Who's Your Grocer?
The next important question confronting the family today is the question of getting the best returns for money spent for household necessities. Some families with a smaller income than their neighbors are living better, dressing better and doing better generally than their wealthier neighbors for the simple reason they know WHERE to buy groceries.

Tampico, Which May Be the Next Scene of Naval Action

Tampico, where occurred the trouble between the Huerta forces and the naval forces of the United States under Admiral Mayo, which precipitated the war, will probably be the next Mexican port to be taken by the navy. The port can be taken with little trouble. There are many Americans there now who fear an uprising in which they will be injured unless the

Bonanza Defeated on Home Ground by Locals

If anything is missing in Bonanza today, it is safe to lay the blame on the ball teams, for a more thieving lot than these same ball boys would be hard to find. White on the diamond they stole everything but the umpire's gait, and they are charged in the official score with purloining a total of thirty-one bases, including the theft of the home plate by "Bun" Browne.

In a mix-up of good and bad plays, in which errors predominated, Klamath Falls took the long end of a 17-to-7 score. This was the first time Manager Morrow's boys went into action this season, and he tried out sixteen players during the nine eventful innings.

The Clover Leaf bunch got away to a fine start, all on account of the errors of Morrow's suspects. The first of a long series of yells went up from the Bonanza rooters when Arnold fanned, Shive reached first on an error by Coburn, took second on Hall's offense, stole third, and there remained while Haydon whiffed and Hurn died by the Bold-Flackus combination.

The grandstand went wild with enthusiasm in Bonanza's half of the first. Hall sent a grounder to Shive, which he juggled long enough to allow the runner the first station. Coburn smashed one over Haydon's head for a single, and Du Fault spilled one just off the home plate, which Peil gathered up and shot to Shive in an effort to kill Hall at third. Shive let this get by him, Hall and Coburn tallying on the fluke.

In a series of bad throws Du Fault added another tally, while V. Huff got on on a felder's choice. The fun ended when R. Huff went out Foster to Hurn; Hamaker was out to Hurn, unassisted, and Bold expired, Haydon to Hurn. One hit, three runs.

Klamath annexed two tallies in their half of the second. After Maxwell went out Hickcock to Flackus; Noel drew a pass to first, stole second and scored on Baum's hit to short left. Baum degenerated into a common thief, and landed on third while Foster was giving two balls the once-over; then Foster poked an easy one to Coburn, who threw high to Flackus, allowing Foster a life and Baum a tally. Peil and Arnold retired the side on strikeouts. One hit, two runs.

Bonanza added one reach each inning in the second, third, fourth and sixth. Morrow's men grabbed three in the third, two in the fourth, six in the fifth, three in the sixth, one in the seventh.

The six runs in the fifth were the result of a pair of hits, a trio of errors a batter hit by a pitched ball, a walk and a brilliant steal of the plate.

Noel started the rumpus by beating out the third strike and stealing second. Baum was safe on an error by Flackus. Browne, who had taken Foster's place on the mound, waited for four wide ones. With the bases piled up, Oliver called Peil out on a questionable strike. Arnold sent one to Coburn, which was first juggled and then thrown wide to third, permitting Noel and Baum to cross the plate. Shive got in the way of a fast one and limped to first; Haydon committed suicide by falling in an attempt to bunt the third strike. Browne dashed for home from third while Hickcock was trying to get Bold's signal. Hurn sent a single through the infield, scoring Arnold and Shive, taking third on the throw to the plate in a vain effort to cut off Shive. Maxwell lived on Hamaker's flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become over worked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

England's War Office Enlists Aid of Women

London, May 4.—Although Great Britain is not yet ready to give women a voice in the government, the war office authorities are not at all backward in accepting their services in persuading young men to enlist in the regular army. A novel recruiting campaign was begun today in the London borough of Camberwell, in which 300 women and girls of that section are playing leading roles. They are distributing from house to house an attractively printed and illustrated pamphlet drawing attention to the delights of army life. There are 27,000 houses in the borough, and before the week is out it is planned to place a copy of the publication in the hands of every man in the place. Besides the women have agreed to do all they can in their personal way to procure enlistments. In order to stimulate the recruiting the war office has arranged for daily parades and drills of various branches of the service in the streets, and the display of the army moving pictures film in the local picture palaces. The Camberwell plan will be followed in other London boroughs and provincial towns if it proves a success. The war office has been frankly worried of late on account of the remarkable falling off of enlistments in the recent months and the increasing number of desertions.
