Who's Your Grocer?

The next important question confronting the family today is the question of getting the best returns for money spent for household necessities. Some families with a smaller income than their neighbors are living better, dressing better and doing better generally than their wealthier neighbors for the simple reason they know WHERE to buy groceries.

We'd like to prove to you the satisfaction and economy of being a regular customer of ours.

Married on Eve of Battleships' Trip

She is Mrs. Donald Taylor Hunter now. She might have remained Miss Emily Hancock Hughes for a long time. Miss Hughes was engaged to wed Lieutenant Hunter, an officer on the Arkansas, Admiral Badger's flagship of the American fleet. When the president suddenly issued his orders for the sailing of the fleet to Mexico Lieutenant Hunter came to the conclusion that he did not care to be in a position to sing that old song about the bride he left behind him. He decided he would rather sing of the bride he left behind. Miss Hughes was at Fort Howard, Md., when she got a dispatch from the lieutenant to meet him at once for a wedding. She sped on to Fortress Monroe and the ceremony was performed the night before the Arkansas sailed away toward Tampico.

Segregation Bill Causes Big Stir in the National Capital

Aswell's Measure Brings to Light Figures on the Number of Colored People Who Are Employed in Various Capacities by the Government

By BURTON K. STANDISH
(Written for the United Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27.—The race problem, even in these days of the vexing Mexican question and the free trade muddle, is one that is taking its fair share of the capital spotlight. The appointment by President Wilson of Robert H. Terrell, a negro, to judge of the District municipal court, which Southern senators are opposing, served to accentuate the stir in congress over the bill introduced in the house by Representative Aswell of Louisiana, providing for the segregation of white and black governmental clerks under the civil service.

There are today 22,540 negroes in the employ of the United States government, who draw down a total of $12,456,780 a year. Of these negroes, 4,426 are in the army; 1,529 are in the navy, and 2,140 are in the various navy yards and stations. Of the rest, 6,347, with an annual payroll of $4,099,116, are employed in Washington, and the remainder work in government buildings throughout the United States. Twenty-seven negroes are employed in the White House, 26 in the state department, 926 in the treasury, 170 in the war department, 174 in the navy department, 87 in the postoffice department, 593 in the interior department, 43 in the department of justice, 164 in the department of agriculture, 239 in the government printing office, 41 in the interstate commerce commission, 115 in the senate office building, 46 in the congressional library, 171 in the Washington postoffice, 2,413 in the District of Columbia local government.

In the department service outside of Washington 16 negroes are employed in the diplomatic and consular service, 1,082 in the treasury branches, 2,342 in the war department, 2,599 in the postoffice department, 31 in the interior department, 102 in the department of agriculture and 775 miscellaneous.

There are 635 negroes employed by the government in New York, 670 in Chicago, 195 in St. Louis, from 40 to 90 in the other large cities of the country, and 14,130 in miscellaneous towns.

The appointment by the president of Terrell to be a municipal judge promises to bring on as warm a little fight as the senate has seen in some time. Senators John Sharp Williams and James K. Vardaman of Mississippi, Hoke Smith of Georgia and Ellison of South Carolina have boasted that the senate will never confirm Terrell. All of the Southern senators will support them.

Speaking for his segregation bill in committee, Representative Aswell explained that its object was to make it unnecessary for white government employees, especially women, to work under or alongside of negroes in the departments, Aswell said:

"The Almighty by the stamp of color decreed that the Caucasian race should occupy positions of authority and control the destinies of the country. Fear of losing the negro vote in the doubtful states and personal desire for office through his vote, which are the real causes of existing conditions, are usually covered by the pretense of justice.

"If we would be just to each race we would recognize the eternal fitness of things in this government as did Jefferson and Lincoln. We would know that this is a white man's country, whose future is to be controlled by the Caucasian race.

"It is unjust to a member of this inferior race to put him in position of authority over the Caucasian. By inheritance he is misfit when in positions of authority, even over his own race.

"Every informed and right-thinking white man, while sympathizing with and anxious to help the negro in his place, recognizes the necessity of preserving the integrity and the supremacy of the white race. No nation ever destroyed itself except by amalgamating with an inferior race.

"Are we blindly drifting that way?"

The United States is peculiarly commissioned to lead all other nations, not only in the purity of race quality, but in world problems of just and wise government.

"The purpose of this bill is to check a bad tendency in this country before it is too late, and cause thinking people everywhere to find themselves in relation to the race problem, and thus deal fairly and give justice to both races.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Defends Peterson

Editor Herald:
Since reading Peterson's letter in the Klamath Falls Northwestern and Turpin's letter in the Evening Herald on the Mexican situation, I have heard so many censoring and unfair remarks regarding Peterson's criticism on our government's demand on Mexico, that I will ask space for a brief comment on the Mexican question.

Both Peterson and Turpin are obviously sincere in their statements. There is an error of judgment in Turpin's in declaring it treasonable and unpatriotic to criticize our president. Senator Works of California, and a number of senators, offered resolutions to accept the apology offered for the Tampico incident, and allow it to be closed. Senator Works in his speech declared that the Tampico incident was not sufficient cause to justify our government in employing armed force, with deliberate destruction of life and property. One senator declared it a cowardly act to invade Mexico with armed force, and warned the president that it would be the beginning of a long war.

Regarding the war with Mexico in 1847, Peterson is historically, morally and philosophically right. We had better remain taciturn until we can discern between sham patriots and real patriots. In a dispute that is settled by might, the winner is technically right, but intrinsic justice is often trampled on by might. Peterson's remarks are more in support of President Wilson's policy than are those who criticized his remarks.

Our president was forced to do what he has tried his best to avoid. The constant clamor for intervention in Mexico and persistent misrepresentation by fake journalism in the interest of the exploiters of Mexico, have formed a very erroneous understanding among the American people as to the true cause of the present revolution and trouble in Mexico. Many of the leading educators and university presidents have expressed the same opinion as your school superintendent here. All who understand the Mexican situation know that Peterson is right, and I consider the people of Klamath county very fortunate in having a man superintending your education that has discernment and courage to give the moral and historical truth on questions obscure and misrepresented.

Those who wish information regarding the cause of present conditions in Mexico, are recommended to read "Barbarous Mexico," by John Kenneth Turner. And for discernment about traitors and treasonable utterances read "Loyal Traitors," by William Lloyd Garrison.

Patriotism, to the sham patriot, is a cloak to cover up murder and robbery.

There is much truth in Dr. Johnson's saying: "Patriotism is the last resort of all scoundrels."

For understanding and peace, yours sincerely,

JOHN WILLIAM LINDQUIST.
