Will Work to Solve Unemployed Problem

EUGENE, May 25.--A serious effort to get at causes and remedy for unemployment in Oregon will be made at the Commonwealth conference at the University of Oregon, Eugene, beginning Wednesday. The object lesson of last winter is responsible. Along with the unemployment problem will be considered the immigration problem, because the opening of the Panama canal is not unlikely to make a close connection between the two in Oregon, Washington and California alike.

ison avenue, New York, and Frances A. Keller is managing director. Other commonwealth conference topics will be taxation, rural life, cheaper and better government for towns, cheaper administration for counties and for the state, credit facilities for farmers, an Oregon land exchange and women in politics. Fifty persons, made capable by experience of speaking on phases of these subjects, are on the program. General attendance is invited. Reduced rates are available on the railways.

Three thousand miles, from New York, will come H. H. Wheaton, to be present at this conference and to help discuss unemployment. H. H. Wheaton is field worker of the North American League for Immigrants, and this league has suggested that it unite with the University of Oregon and the University of Washington in an unemployment and immigration survey of the Pacific Northwest. He will meet next Friday, at Eugene, Professor Joseph K. Hart, of the University of Washington. The North American Civic League for Immigrants has headquarters at 95 Madison

A Six Pound Son. If the affairs of the Klamath Water Users Association get somewhat tangled in the next few days, the blame can be placed entirely upon the son of Albert E. Elder, a Sunday afternoon arrival. According to "Deek", there is no where a healthier, stronger, brighter little fellow than this six-pounder, and with visions of the cherub in his mind, he finds it hard to give attention to dry columns of figures.

Three Huerta Members of the Mexican Mediation Congress

The three members of the Mexican peace conference appointed by General Huerta of Mexico enjoyed themselves in Washington and New York for several days before they went on to Niagara Falls, Canada. Both while they were in Washington and New York they were extremely careful. They would not even receive newspaper men, fearing they would let something slip as to their powers or intentions.

These delegates will meet Supreme Court Justice Lamar and Mr. Lehmann at the Clifton. How long the conference would last or what would be the result no one who has met the delegates pretended to say.

Minimum Wage for Timbermen Is Urged

United Press Service SOUTH BEND, Wash., May 25. Following the recent cut in wages paid by sawmills of the county, timberworkers here have appointed a committee to draft a minimum wage scale. The movement is expected to become state wide. Union officials say any reduction below the proposed scale will be fought at any cost. J. G. Brown, president of the International Timberworkers' Union and C. J. Folsom, union organizer, impressed the importance of a minimum wage on a meeting of timberworkers here last night. The proposed scale will be based on the wages paid at present except those paid in mills where a recent reduction has occurred, and will be patterned on the international scale for single workers.

SURVEY BUTTE VALLEY ROUTE

Surveyors under the supervision of Engineer O'Connor of the California Highway Commission and Road Commissioner Barr of Siskiyou county, are now at work surveying the highway from Weed, California, to the Oregon line.

This road, when completed, will be a part of the California State Highway, branching at the state line with one road leading by Klamath Falls to Crater Lake, and the other winding out by the Klamath Hot Springs and Ager.
