Today's White House Wedding Devoid of Pomp

ONLY A FEW CLOSE FRIENDS ARE PRESENT WHEN MISS ELEANOR WILSON BECOMES THE BRIDE OF CABINET MEMBER—GROOM IS TWICE AS OLD AS HIS BRIDE—WHERE THE HONEYMOON WILL BE SPENT IS BEING KEPT A MYSTERY BY ALL THE PEOPLE CONCERNED

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.

The simplest of ceremonies today marked the fourteenth White House wedding and the second of the Wilson administration. Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the president, was married to William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury. Only members of the immediate family of the bride and groom and McAdoo's colleagues in the cabinet with the vice president and Mrs. Marshall were present.

There was none of the pomp and ceremony which attended the marriage last November of Miss Jessie Wilson to Francis Bowes Sayre. The fact that the groom was a widower influenced this decision.

The wedding took place in the Blue Room, where Miss Francis Folsom was wedded to President Cleveland. The nuptials were almost identical with those of the Cleveland wedding. It, too, was a private affair, with only a dozen or so invited guests.

President and Mrs. Wilson have always maintained that the affairs of the woman folk of the White House were not public business, and so up until today practically no information was given out as to the wedding.

Secretary McAdoo, the groom, is 51 years of age. He has six children living and one grandchild. Miss Wilson is 24 years old. She is the most vivacious of the President's three daughters. She first met Secretary McAdoo while he was acting chairman of the Democratic National Committee and came to the "summer White House" at Sea Girt, to confer with the then democratic presidential candidate.

Both Miss Wilson and McAdoo had much in common. Both were fond of tennis. They enjoyed dancing the new style dances. Their acquaintance at Sea Girt ripened here in Washington when McAdoo became one of the president's advisers. The two were constantly together. Miss Noma McAdoo, one of the secretary's daughters, who is a year or so younger than Miss Wilson, was her constant companion. They took long automobile drives and walks together, and McAdoo was Miss Wilson's favored dancing partner.

True to the Wilson tradition that thirteen, the hoodoo number, was their "good luck" numeral, the engagement of Miss Wilson and the groom was announced on March 13. That day was also Friday, and friends of the Wilson family laughingly observed that an especially fortunate date had been selected for the announcement, from the Wilson standpoint.

Miss Wilson began the preparation of her trousseau immediately follow-splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.
