

McNARY AGAIN IN LEAD; ERRORS ARE FOUND ELSEWHERE

BENSON SEVEN BEHIND THIS AFTERNOON

Error Found in the Returns From a Crook County Precinct, Together With Those Reported From Wasco and Baker Counties, Give the Salem Man an Apparent Lead for the Nomination.

United Press Service
SALEM, June 12.—The positions are again shifted in the Benson-McNary race for justice of the supreme court, which is the closest political contest in the history of Oregon.

McNary now leads Benson by seven votes, according to apparently authentic advices received today by McNary from persons who rechecked the tally sheets in a number of counties. Yesterday, owing to an error of twenty votes in Multnomah county, Benson was credited with a lead of seven.

Today the following telegram was received from Prineville by McNary: "A plain error has been found in the East Prineville tally which counted you out of ten votes."

Another error reported from Wasco gave McNary five votes. In Baker county it is reported that on a recheck Benson lost one vote.

In the rechecking in Harney county the errors reduce McNary's vote by three and add one to Benson's vote.

In the rechecking in Harney county, the errors reduce McNary's vote by three, and add one to Benson's vote.

In Yamhill county McNary is reported to have gained two.

These errors apparently give McNary a lead of seven.

Lorimer Bank Fails

Several Depositors Are Hurt by Dastardly Act

United Press Service
CHICAGO, June 12.—The LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank, popularly called "Wm. Lorimer's bank," and one of the largest state banks in Illinois, closed its doors today, and was placed in the hands of the state auditor.

Bank Examiner Harkin has been placed in charge. The institution had a paid-up capital of $1,000,000.

Immediately after the news was given out 1,500 excited depositors gathered. They jammed LaSalle street, clamoring for admittance into the institution.

While the crowd was jammed, a man appeared on the twelfth floor of the building in which the bank is located, and deliberately kicked out a large pane of glass. The glass fell on the crowd at the front door, and a dozen were cut and injured.

Detectives were unable to find the man.

In speaking of the matter Bank Examiner Harkin said: "The LaSalle bank has been under surveillance for six months."

Six months ago the officials were notified that they must get $1,000,000 cash for emergency purposes, and

GREAT TIME AT DAIRY SUNDAY

KLAMATH FALLS AND HILDEBRAND TEAMS WILL PLAY BALL GAMES THERE, AND HORSES WILL BE TRIED OUT

(Herald Special Service)
DAIRY, June 12.—With two ball games on the tips and a good Wild West show arranged for Sunday afternoon promises to be a lively time in this town. Many from Bonanza and Hildebrand will be here.

The Eagles, a fast team of Klamath Youngsters, under the wing of Cale Oliver, will meet the Dairy Cowboys, who are also good at the national game. After this game the Federals will play the Hildebrand nine, and a good game is expected.

All of the bad horses in this vicinity are being rounded up, and will be tried out by local riders, and one of the riders in the employ of the Rodeo Association. The worst will be sent to the Klamath Falls Rodeo.

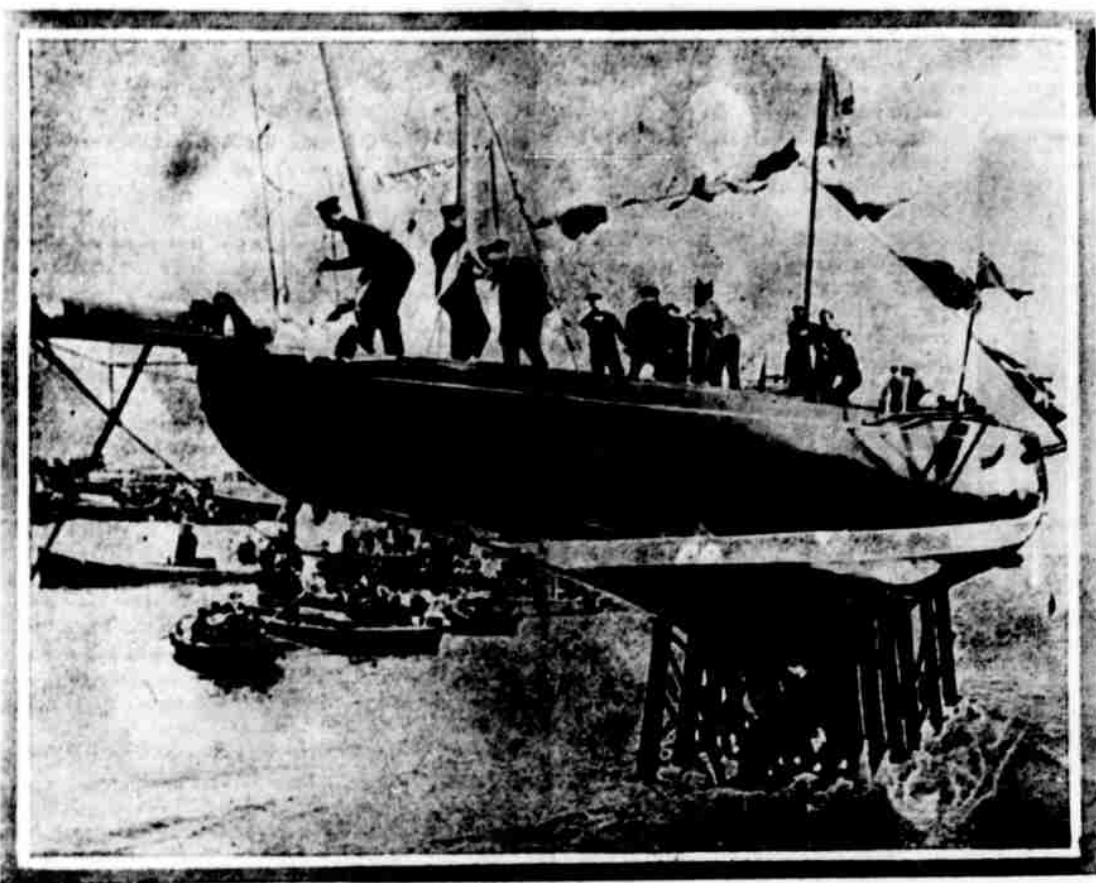

They All Come Back.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sloan and son, Junior, arrived last night from Central California. The Sloans have been living in Fresno for the past six months or so, but the weather in that vicinity was getting too warm, so they packed up their duds, tucked their pride and joy under their arm, and hiked back to Klamath. They were accompanied by Mrs. A. Blachly of Lindsey, Calif., who expects to make her home in this city.

Garriche-Shive.

A marriage license was issued this morning to Lee F. Garriche and Dorothy Shive. The lady is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Shive, and her husband-to-be is part owner of a local barbershop.

Shamrock IV. Being Launched at Gosport, England

A great crowd of Englishmen watched the launching of the Shamrock IV, the yacht which Sir Thomas Lipton hopes this year to lift America's Cup. This photograph was taken just as she was slipping into the water at Nicholson's shipbuilding yards, at Gosport, England. The ship is unlike anything that ever sailed in an important yacht race. The long flat floor of the yacht attracted much attention and has been the cause of considerable comment among those who pose as yachting experts.

Though the measurements of the three yachts which are now competing in American waters for the honor of defending the cup have not been given out, nor those of the Challenger, it has been estimated that the construction of the Shamrock IV will make it necessary for her to give the largest of the American boats four inches in time. She must beat the largest of them by four inches to win a race.

VOORHEES GOING TO UMATILLA CO.

PIONEER ENGINEER IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE KLAMATH PROJECT, GETS A TRANSFER FROM LOCAL FIELD

Isaac S. Voorhees, who has been assistant project engineer of the Klamath project for several years, will soon sever his connection with this project. He has just been designated by the reclamation service as engineer in charge of the construction of the Three Falls diversion dam on the Umatilla, which will furnish water for the west extension of the Umatilla project.

Mr. Voorhees expects to take up his new work July 1. It is to be completed in about six months.

With the departure of Mr. Voorhees there goes from the Klamath project a man who has been identified with its engineering features for seven years, and a man who is well and favorably known to all of the water users. In the solving of the peculiar problems connected with the Klamath project, he has been an active factor, and much of the big features of the project scheme were built under his supervision.

AMERICANS GLAD TO QUIT CANADA

ALTHOUGH WHEAT CROPS MAY BE BOUNTIFUL, THE COST OF PRODUCTION LEAVES BUT A SMALL PROFIT

Reasons for the return of many American farmers who migrated to Canada, attracted by the big wheat crops possible there, are found in a report of a commission appointed by the province of Saskatchewan. The cost of growing wheat in that province during the last year was found to be 55 cents a bushel, or 62 cents f. o. b. at country points. This leaves a mighty slim margin, according to the department of agriculture, for farmers to gain a profit.

The long, rigorous winters have also proven too much for Americans in many instances, and numbers are asking for certificates which will permit the return to the United States of their household effects.

The cost of producing wheat in Saskatchewan, the Canadian provincial commission found, has increased over 12 per cent since 1909, and the price has decreased since that time from 81 1/2 cents a bushel to 66 1-8 cents in 1912, leaving the farmer a profit of only 4 1-8 cents a bushel.

KLAMATH INDIANS JAILED IN CITY

SMITH AND HOWARD ARE TURNED OVER TO THE PRISON OFFICIALS BY JACKSON AND FERGUSON

PORTLAND, June 12.—With the charge of first degree murder hanging over his head, Thomas G. Smith, alias Williams, a Klamath Indian, was brought to Portland by Deputy United States Marshal George Jackson and lodged in the county jail to await the action of the United States grand jury.

Smith is charged with hitting Link River Beal, one of the most responsible Indian settlers on the Klamath reservation, over the head with a horseshoe, fracturing the skull, when Beal ordered Smith off his place.

United States Commissioner C. J. Ferguson at Klamath Falls accompanied Jackson and his prisoner to Portland.

Jackson was on the reservation when Link River Beal's funeral was held, and said that it was one of the largest attended of any ever held on the Klamath reserve.

Jason Howard, a Klamath Indian, was also brought to Portland on a charge of giving whiskey to Indian schoolboys.

United Press Service
PORTLAND, June 12.—A carrier pigeon, taken aloft in the balloon "Million Population" in the Rose Festival races, arrived this afternoon with a message stating that the air craft was struck by lightning, and Captain Tom Berry and its pilot were seriously injured.

The message added that the balloon was wrecked, and lost in the woods. It asked for immediate aid, but failed to give any location.

SPORTSMEN DINE WILLIAM FINLEY

INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE TALKS MADE BY NATURALISTS AND MOTION PICTURE MEN AT LOCAL BANQUET

An informal banquet was tendered to William L. Finley last evening at the White Pelican hotel by about twenty-five local sportsmen and friends of the former state game warden. Mr. Finley is now in charge of the biological department of the state fish and game commission and also connected with the biological survey of the agricultural department of the United States. Other guests were Mr. Moomaw, Herman T. Bohman, E. A. Salisbury of the Educational Film company, and L. M. Hutt.

A most interesting and instructive address was made to the local sportsmen by Mr. Finley, who outlined the possibilities of the state of Oregon as a retreat for the sportsmen of the coast, similar to the position occupied by the state of Maine with the entire New England states. Fifty millions of dollars are spent annually in Maine by the sportsmen of surrounding states, said Mr. Finley, and he predicts that this can be equaled in Oregon, if a proper system of propagation and protection of the game is carried on.

Mr. Finley was followed by E. A. Salisbury, who explained what the motion picture people were doing from an educational standpoint, and gave vivid descriptions of the great feature films he had secured in Klamath county, depicting all the varieties of duck, geese and shore birds, from the stage of the egg and nests to the final hunting scenes.

He was very complimentary in his remarks about Klamath county, and declared it one of the greatest homes and breeding places for game birds on the entire coast. His description of his fish pictures at Pelican Bay, Spring Creek and Williamson River were such as to awaken the fishing (Continued on page 4)

CRYSTAL CREEK FEUD IS ENDED BY A NEW ROAD

STONE AND IRWIN ARE THE MEDIATORS

Olive Branch Is Carried Into Quaresome Neighborhood by Attorneys, and All Are Agreed That a New Road Should Be Laid Out and Established by the County, to End the Trouble.

After sundry and diverse warrants of arrest, subpoenas, etc., have been served on all of the parties concerned, and the officers of the law have worn a well defined trail from here to Crystal Creek in the serving of these papers, the Brown-Wyland feud is reported settled.

Word to this effect is brought here by District Attorney John Irwin and Attorney Charles Stone, counsellor for the Wylands, who journeyed to the upper end of Upper Klamath Lake Thursday to look into the trouble and bring about a settlement. It is understood that the charges now pending before the grand jury will be dismissed.

The big trouble between the Browns and the Wyland family has been as to roads. There have been several charges of destruction of fences filed against the Browns, and Wyland and his employe, Clarence Hunt, have been several times haled into court on charges of obstructing a highway.

While up the lake Thursday the attorneys took up with all parties the advisability of laying out a more suitable road, and all agreed. The route for this highway has been selected, and both factions will sign a petition to the county court, asking to have the road established as a county road.

MARTIN PLANT NOW ON MARCH

The Klamath Flour mill began its journey today from its former location on Sixth and Oak to its new home on Sixth street, opposite the box factory.

In order to make room for the big mill to be taken down Sixth street, the telephone company had to cut one of their lead lines and pipe it underground.

The distance from the old location to the new one is five blocks, and it is expected to take the moving crew two or three days to reach the new foundation.

Bird Census Latest

Uncle Sam Will Accept All for His Enumerators

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 12.—A bird census of the United States is the latest suggestion from the United States department of agriculture. The counting should begin this month and every bird lover throughout the country is invited to assist.

In the announcement the department says: "The object is to determine how many pairs of birds of each species breed within definite areas. By comparing these figures with those of subsequent censuses it will be possible to ascertain whether the present state and federal laws are effective and game and insectivorous birds increasing or diminishing in numbers. Voluntary observers are relied upon to furnish most of the desired data to the department."

The first step of the department was to ask 250 of its correspondents to act as census agents in different localities. They will select their trained observers, and, following an outline of information furnished by the department, will take the census. Correspondents will be asked to select fairly representative territory in their localities, and to note, among other things, the kinds of and pairs of birds actually nesting within a restricted plot. And the census takers are warned not to include birds which come into that territory simply for breeding purposes.

Each correspondent is asked to go out early in the morning to count the male birds—for that is the hour they do most of their singing. Suffrage is to bear no part in the bird counting, however, for the department has decided that after migrating is over and the birds are settled in their summer quarters, "it is safe to consider that each male represents a breeding pair."
