IN THE ISLANDS, IN CHINA, AND IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE TALK OF A SOCIETY

A movement is on foot to organize a society of ex-heroes, the membership of which is to be composed of men who served Uncle Sam in the Spanish-American war, or visited China during the Boxer uprising.

In Klamath Falls are several who carry scars to show for their enlistment, and others who went through the campaign without a wound. Still others who held clerical posi-
