Australian Dances Are Featured

One of the tastiest little headlines that has been at the Star for several weeks is the act of the Bletsoes, which is on tonight and tomorrow night. The team is just from the Antipodes, and their act is right up to the standard of refinement demanded there.

The actors do not weary the audience with a lot of chatter, but fill the whole of their time with songs and dancing. Their voices are good, and some clever English takeoffs are given, which with "I'm Affair" took down the house.

In the dancing the players feature an Australian tango, which has a number of difficult steps. They also do other dance steps.

A Chilean province has established two floating schools to enable the residents of islands to obtain an education.

The severe drought that began the latter part of 1911 and lasted until April of the following year, caused smaller yields in 1912 of the agricultural products in British Guiana and affected the lumbering, balata, cattle and mining industries through added difficulties of transportation.
There being no roads in the interior, all transportation is done by water.

PHILADELPHIA, June 16.—Don't dance; don't smoke; and DON'T CHEW GUM!

These are the rules laid down by Coach Vivian Nickalls to the crew candidates at the University of Pennsylvania. The first two don'ts went straight home with the would-be oarsmen, but the ban on chewing gum is still a mystery around Weightman Hall.

Nickalls has refused to say just why he barred the first aid to the distressed shop girl. Perhaps it wasn't from a hygienic standpoint.

His only comment was, "A fellow who chews gum isn't timber for the Penn crew. Leave jaw exercise to the women."

Failure to live up to the rules will mean suspension. Nickalls has declared.

Street Improvement Notice Notice of Filing of the Proposed Ac-cessment Roll

The Common Council of the city of Klamath Falls, Oregon, having ascertained and determined the proportionate share for which each lot, part of lot, block and acreage property shall be liable for the improvement of Eighth street, from Main to High street, High street from Eighth to Ninth street, Ninth street from High to Prospect street, Prospect street from Ninth to Upham street, Upham street from Prospect to White avenue, White avenue from Upham to Delta street, and having on the 8th day of June, 1914, filed in the office of the Police Judge of said city a statement thereof, which said statement is known and designated as the "PRO-POSED ASSESSMENT ROLL" for said improvement.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that said Common Council did by resolution on Monday, the 29th day of June, 1914—said date being a date upon which a regular meeting of said council will be held—as the time for hearing and determining all objections to such assessment, and having heard and determined such objections, if any there be, said Common Council will on said date proceed to assess the proportionate share and part of the cost of such improvement in accordance with the benefit accrued upon each lot, part of lot, block or acreage property. Each and every owner of property liable for the cost of such improvement is hereby referred to such assessment roll on file in the office of the Police Judge for detailed information.

The boundaries within which the property lies that is benefited and is to be assessed for the cost of said improvement, is all that property lying adjacent to the said streets as far as improved, and extending back from the side lines of said streets to the centers of the respective blocks lying adjacent to said streets so far as improved.

Witness my hand and the seal of said city this 14th day of June, 1914.

A. L. LEAVITT,

Police Judge of Said City.

King and Queen at Famous Ascot Races

United Press Service

ASCOT, England, June 16.—The elite of British and European society flocked to the royal heath today for the opening of the Ascot race meeting, the most fashionable and aristocratic meeting of the English turf season. King George and Queen Mary, accompanied by Princess Mary, drove in state from Windsor Castle, riding in an open four-horse carriage, with postillions and outriders wearing the picturesque Ascot liveries.

Prancing on either side of the King's carriage rode Lieutenant-Colonel Sir Frederick Ponsonby and Major Olive Wigram, the royal equeries, who were attired in the orthodox silk hats, morning coats and dark riding breeches and jack boots, while scarlet clad grooms escorted a dozen other carriages bearing members of the royal family and the principal court officials and guests from the castle.

For the mere male, a Prince Albert or morning coat, with a silk hat, is absolutely insisted upon for today and Thursday, the two state days.
The women who thronged the reserved enclosures sported their newest and most expensive costumes.

For them racing is of minor importance compared with the necessity of out-dressing their rivals and friends.
The royal enclosure contained everybody who is anybody, when the hosting of the royal standard indicated that the king and queen had taken their places, and gave the signal for the races to commence.

The utmost precautions had been taken to prevent the admission of "undesirables" to the royal enclosure, and every applicant had to personally satisfy the lord chamberlain as to his or her identity and eligibility.

A few years ago there was a big scandal over the sale of tickets by impecunious members of the aristocracy, and several unauthorized persons had their tickets confiscated. To prevent a recurrence of such a state of affairs, the lord chamberlain and a host of officials patrolled the enclosure and challenged everybody of whom they had no personal knowledge.

Although there was little chance of suffragettes gaining admission, there were a number of Scotland Yard men on duty round the royal box, and on the course the regular officials were reinforced by strong bodies of uniformed police and plain clothes detectives.

The racing is normally controlled by the stewards of the Jockey Club, but as the heath is royal property and most of the prizes are given by the king, the monarch himself has the last word in everything.

He appoints his own stewards, laddrappers and judges, and has his own private police court in which offenders are dealt with by Sir John Dickenson, chief magistrate from Bow street. Sir John was on duty for the first time today.

The takings from the stands are devoted to the upkeep of the course, and the provision of substantial prizes, but King George isn't greedy, and lets the public on the course free of charge.

Many important races will be decided during the four days, the principal events today being the gold vase, presented by King George, value $1,000, with $2,000 in specie added, distance two miles, the Ascot stakes, a two-mile handicap, value $20,000, and the Coventry stakes, value $5,000 for classic 2-year-olds, distance 5 1/4 furlongs. Tomorrow the chief event is the Royal Hunt cup. On Thursday the gold cup, one of the most coveted trophies in Europe, is run. The king has several entries and will attend each day.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that a socialist mass convention will be held in the Library hall on Main street, in Klamath Falls, on the 34 day of July, at 8 p. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the fall election and such other business as may come before the convention.

OPENS UP NOSTRILS, CLEARS HEAD, ENDS COLDS OR CATARRH AT ONCE

Instantly Relieves Swollen, Inflamed Nose, Head, Throat—You Breathe Freely—Dull Headache Goes—Nasty Discharge Stops.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the Nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning, the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will disappear.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing.
Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.
