Castillo, Mexican Outlaw, Charged the With Firing Cumbre Tunnel

The capture of Maximo Castillo, the Mexican bandit, who is charged with setting fire to the Cumbre tunnel and causing the death of fifty-one people, including ten Americans, brings up a complicated problem for our government. Castillo, having been taken on our side of the line, cannot be surrendered to any Mexican authority without such an act involving recognition, and under our laws he cannot be prosecuted in this country. While our state department wrestles with the problem, Castillo will be held at Fort Bliss.

"Disputed Boundary" Is John D.'s Favorite

United Press Service

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 26.—Those of the old residents of East Cleveland who used to run barefooted with John D. Rockefeller as a boy are authority for the statement that the oil king, with all his $900,000,000 prizes most highly among his personal possessions an $87,000 painting, "The Disputed Boundary."

This sentiment, it is said, was in a degree responsible for Rockefeller's action in transferring first of all the painting from his Forest Hill estate to Pocomto Hills, at Tarrytown N. Y., some time ago, when the Cuyahoga county tax commissioners were demanding that he pay about $12,000, 000 on his personal property.

"The Disputed Boundary," it is said, is typical of the disputed conflicts in John D.'s life, for the oil king has had more law suits and scrapping over line fences and land claims than any man in the country.

The masterpiece was painted by Erskine Nichol, an English artist. It depicts a sturdy squire with puckered brows and quill held between his pursed lips, listening to the heated arguments of two wrathful land owners. The squire holds a rude map in his hand. Legal papers and books are scattered on the old style table.
The compliments flying between the squabbling landowners can almost be heard, so realistic is the masterpiece.
"It's just like John," all the old friends comment.

makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, use a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young!
Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly.
You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.
