Marines Are Withdrawn and Troops Are Placed in Vera Cruz; Mediators at Work

MEDIATORS SAY FORCES MUST BE KEPT IN MEXICO

INITIAL PROPOSALS WILL BE DRAFTED

Secretary Regarding These Is Being Maintained—Seizure of Vera Cruz May Make America Responsible for the Payment of August Interest on Mexico's National Debt—No Shooting at Manzanillo.

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—The mediators are ready to draft the initial proposals. The propositions are most carefully guarded.

Neither side is expected to agree to all of the suggestions, but the mediators hope some of them will be approved, however.

Secretary Bryan has nothing to say on the subject when approached. The mediators are considering the proposition of working out an election plan for giving all Mexicans an equal voice at the polls. It is believed this will require the support of all factions to make it successful.

In the meantime America must keep the armed forces massed. The armed forces cannot be withdrawn on the mere promise to maintain order. There must be some sort of substantial guarantee, and the troops will afford this.

In his talk to the mediators, Secretary Bryan indicated that America is inclined to a generous fairness, but certain stipulations must be followed.

Private Secretary Tumulty officially denied the report that American forces had bombarded Manzanillo.

United Press Service VERA CRUZ, April 30.—The Mexican agreement to mediate carries many reservations. Huerta is not decided just how far he will go, but it is evident that he does not consider resignation.

The situation in the Mexican capital is indicated by the following message from Foreign Minister Rojas:

Up to this time mediation is acceptable to Mexico in principle only. As soon as the proposition have been submitted to Mexico and have been decided upon I will be in a better position.

May Assess All Land

Water Users Will Vote on Use of Original Form

Should the water users under the Klamath project whose lands are not yet irrigated, pay assessment charged to the Klamath Water Users Association? This is a question that has been mooted for years by the association. In one case it was taken to the circuit court by a water user, who secured an injunction against the levying of assessments against his land, which was not under irrigation. At last year's annual meeting of the Water Users Association, an amendment was adopted, releasing these people from the payment of

Two suits for damages, aggregating $10,000, were commenced against Savidge Brothers' Lumber company this morning through Attorney W. H. A. Renner. Both are based upon the accident to Cleve L. Stowman, aged 17, who lost three fingers from his left hand by being cut by a rip saw. In the first action the youth, by Harry B. Stowman, his next friend, is plaintiff. Alleging negligence and lack of proper appliances, he demands $7,500. Harry B. Stowman, as father of the injured lad, is plaintiff in the second action. He alleges that by reason of the accident, which is blamed to the lumber company, the boy's earning capacity is impaired. A judgment for $2,500 is demanded.

METHODS OF FIGHTING FIRES IN THE NORTHWEST WOODS IS SHOWN TO CHICAGO'S CITIZENS TODAY

United Press Service CHICAGO, April 30.—Moving pictures of forest fires in the Northwest woods and the methods employed in fighting them, photographs and tree models from several cities of the United States, were on exhibit at the Coliseum today, when the National Wood Show, designed to show the development in municipal forestry in this country, opened in charge of J. H. Pross, city forester of Chicago. Pross' collection included street scenes in Washington, D. C., where trees are well cared for, and many similar views in Western cities, particularly on the Pacific coast. The same collection will be exhibited in the Grand Central Palace, New York city, beginning May 21st.

NEW PAMPHLET BOOSTS KLAMATH

COVER OF TOUR BOOKLET SHOWS MOUNT PITT AND THEIR CARE MANY ILLUSTRATIONS OF KLAMATH POINTS

"California Automobile Tours" is the title of an attractive and valuable tour book, just prepared by Worthington Gates, and being distributed locally by the White Pelican hotel. The folder contains a large sized map of California, Nevada and Oregon, and in it are outlined routes for six or more long tours, besides the roads connecting cities for a shorter jaunt. Klamath Falls is one of the principal places designated on the "sportsman's tour," and the map shows other ways of reaching here from other points. The sportsman's paradise, the many scenic points of interest, the metropolitan accommodations of the White Pelican hotel, the summer resorts and fishing of Upper Klamath Lake, and much other information regarding the Klamath country is given in the pamphlet. This is just such a folder as has been needed here, and the mailing of this to friends elsewhere will prove a great incentive to cause them to see Klamath.

United Press Service JAUREZ, April 30.—The campaign of General Villa to sweep the Huertistas from Northern Mexico will not halt because of mediation. Carranza does not consider the proposal of an armistice between his troops and those of Huerta. This statement was given the United Press in answer to an inquiry regarding dispatches from Washington, with a plan to halt firing in Northern Mexico, pending mediation.

MEDFORDITES TO VISIT KLAMATH

MEETING JUST CLOSED THERE DEVELOPED MUCH CLOSER FEELING BETWEEN COMMUNITIES, SAY THE DELEGATES

A few of the delegates to the Klamath-Jackson-Josephine meeting at Medford returned last night, stating that the meeting there was a great session of harmony, and work to bring the three counties more closely together. Steps were taken toward organization to attract more tourists to this section of matchless natural scenery. Some time in June the organization is to be effected at a meeting to be held here. Already plans for the entertainment of the many visitors are being discussed.

WOMAN READY TO SHOOT JNO. D. Jr.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Marie Ganz, a radical socialist, this afternoon led a crowd of men and boys to the office of the Standard Oil company. They rushed by the police and went in the elevator to the fourteenth floor. They demanded to see Rockefeller Jr., but were told that he was absent. "You tell that dog what I say," cried the woman. "If he don't arbitrate, I'll shoot him like a dog." Upton Sinclair refused to pay a $3 fine, so was sentenced to six days in jail. He threatens a hunger strike. Misses Freeman and Leitner also refused to pay fines.

MARINES LEAVE VERA CRUZ; GEN. FUNSTON DIRECTS

FORMAL CEREMONY AND PARADE ON PROGRAM

Infantry and Artillery Are Relieving the Marines as Fast as Possible. Snipers Are Holding Up the Outlying Farm Country and Demanding Food—Funston May Extend His Line to Protect Supplies.

United Press Service VERA CRUZ, April 30.—The formal transfer of control of this city from the naval officers and marines to General Funston and the Fifth brigade of the army was made at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

With the colors unfurled and the bands playing, the marines, bluejackets and troops marched in parade to the plaza, where they passed in review before Admiral Fletcher and General Funston and their staffs.

The bluejackets then went aboard their ships, while the troops cheered and fired a salute. General Funston is occupying the quarters formerly used by General Maas, the federal commander.

The infantry and artillery began relieving the navy forces from their positions as soon as possible after landing this morning.

The "snipers" driven from the city are now terrorizing the farmers and gardeners, threatening them with death if they furnish food to the Americans. As a result there is a shortage of farm products here.

To meet this it is reported that General Funston will ask permission to extend his lines twenty miles further beyond the city.

McRae Is Here. Alex McRae, of the Western Pacific Land and Timber company, is here from Rhilander, Wis., looking after the company's Klamath county interests. Mr. McRae visits Klamath every year, and has a wide circle of friends here.

Remands Reed Case

Supreme Court Reverses Local Action in Suit

The action of George Reed against the Western Union Telegraph company to recover $3,000 damages has been remanded to the local circuit court for trial. The supreme court has just made its ruling in the matter. In the decision, the supreme court holds that the employers' disability act of 1910 "makes the owner responsible for injury resulting to the workman in the repair of its telegraph lines, whether occasioned by the negligence of the owner or of a fellow workman. A defense where the injury is contributed to by the act of a fellow workman, performed in obedience to instructions or orders given by the employer or any one in
