Old Dance Revived

Paris has officially approved a dance called the "tatao," which has been popular in China since 2459 B. C. The dance is a slow graceful measure, full of quaint steps and languorous dipping movements. M. Lefort of the Paris Academy of Dancing Masters, says it is easy to learn.

Can Perpetuate Range

Government Has Plan to Restore Grazing Areas

best return from a permanent hay meadow, it is stated, would think of harvesting the crop as soon as it is tall enough to cut, regardless of whether or not it is mature. Nor would he graze a permanent pasture closely from the time the growth begins until it ceases, for he knows that this will result finally in killing it out. And since climate and soil conditions over much of the Western grazing lands are less favorable to plant growth than those on the average farm, even greater care must be exercised in utilizing the range crop than is necessary with that on the farm.

The remedy suggested for range deterioration is a system of deferred grazing. Under such a plan an overgrazed portion of the range, sufficiently large to supply the forage from the time of seed maturity until the end of the grazing season, is protected from stock until the seed crop has matured. Upon maturity of the seed crop the forage is grazed during the first season, but not to the extent of injuring seed plants. The same area is protected in the same way during the second and, if necessary, subsequent seasons, or until the new plants have been securely established. When the area has been thoroughly reseeded it can be again grazed early in the season, and a second area, large enough to accommodate the stock from the time of seed ripening to the end of the season, is protected until the forage is mature.

By this method of alternating late grazing from one area to another, weakened vegetation can recover its vitality without the need of having the land closed to grazing the entire year.

New Postmaster

O. M. Schwatka, known among his friends as "Tobe," has been nominated for postmaster of Yreka by President Wilson. All that remains now is for the senate to confirm the nomination. It is expected very shortly that word will be received of his appointment. R. J. Nixon's commission expired on the 24th inst.—Yreka Journal.

Lou Tellegen, Actor, Who Wears Anklet

An actor who calls himself Lou Tellegen has jumped into New York society over night—a feat which some others have tried for years without success. And this came about largely because he wore an anklet in public. That is, his likable qualities would not have been noticed had his anklet not been seen first.

Tellegen says he studied military science at St. Cyr and sculpture under Rodin, after which he went to Brazil to dig for gold. Then he became an actor on Broadway and appeared in "Maria Rosa." His work attracted attention at once, and he won high praise. But his acting would not have won him a place in New York society. One of the dames of that peculiar institution saw him dancing the tango, wearing the anklet. Of course he was graceful and a fine looking fellow. She raved over him, and he was introduced. From that he was invited to social affairs, and now he is busy in society when he is not on the stage.

Drinkers Are Discharged

One hundred and twenty-six men were discharged by the management of the Pittsburg & Brownville divisions of the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad for drinking. The company some time ago posted notices warning all employees that they could either stop drinking or leave the company's service.

Denver Women Strong for Machine Politics

United Press Service

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 6.—"I am a machine politician. By 'machine,' I mean not a corrupt body, but an organization pure in principle and certain in purpose."

So spoke today Mrs. Gertrude M. Lee, the first woman in the United States to become chairman of a state central committee of one of the principal political parties. Mrs. Lee, who was vice chairman of the Colorado democratic central committee, took over the chief executive office of her party in this state when Chairman George M. Bradley resigned.

Mrs. Lee is preparing a strenuous program for herself during her term of office.

"A machine—in other words, a forceful and harmonious organization—is the only factor which can assure the success of a party," she said today. "I believe in the party above the man. The candidate should be pledged to certain principles, and after that the individual equation should be eliminated."

"My aim will be to organize our party and to see that democrats are returned to office in the next election. We cannot afford to let a republican succeed Senator Thomas when his term of office expires."

"I intend to visit every county in the state and learn the true political conditions. I do not propose to take anybody's word for it by mail or long distance that 'everything is going fine.' We cannot afford to do that. We must be sure. I shall try to reorganize local committees everywhere in the state, and have the movement started right."

"One of my greatest aims will be to bring the majority of the women of Colorado under the democratic standard. I am a democrat for principle's sake—not for political reasons. The progressive party claim to be the true representative of women's rights, but I hope to make the democratic party the leading exponent of the equality of women and men in politics."

Mrs. Lee has been prominent in Colorado politics for many years. During the last legislature, she served as a member of the lower house. Her friends say she has a genius for organization and they predict the greatest success the democracy has ever won in this state under her leadership.
