One Weak Spot

Many Klamath Falls People Have a Weak Part and Too Often It's the Back.

Many people have a weak spot.
Too often it's a bad back.
Twinges follow every sudden twist.
Dull aching keeps up, day and night.

In such cases a kidney medicine is needed.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.
For backache and urinary ills.
Good proof of merit in the following statement.

John H. Baron, 304 Mechanic St., Ashland, Ore., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for years and I have always found them a splendid remedy. Live a great many other elderly people, I have

Voters Who Want E. J. Murray for Mayor

TO E. J. MURRAY:

We, the undersigned, residents and voters of the City of Klamath Falls, hereby petition you to permit the use of your name as a candidate for the office of Mayor of this city. We base our request on our earnest desire to see a progressive administration for Klamath Falls, to the end that civic enterprise may be aided and business principles established in the administration of the affairs of the city. Believing that you will meet the demands of a large majority of the people of Klamath Falls in these matters, we earnestly urge you to stand as a candidate for the office of Mayor at the election to be held on May 4, 1936:

Ex-Robber for Governor

Al Jennings, Former Leader of Outlaw Gang, Is Candidate in Oklahoma

United Press Service
OKLAHOMA CITY, March 11.—Announcing his platform in a statement that takes up barely ten lines of single-column printed matter, Al Jennings, who served ten years in the Ohio penitentiary and former leader of the famous gang of Indian Territory outlaws, is taking first place among the seven men who have already formally entered the race for the democratic nomination for governor of Oklahoma. Jennings is being bitterly fought by the so-called democratic machine. His race, barely begun, promises to be one of the most spectacular ever seen, even in the politics-ridden state of Oklahoma.

Jennings says he is certain to win. He believes as firmly as it is possible for any man to believe any building at Oklahoma City. He had an income of $5,000 a year. He was one of the leading criminal lawyers of the state, with all the business he could attend to. Clients came to him from all parts of Oklahoma.

Today he has two little dark rooms in the back of an obscure old brick building on North Broadway. His neighbors are second rate dentists and dressmakers. A creaky old stairway leads the way from the street to his office door, on which in small letters is the sign, "Al Jennings."

He has quit his law practice. He says a man can't be exactly on the square and practice law. Then, it will take all his time to attend to the coming campaign.

"I'm going to visit every county in Oklahoma," says Jennings, "and as many of the towns as possible. The thing that he will be the next governor of the state where thirty years ago there was a price on his body, dead or alive.

In the last election of Oklahoma county he ran for prosecuting attorney. He secured the nomination on the democratic ticket, and lost the election by only 500 votes, with 14,000 cast. Jennings says the "high up" criminals and the election judges stole the office from him. However that may be, it is evident that the other candidates fear him above any other one man.

On returning from the penitentiary he denuded his studies in law, was given back his citizenship by President Roosevelt, and he has made good in the profession. His enemies have been unable to produce evidence that he has not lived a straight life since he was pardoned from the penitentiary.

A year ago he had a suite of rooms in the State National bank newspapers won't give me a square deal. The largest daily in the state and a quarter of the smaller ones have been subsidized by the men who will break the law by spending more than $3,000 allowed them to pay the expenses of the race. If I should walk into the office of most of them and offer them $25, they would support me just as zealously as they are now supporting some one else."

Jennings is already announcing his platform, which is said to be the shortest one on which a candidate ever ran for a high office. He promises: "First, fidelity to the people. Second, real honesty in office. Third, that the law shall be no respecter of persons. When these principles are truthfully and honestly carried out, all interests will be subserved, and taxes will be greatly reduced. In all my life, I have never betrayed a confidence. If the people confide in me, God may be judge, I'll not betray them."

EXPERIENCE COUNTS

In every line of business experience is what makes efficiency. It is with great pride that we can truthfully state that the different departments of our business are managed by men of experience. Experienced buyers, experienced butchers, experienced cutters, experienced salesmen and experienced deliverymen—all combine to give you the benefit of their efficiency. Think this over when ordering your supplies for the table.
