

Ady May Again Be Sent to Washington, D. C.

WATER USERS OF THE COUNTRY FEAR THAT TWENTY YEAR BILL MAY SUFFER FROM POLITICIANS

APATHY EVERYWHERE BUT IN MIDDLE WEST, WHERE IT IS OPPOSITION

Letter Received by Secretary Elder Today From Missouri Congressman Indicates That Reorganization of the Reclamation Service, Opposed by Westerners, Might Have Effect Upon the Appropriation.

Becoming alarmed at the prospect of the twenty-year reclamation bill being crowded back until after adjournment, water users all over the West are becoming active to secure representation in Washington to work to secure the passage of the bill at this session of congress. It is more than likely that Abel Ady, president of the Klamath Water Users Association, who is familiar with the legislation, the needs of the water users and the stands of the various congressmen, will be sent East to work for the passage of the bill, which means so much to the farmers.

The question of sending Mr. Ady to Washington again will be taken up by the Klamath Water Users Association at the meeting of the stockholders next month.

In the hope of getting action on the bill at this session, the irrigation committee of the house is trying to get through a special rule by which the bill, which has passed the senate, will be brought up at once in the house. A delegation was named to take the matter up with the president.

Although it has been stated that the reclamation bill will be up for attention after the trust bills are disposed of, there is a general feeling that there is a deeper political motive behind the delay. This is apparent in the following letter received by Secretary Albert E. Elder of the Klamath Water Users Association from Congressman William P. Holland of Missouri, a member of the committee on appropriations:

try that the reclamation projects are worthy of continued support. Following are some of the telegrams now being interchanged by water users over the big question now at issue:

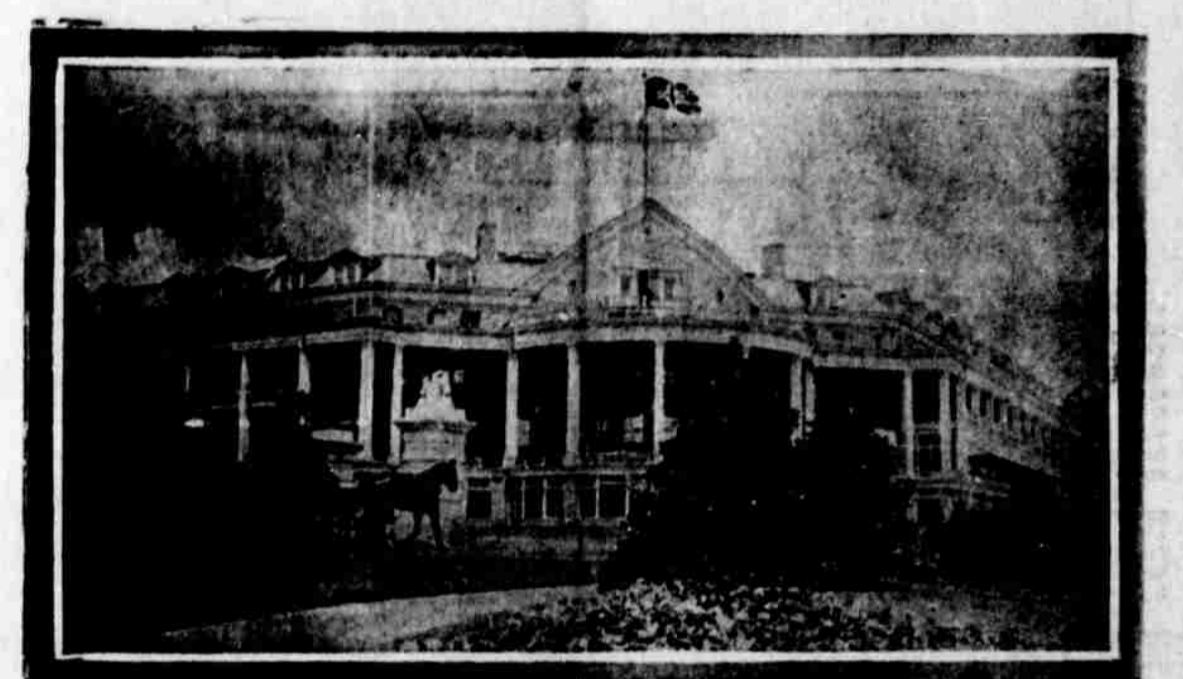

"Sunnyside, Wash. 'Klamath Water Users Association: We have more information about opposition to the extension bill. The difficulty is pressing. As a result of other legislation, lateness in the session, over confidence and apathy everywhere, and opposition in the Middle West, the water users need a delegation in Washington. Will you send a man? If you cannot, how much will you contribute to send two or three representative? Telegraph answer quick. It is absolutely necessary to do something at once if the bill passes.—G. E. Rodman, Secretary."

"Carlsbad, N. M. 'Abel Ady, President Klamath Water Users Association: 'Extension bill in danger. I leave for Washington tonight. Are you going to be there? Reply at our expense.—Scott Etter, President."

"N. J. Sinnott: 'Can place representative in Washington by June 10. In your judgment would representative bring success at this time. Wire reply.—Albert E. Elder, Secretary."

"A. E. Elder: 'President has promised help after trust bills are disposed of.—N. J. Sinnott."

STORM AND HEAT EACH KILL THREE

NEW YORK'S HOT WAVE BROKEN BY ELECTRICAL STORM OF GREAT VIOLENCE — OTHER POINTS REPORT RELIEF

NEW YORK, May 28.—The heat wave which has held this town at its mercy was broken this morning by a severe electrical storm.

Word received from other towns in this vicinity report the storm's visit and a falling thermometer.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The weather forecasters promise relief for this section within twenty-four hours. It was cooler this morning than it was at the same time yesterday, but the thermometer is rising.

Experts say that a stagnation of the air currents is causing the heat, permitting a northward movement of the hot air waves from the south.

MEDIATION MAY END IN A WEEK

CONFERENCE SUCCESS SAID TO REST WITH WILSON AND HUERTA—CARRANZISTAS TO DECIDE TOMORROW

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 28.—The success of the mediation conferences practically rests with President Wilson and Huerta. Persons close to the mediators believe that the negotiations will be completed and a protocol signed within a week, so, apparently, the main points at issue have been agreed upon.

Negotiations have been conducted on the broad lines of pacifying the country. The rebels are expected to accept the issues defined.

By tomorrow, say Washington dispatches, the Carranza party will decide definitely whether to participate in the mediation, or abide by the result, providing that certain stipulations already made are met.

MAY NOT GRANT ANOTHER SALOON LICENSE TONIGHT

LAW PROVIDES FOR ONE TO EACH 1,000

Holding That There Are More Saloons Here Than the Population Justifies, Members of the City Council State That at Tonight's Special Meeting, They Will Eliminate One Saloon Privilege Entirely.

Upon the ground that there are more saloons in Klamath Falls than by law provided for, it is understood that there will be a movement at tonight's council against granting a license to Al Crystal's successor. It is understood that Dan Corcoran has arranged to take over the "Second Class," if he is granted a license by the council.

"This isn't a movement against Crystal or the man to succeed him," said one councilman today, "but an effort to get within the law on the number of saloons in Klamath Falls. The law provides that there shall be one saloon for every thousand population, and with about 5,000 people here there are seven saloons."

"By eliminating the Central saloon through refusal to grant a license to another man, the number will be reduced by one."
