Goodbye, Bones.

Following the approval of the old gambling ordinance by the council, Chief of Police Hittson last night ordered cigar dealers of the city to abolish all dice and raffle games, and this morning not a dice rolled and not a raffle raffled except in isolated cases. Cigar dealers say it will mean a heavy cut in their business, and that some will be forced to retire.— years has conducted the California and Oregon Heat, Light & Power Co., and who has had the same under contract of purchase, has closed and lines supplying light and power a deal for the purchase of the plant for Lakeview and New Pine Creek.—

New Plant in Prospect

A number of local business men and fruit growers met last evening with the board of the Business Men's association to consider a proposition for the installation of a large by-products plant in this city this year to take care of the excess fruit which cannot be shipped.—The Dallas Chronicle.

Pathologist Leaves

Annoyed by unsympathetic criticism and the recent action of the grand jury which recommended his removal, Professor O'Garra, county pathologist, tendered his resignation to the county court yesterday and announced his acceptance of a position with American Smelter and Refining company with headquarters at Salt Lake City, at a salary of $15,- 000 a year.—Medford Sun.

Eugene to Build.

Eugene will during the coming spring and summer expend over $750,000 in new buildings and public improvements, according to conservative estimates, and it is expected that the record for the entire year will reach the million dollar mark.—Eugene Register.

Look Out—Cars Comin'

C. B. Bullis of the Southern Oregon Traction company received a telegram from the St. Louis Car company yesterday stating that the street car to be used on the local line should reach here March 8th. Mr. Bullis figures a couple of days delay and makes it the 10th. The steel poles are due the same time, and the work of installing them will begin sometime next week.—Medford Mail-Tribune.

Mayor to Represent Italy

Ernest Nathan, former mayor of Rome, has been selected as commissioner from Italy to the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco. Mr.
Nathan has never been in the United States, but he will make a tour of the country. The appointment is taken to mean that Italy regards the exposition as of great importance.

Huerta Has Faith in No Other

Says Despite Fact Men Are Killed, Pay Is Still Drawn

Following the Killing of Madero Huerta's Troubles Increased Instead of Diminishing—Methods Were Czar-Like

VERA CRUZ, March 7.—With the two Maderos and Suarez murdered, and countless others who opposed him "mysteriously missing," Huerta's dictatorship developed into a veritable reign of terror. Huerta's only hope of holding his blood-bought power was to shed more blood.

The house of deputies, not realizing to what lengths the new president would dare to go, began to protest against Huerta's methods. One evening at 6 o'clock a cordon of soldiers surrounded the house of deputies, while other soldiers entered and arrested 100 of the leading statesmen of Mexico. They were herded to jail like common prisoners and they were hardly locked up in their cells before Huerta declared himself dictator of the country. He called an election. It was held. A new house of deputies was chosen, every man of whom was Huerta's servant. At a previous make-believe election, Huerta had been chosen president, but the votes were so few and so obviously controlled that even Huerta didn't dare to call himself elected.

And so, with infinite craft, he ordered his new house of deputies to declare that the election was void and that another election be held on the 5th of July, 1914, and that in the meantime, Huerta be considered provisional president. This congress also voted to Huerta dictatorial powers and then adjourned, leaving him in sole possession of the government, in a situation that made his word and order as strong as any laws that both houses might pass.

In the meantime rebel victories multiplied; shortly, every northern state was in rebel hands. Francisco Villa, who had been one of Huerta's generals, took the field with Carranza. It is true that Pascual Orozco went to Huerta's side, but a blight seemed to be placed on all his former prosses, and defeats met him at every turn.

How to get money and how to raise an army were Huerta's problems. He set about to do these things, but every dollar he raised by taxation only made him a new enemy and every man whom he forced into the army only gave him another soldier on whom he could not depend. By the seventh month of his rule he had built up a large army, and had distributed it about the country, but he could not pay it.

"You must pay these soldiers," he ordered the business men and farmers of the various districts, "or I will withdraw them."

In many cases the business men and farmers chose not to have the federal soldiers in their localities.
They preferred, indeed, to have the rebels rule over them, for the federals were men of a low class, many of them conscripted criminals turned loose from the jails—cruel, heartless

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stifled up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery.
It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.
Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

and insatiable for money, women and alcohol.

Neither could Huerta trust his officers. He said once in a burst of confidence to Nelson O'Shaughnessy, charge d'affaires in the American embassy, "I can't trust my officers. I only wish I had about 150 American captains down here. I'd clean these rebels out in a short time."

Graft prevailed in every corner of the army.

"One trouble is that nobody in my army ever dies," said Huerta on another occasion. "Death never causes any changes in the pay roll.
Five hundred soldiers may be killed in a battle, but the pay roll never shows it."

And so what money Huerta was able to gather together in various ways was vainly spent, in the main.

It was like pounding sand into a rat hole; he didn't get his money's worth of military effort at any stage of the game. Even if the United States had recognized him, however, and he had been able to secure all the funds he wished for, Huerta could not have crushed the revolution against him.

Proof of this is the fact that Porfirio Diaz himself with $62,000,000 in his treasury and means of securing more, was forced to yield to Madero's demands that he resign. Diaz knew that it was not money that he needed, but men; and he knew that the time had come in Mexico when, among the oppressed millions, there were not to be found enough men to make up an army that would support oppressors.

During the months that Huerta was holding the government by force, Felix Diaz, nephew of the former president, and accomplice of Huerta in the overthrow of Madero, was discovering the truth of the old adage, "Traitor to one, traitor to all."

Huerta sent Diaz on a mission to thank Japan for its participation in the Mexican centennial celebration of 1910. This was a laughable mission.

At least four men, leaders who the Maderos or Huerta desired to leave the country, had been started off for Japan, only to be stopped on the way.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

WE EAT TOO MUCH MEAT, WHICH CLOGS THE KIDNEYS, THEN BACK HURTS AND BLADDER
BOTHERS YOU

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.
This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush the kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE—How the Deadly Danger of Diseased Kidneys May Be Avoided in Time.
By DR. R. H. DANIELS

Diseases of the body organs usually become established in connection with their work. Overwork and abuse cause a large part of all organic disease. The work of the kidneys is to carry out of the body its waste materials and whatever poisons are present, and under ordinary conditions the kidneys do this easily.
It is when these materials are in excess that the kidneys frequently become overtaxed and injured.

The Work of the Kidneys.

The poisons of acute diseases are in large measure eliminated by the kidneys, and occasionally in this way, through their loyalty to the body, they become diseased. But a large part of kidney disease is brought about by every-day poisons, by the poisons and the large amount of waste material which come as the result of overeating and of eating rich, indigestible food. Coffee is a real kidney poison and so is alcohol, even in the small amount present in beer.
Tobacco in any form also injures the kidneys.

Wearing Out the Kidneys.

Our kidneys, like all other organs, are built to last a long time and to do a tremendous amount of work, and in people who live properly they never wear out ahead of the rest of the body. Bright's disease means simply worn out kidneys. It takes years of overeating and other bad habits to bring about this disease, for it takes years to wear out the kidneys. While this overwork is going on we may suffer little or no inconvenience. The kidneys are organs of low sensibility. They don't complain. They simply work as long as they can and then they quit, and it is when they quit that we know there is something wrong.

Insidious and Incurable Disease.

This is why Bright's disease is insidious, and why it is practically incurable. To cure Bright's disease, you must begin years before it becomes apparent, and remove and avoid its causes. You must avoid overeating. You must avoid rich food and alcoholic drinks. Don't use coffee or tobacco. If you do this, you will be practically certain to avoid Bright's disease.

The Printer's Towel.

Robert J. Hurdette once dropped into prome-verse, or verse-prom, and here is the result:

"When I think of the towel, the old-fashioned towel, that used to hang up by the printing-house door, I think that nobody in these days of shoddy can hammer out iron to wear as it wore. The tramp who abused it, the devil who used it, the company who got at it when those two were gone; the make-up and foreman, the editor, poor man, each robbed some-grime off while they put a heap of in, over and under 'twas blacker than thunder, 'twas harder than poverty, rougher than sin. From the roller suspended, it never was bended, and it flapped on the wall like a banner of tin. It grew thicker and rougher and harder and tougher, and daily put on a more inkier hue, until one windy morning, without any warning, it fell to the floor and was broken in two."

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young insisted on paying an income tax on her position as superintendent of Chicago schools, although she has been exempted as an employee of the state.
