A NICKEL WILL PAY FOR YOUR BED

In Addition, a Shave, Bath and Shine Thrown In

Should Guests Feel Inclined to Feed the Inner Man, Another Nickel Will Buy a Meal

United Press Service
CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—The "price of a beer" will work wonders at the Rufus Dawes Memorial hotel, recently opened to the public and a clientele made up largely of members of the great army of the unemployed. For a nickel you can get a bed for the night, a bath, a shave, a shine and have your clothing fumigated. A night shirt is provided free of charge for every lodger.

In the hotel restaurant another nickel will move the following assortment of food your way—a beef stew with potatoes and vegetables, a cup of coffee with milk and two fat rolls. If you want a change in menu you can ask the gentlemanly waiter to bring you a bowl of soup instead of the stew. For ten cents you can get a "private room," but according to W. D. Taylor, manager, few of the regular guests squander a dime on such a luxury unless the dormitory rooms are occupied.

The new hotel was built by Charles G. Davis, Chicago banker, as a memorial to his son, who lost his life on Lake Geneva, Wis. The original investment was $100,000. Receipts thus far have run far below operating expenses, but Dawes said today he "guessed he could stand the drain."

There are ninety-five "private rooms" in the new hotel, and two dormitories, accommodating 594 men, giving the place a total capacity of 599 guests. Walls and floors are of concrete, and are washed every day by powerful streams of water to prevent accumulation of dirt and vermin. The guest at the Dawes hotel plasters his name on the register with all the dignity of a guest at the Hotel La Salle. If he deposits a dime for a "private room," he is given a key, if his is to be a nickle night, he is assigned to one of the dormitories where double-decker beds line the rooms. An attendant escorts the new arrival to the bath room and gives him a check when he surrenders his clothes. The clothes are taken to the fumigating room, while the lodger rids himself of surplus dirt under a shower. Another attendant brings him a "nightie" and he is put to bed between sheets—real sheets and fresh from the laundry—while his head reposes on a pillow covered by a snow-white slip.

In the morning the clothing, thoroughly fumigated and ventilated, is returned to the lodger. An attendant hands him a safety razor, a shaving brush and a cake of soap. Shaving is not compulsory; neither is the guest forced to use the little cake of shoe blacking handed him, but all around are cards reminding him that the "spruced-up" man stands the best chance of landing the job.

"We have been 'full to the roof' since the place opened," said Manager Taylor, who studied sociology before he took the job. "Mr. Dawes is satisfied, and I am satisfied, that the experiment is proving a success. All some of these fellows need is a chance to clean up and look like men when they search for jobs."

"Hogan's flop house," the municipal lodging house and other hotels that catered to the "down-and-outs," report a big slump in business since the opening of the Dawes hotel.

Gamblers Take Up Bridge

In the February American Magazine, Hugh S. Fullerton begins a new series of articles entitled "American Gambling and Gamblers," on the subject of professional gamblers and bridge what he says in part:

"Bridge has superseded poker to a great extent, and can be played practically without fear of interference. By merely changing the form of gambling the 'clubs' have secured a new line of 'suckers' besides a more certain medium. Bridge is much easier for sharpers than the deadliest of brace poker games, especially because of the ease with which the sucker can be drawn beyond his depth. Recently I saw a young man sit into a game in which he possibly could have afforded to lose fifty dollars, and, in two hours he was plucked for fourteen hundred dollars.

"The poker rooms of Chicago, San Francisco, Denver, New Orleans, St. Louis and several other places visited are devoted largely to bridge."

There has been unusual progress in many parts of the country during the year in many parts of the country during the year in petroleum refining, especially in the dehydration of heavy crude oils, in obtaining gasoline from natural gas and synthetically from heavy oils, and in obtaining many special products from crude oils.

A smoking tree is one of the natural wonders of Ono, Japan. Strange to say, it smokes only in the evening, just after sunset, and the smoke issues from the top of the trunk.
