Indians Object to Distorted War Film

United Press Service
PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. D., Feb. 7.—The Sioux Indians are today making plans to send a delegation to Washington with a signed protest against allowing the moving pictures of the re-enacted battle of Wounded Knee to be filed in the government archives as an authentic production. The Indians are enraged at the film people, whom they claim distorted the action of the battle to delude the prowess of the Redskins.

Several instances are pointed out wherein the picture is distorted. They claim that General Nelson A. Miles, who took a prominent part in the film, was in reality fifty miles from the scene of the battle, and so far as is known was never on the field until he posed for the movies. They also claim that Buffalo Bill, who played the part of the hero in the film, was at the agency, eighteen miles away, when the real fight occurred.

In Texas the state industrial accident board has held that street railway companies do not come within the purview of the Texas workmen's compensation act; that they are exempt from the clauses which provide that common carriers are not subject to the new law, thus making all steam and electric roads exempt.

Lucifer matches, that is, matches tipped with an explosive substance that bursts into flame on being struck, were first used about 1834. Many improvements have been made in matches since then, the most important of which was the invention of the safety match, striking only on the box.

The Enduring Gift

Rings have always been more than gifts.

They carry with them more than mere gift sentiment. They have a sweet significance and regard of the giver, as well as the enduring quality of the gift in itself. So when you give let your gift bring its message of love and fulfill also that existing desire for something beautiful.

Give a ring, a handsome ring, a ring you can afford.

Our rings are of solid gold. They are so well made that we guarantee to replace and reset free, any stone that may ever work loose, diamonds excepted.

OUR WEEKLY SERMON

"The Future Man"

By E. C. RICHARDS, Pastor Grace Methodist Episcopal Church

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation, but is passed from death unto life.—John 5:24.

The Future Man Will Be Clean

Cleanliness is health and health is success—mostly. As soon as we really learn a new truth it becomes a habit. The future man will have a clean body from habit, yet because it means greater efficiency. Imagine Jesus as an unclean man, physically. The future man will be clean in mind. No power plant would keep an engineer who would not keep his engine clean. It would be a waste of energy. It would be poor business. No man with a polluted mind can do the best work, even as no engine with corroded grease, dirt, and smut can do its work efficiently. Besides, it hurts a lover of an engine to see it acting and looking so. In this economic age we are fast coming to believe that the mind to be equal with the times, must be clean. It works better. A smutty mind is as bad as a smutty engine. We are beginning to see that there are too many men about fifty years of age that can't "come back." Imagine Jesus with a foul mind. Jesus is the most efficient man to date.

The future man will be of the earth and of the heaven. He will be a man of the soil. He will stain his hands with clean dirt. The smut of earth will be sweet to him. He will be stronger for it. He will know the woods. If he lives in a corn field or a city, he will know the woods through pictures. He will know the sea. If he lives inland, its waves will bang on his walls. There they will tell him the story of peace or about his his own duty. He will be a man of the heavenly thought. The Apocalypse is worth something, even if it did bring heaven down to earth. The soul burdened with earth burdens and earth folks, likes to get away sometimes into solitude of thought. It likes to climb a mountain or rest on a cloud. Jesus did it, and he said, "He that heareth my word shall not come into condemnation."

The Future Man Will Be a Brother
Jesus brought many messages, but his greatest was the brotherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. The world always has tried crudely to make folks do right to other folks. It never demanded it so much as it does today. Legislation in kindness is almost a fact. Be good to your neighbor, is getting to be almost a note in the law. It surely is a note of the times. We ought to shovel the snow off our walk for our brother's sake. We ought to have a decent yard and a painted house, for the sake as well as our own. The law will not let us have a foul back yard any more, for our neighbors' sake. Some day we will have to clean up our souls, too, for their sake. And that leads me to the last thought, the future man will be a man of a cleansed soul.

When his soul breathes its life on the air it will be a redeemed, a ransomed life. Jesus was a community man. Jesus was the embodiment of a clean soul. All else is condemnation, death. But he is freedom, life. "He that heareth my word and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life." That is, he is the most efficient man possible.
