Wilson Will Lift the Embargo Against Arms

DOWNFALL OF HUERTA REGIME IS MATTER OF ONLY FEW DAYS; U. S. SHIPS ARE HELD IN READINESS

ANTI-AMERICAN DEMONSTRATION IN MEXICO CITY IS FEARED

Many Americans Are Leaving the Capital, on Advice From O'Shaughnessy, Prior to the Removal of the Embargo—Mexico City Is Hemmed In, and New Man May Be in the Capital in a Few Days.

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 3.—Despite the refusal of the White House and the Department of State to discuss it, it is learned today upon very high authority that President Wilson will tomorrow issue an executive order raising the embargo against shipping arms and munitions of war from the United States to Mexico.

Members of the senate committee on foreign relations profess ignorance of such a thing being arranged, but said they such a plan had been decided upon.

United Press Service MEXICO CITY, Feb. 3.—Secretary of State Bryan today instructed Embassy Secretary O'Shaughnessy to warn all Americans and foreigners in the capital of Wilson's determination to lift the embargo on arms.

Many Americans at once commenced to leave, and it is expected that by tonight every train toward Vera Cruz will be crowded with foreigners, escaping for fear of a riotous anti-foreign demonstration.

"What difference will it make if the embargo is raised?" said Huerta today. "The rebels have less money than I have with which to purchase arms and ammunition."

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 3.—That orders have been issued to Admiral Fletcher to have his warships ready for any eventuality is apparent from the bustle in the navy department this afternoon.

It is believed that the announcement of Wilson's removal of the arms embargo will be followed by serious anti-American demonstrations in the City of Mexico.

Admiral Fletcher has plenty of marines, and will be able to safeguard the railway from Mexico City to Vera Cruz, and thus protect the retreat of the American colony.

United Press Service MEXICO CITY, Feb. 3.—Menaced on the east and north by approaching rebels, Mexico City is considered to be in a precarious situation today. Diplomats think that the finish of Huerta is in sight.

Federal troops, under General Joaquin Mass, father of the younger commander, are rushing north to the defense of Torreon.

The Fifth Regiment and other crack troops that have been on duty around the capital, leave today to combat the rebels at Oaxaca.

It is reported that upon his return Felix Diaz will take command of the rebels at Oaxaca.

A rumor is broadcast to the effect that a battle is soon to be fought at San Fernando. If the rebels are defeated there, as well as at Torreon, Mexico City will be at the mercy of the invaders.

Brotherhood Meeting.

A meeting of the Presbyterian Brotherhood will be held Thursday night at the Presbyterian church, the first since the organization was perfected. The brotherhood plans to hold monthly meetings, at which time matters of importance to the welfare of the community will be discussed.

Back on the Job.

John A. McCall, assistant postmaster, resumed his duties this morning, after a vacation of two weeks spent in the Rogue River Valley.

HISTORY WRITTEN BY MODOC INDIAN IS ON THE PRESS

AUTHOR IS SON OF THE FAMOUS "WINEMA"

Jeff Riddle, residing at Yainax, gives in this book the history of the Modoc War from an Indian's standpoint, with biographies, etc. Has been at work on it for some time, getting data.

Klamath county's latest claim to literary fame is through an Indian, Jeff Riddle, who resides at Yainax, on the Klamath reservation. Riddle, who is a Modoc, has written a history of the Modoc War, from the Indian standpoint. The book is now in press.

Riddle, who is a son of the famous "Winema," heroine of the war, has spent several years gathering data from the Indians, and he has often consulted with Captain O. C. Applegate, who participated in the war, in order to make his every point authentic.

The book is entitled "The Indian History of the Modoc War," and the following announcement is being sent out by D. L. Moses of San Francisco, agent for the author:

It gives me pleasure to state that orders are being taken for "The Indian History of the Modoc War," written by Jeff C. Riddle, the son of Winema, the heroine of the war, who is still living. This will be the only Indian history ever written giving the Indian side of the struggle and its real causes.

It will also contain the life of the celebrated Modoc warrior, Captain Jack, "Ke-in-to-posee," (the Modoc Chief of Dark Color).

It contains the exact words that passed between Captain Jack and General E. R. S. Canby at the meeting of the peace commission, or before he was killed by the Indian chief; also the author's personal opinion of the Rev. E. Thomas, including a short biography of him by his daughter.

In the appendix there will be found a short history of Leroy S. Dyar, one of the members of the peace commission and United States Indian agent at the outbreak of the war; also a sketch of the celebrated pioneer and former United States Indian Agent, Captain O. C. Applegate of Klamath Falls, Oregon. Also biographies of the leading officers and civilians, such as General E. R. S. Canby, Hardie, Jeff Davis, Gillem and Frank Wheaton, and also of Judge J. A. Fairchild, Judge Steel and Judge Roseborough; and last, but not least, a full account of the author's father and the author himself and of his celebrated mother, Winema Toby Riddle, "The Modoc Woman of the Brave Heart," with the only two authentic photographs of her in the United States, showing her as she is at the present time.

The book will be cloth bound, and will consist of about 250 pages of reading matter and about fifty pages of half-tone illustrations, including seven photographs of the celebrated Warm Springs Scouts.

"Harlem Hermit," Lives in Tent in New York State in Cold Weather

M. M. Melanar, the "Harlem Hermit," claims title to New York City property worth $200,000,000, and he lives in a tent in the north part of Manhattan Island to hold his title to it, he says. In fact, his claim is to about one-fourth of the island, consisting largely of the northern portion of it, which is now covered with

SIX COUNCILMEN NOT AT MEETING

AS A RESULT, NO QUORUM WAS PRESENT, AND THE PROHIBITION MEASURE WAS NOT INTRODUCED

For the first time since the members of the Common Council of Klamath Falls were placed on a salary for attendance at meetings, there failed to be a meeting last night, owing to the lack of a quorum. Councilman Leslie Rogers, M. R. Doty, W. C. Townsend and O. D. Matthews were present, but the absentees, enough to constitute a quorum themselves, were reported to be out of the city when, after a wait of half an hour, Police Chief Smith used the telephone to summon them.

As a result, the initiative petition asking that the prohibition question be placed on the ballot at the coming city election, was not presented last night. Arthur R. Wilson and E. M. Chilcote were present with the petition.

In addition to this, city employees will not receive their pay until next Monday. At the first meeting of each month, all the claims against the city are presented, and are passed upon by the council.

WARRANTS ISSUED IN JANUARY WILL SOON BE INVOLVED

R. N. DAY WILL BE THE PLAINTIFF IN THIS

Rumor That Salary Slashing Bill Would terminate the Attacks Upon the Voluntary Indebtedness of the County Is Given a Body Blow by Preparations for the Timberman Who is Plaintiff in Suits.

That the slashing of the salaries of several deputies, and the discharging of some by the county court would terminate the suits brought to repudiate the warrants issued by the county court for voluntary indebtedness is offset by reports from reliable sources that these warrant suits are to continue.

It is known that employes of R. N. Day have been engaged for several days in preparing an abstract of all warrants issued by the county court during the month of January.

Within a few days, it is expected, R. N. Day, plaintiff in the majority of the repudiation suits, will file another action in the circuit court, seeking an injunction to prevent the payment of any of the warrants issued last month for what appeared to be voluntary indebtedness.

Getting Machinery.

Tom Watters of the Crane and Watters stock farm, is in the city today buying machinery for their ranch on Lost River. Tom reports the snow all gone in his neighborhood, and that the farmers will soon be busy plowing if the weather continues as it is now.

Go to Scrap Hugs.

C. E. Ogle and G. G. Anderson left this morning for Parker Station, where they will be connected with the camp being maintained there in the vigorous fight being waged against the Western Pine beetle.

SPLIT TROUSERS?

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 3.—The Picadilly coat, the "see-more" Norfolk jacket and the tight fitting trousers were discussed here today by the International Custom Cutters' Association at the opening session of a four day convention. The association is supreme in deciding styles for men. If they ordered split trousers, split trousers would be the rage.

SHOE TRUST IS IN COURT AGAIN

NEW AMENDMENT TO THE BILL AGAINST MACHINERY MAKERS ATTACKS THE SHOE BUTTONING ONLY

United Press Service BOSTON, Feb. 3.—Argument by federal attorneys on their petition to amend the original bill against the United Shoe Machinery company was heard today when the government anti-trust suit against the firm was resumed in the United States district court.

There have been several postponements of the case. Government attorneys now wish to amend the monopoly in restraint of trade charge so that it applies only to machinery used in buttoning shoes and to the losses.

Federal attorneys also cross examined witnesses who testified for the defense at the last court session on the case, and offered evidence in rebuttal to their testimony.

Give Ball Club Home

Poolroom Men to Fit Up Lockers, Shower, for Teams

The rooms in the rear of the Palm Cigar Store, formerly used by the band boys, have been graciously donated by McDonough & Dale as headquarters for the baseball club.

When active work of the team begins, the rooms will be equipped with shower baths and lounging rooms, with lockers for suits and other paraphernalia of the club. The rooms will at all times be for the use of the team and officers of the association, and be a general headquarters for fans.

The Palm Cigar Store will again receive daily reports from all Pacific Coast League games, and post same on the big bulletin board.

Wednesday night there will be another meeting of the committee in charge of the work of getting the baseball association under way, at which time Joseph S. Kent, the attorney drafting plans for the organization, will submit the plans for adoption.

A manager for the baseball team will also be named, and it is urgent that all players and those interested in the success of the baseball movement be present Wednesday night.

Sends a Dollar to Pay for Klamath Information

Klamath Falls people have received postal cards from men saying they considered starting a woolen mill here to give employment to 500 people. There have been factories galore offered—if Klamath Falls people would only put up all the money to build the plant, and donate a site, but it is seldom that an inquiry, accompanied by real money, is sent.

The exception which proves the rule was noted this morning, when Postmaster W. A. Delzell received a letter from a man in the Middle West, asking about Klamath Falls, and enclosing a perfectly good one dollar bill to pay for the trouble of answering his inquiries. The letter and the money have been turned over to the Klamath Chamber of Commerce by Delzell.

In the letter the writer says he is coming to Oregon to reside, and from what he has read of Klamath Falls, it is the place for him. He says he likes to fish and hunt, and he learns that there is no better sport than around this section.

According to the writer, he wishes to go into some business here, and he may also invest in farm lands. In order to learn something about the section, he has picked as his future home, he sends the money to pay for any trouble it might cause the party answering him.
