Will Tango Survive Knocks?

Church, Royalty Frown on New Dance

Gotham Social Leacers Uphold the Tango, Saying if Danced Properly, Is Modest as Waltz

By CARLTON TEN KYCK
(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Molehills often have been made into mountains, and in this semi-comic age tempests in teapots are of hourly occurrence, but certainly never before was there a grater hub-bub over a more significant matter than all this hue and cry after the tango.

The poor old tango is being talked and written to death.

And why? Nobody seems to know. Nobody ever yet was kidnaped, dragged by the hair onto a ball room floor and made to dance the tango. Those who do not like it are at liberty to let it alone.

The dance, though, may be said to have received several death blows within the last few days. The Catholic church turned its thumbs down on the tango, and it had an immediate effect in New York. About the same time several British peeresses who are among the leading London hostesses, publicly announced a boycott of the dance. Several weeks ago the tango was given a nasty cut in the north of Europe, when the Kaiser ordered it suppressed wherever the German army officers danced, and this was followed by an attack in the south of Europe that, while not so vigorous, was equally effective.

King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, without making a speech about it, barred the tango from his state ball, and all the diplomats and the social leaders of Rome followed the king's example. Perhaps the first important personage to set her heel on the neck of the gyrating monster of the ballroom and the cabaret was Queen Mary of England, who called it a South American "negroid" dance, and forbade the young Princess Mary to learn it.

Whether the tango is good or bad, it received a considerable setback when Cardinal Farley and high Protestant clergymen let it be known that they opposed it, and that everything possible be done to discourage it.

Pope Pius has not banned the tango, but he has made it plain that he disapproves of it, and prelates the world over are now fighting the tango. The New York Cardinal did not ban the dance, but his known disapproval is as effective as a ban.

When the secretary of his eminence announced the cardinal's attitude, thousands of Catholics in the metropolis frowned on the tango.

"The cardinal feels that the tango is degrading, and he has resolved to do all he can to discourage it," the secretary said. A monsignor high in Catholic affairs in New York went further in his condemnation of the tango. He said:

"Any person of intelligence can see, by watching any ball or cabaret in the metropolis in the greater city that the present mode of dancing is open to the charge of impropriety, if not actual indecency."

Because of the clerical opposition to the tango, the Junior Auxiliary

Institute, an organization of fashionable women, abandoned a dance and entertainment they had arranged at Delmonico's and recalled 600 invitations that already were out.

For the same reason, the Knights of Columbus announced there would be no tango at their gigantic ball in Madison Square Garden next month. Ten thousand people will dance at this ball, and the Knights of Columbus have appointed a censorship committee of 150 to see there is no tangoing.

But while these crusades against the tango are under way and undoubtedly are doing great execution, the dance continues popular in many quarters, and is even gaining ground. Out in Los Angeles one of the vaudeville theaters has arranged intermissions between the acts, during which time the patrons are at liberty to tango up and down the aisles in the foyer.

It is safe to say that not a performance is given in any one of New York's hundred-odd vaudeville theaters that there is not at least one dancing number of the program that includes an exhibition of the tango. It is an even safer assertion to say that there is not one restaurant in the thousands in the greater city where a cabaret is maintained, that the tango is not danced. Experts portray the tango on the platforms and the guests tango in the spaces between the tables.

Broad minded people say that the goodness and badness of the tango is a matter of opinion and of the personal equation. All that dips is not the tango, say the experts. There is tango and tango.

The dance, they say, may be done gracefully and beautifully, so that the most puritan cannot object, while there are varieties of dips, leaps and hugs, unustly ejalled the tango, that are undeniably shocking.

Some persons with a smattering of Latin think that tango comes from the Latin verb meaning "to touch," and evidently that is why they like it. But the tango of polite ball rooms is not of Latin extraction. Latin-America, perhaps, but in no wise dead.

Such well known women as Miss Anne Morgan and Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, social leaders, have come to the rescue of the maligned adnce. They say that the tango, as done in their set, is as modest as a waltz, and those who see evil in it have themselves to blame.

Taking it by and large, being neither for or against the much discussed South American dance, it may be said without qualification that the tango is in great danger of decadence when both church and state, the prelates and the royalties, who are social arbiters, turn against it.

CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN AT ONCE, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

In One Minute Your Stuffy Nose and Head Clears, Sneezing and Nose Running Cease, Dull Headache Goes.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the Nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning, the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will disappear.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless. Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.
