

INDIAN SERVICE VETERAN AMAZED AT OUR PROGRESS

McFARLAND CAMPED IN BUSINESS DISTRICT

Former Head of Indian School at the Agency is Now Automobile Distributor, Making a Trip Over His Old Stamping Grounds—Says There is Nothing Can Hold This Country Back, Now It's Started

A man who has been away from the Klamath country for more than a score of years, or less, for that matter, and expects to find the old town pump and other landmarks just where they used to be, would be surprised beyond measure. A man who has been away a long time, but who knew that this city was doing things can be equally surprised, according to O. C. McFarland, of San Francisco, who, with his daughter, Miss Pearl McFarland, is motoring through this country.

Mr. McFarland was head of the Indian school at the Agency during Cleveland's first administration. He was born in Albany, and spent some time in Central and Southern Oregon. Since leaving here he has been in business in California, and is now the distributing agent for the Mitchell car for California and Nevada.

"Of course, I have been hearing of the marvelous growth of your city," he said today, but I never dreamed that any place could take such strides. In the old days, the town was a little hamlet along the river, the court house out of town, and what few shacks there were beyond it referred to as "stringtown."

"Why, in the time I was at the Agency I've camped many a time on ground that is now covered by your modern business buildings. At that time it was clear out of town.

"There is no use talking, this town cannot be held back, with the wonderful start it has made, the marvelous spirit of its residents, and the great country behind it. Why, you can feel the booster spirit of progress in the very air.

"You can always tell a dead town when you hit it, but Klamath Falls is far from being dead—it is the best town we have struck on this trip."

While here McFarland looked up Captain O. C. Applegate and Captain J. P. Lee, both of whom work in the Indian service at the Klamath Agency when he was. They all had a fine talk about the early days. Another happy meeting was that of McFarland and W. T. Lee of the Oregon-California Auto company. Mr. Lee was a trusted employe of McFarland for five years or more, managing a large part of his business, and leaving only to come here and go into business for himself.

On this trip Mr. McFarland is going over his "old stamping ground." He reached here last night from San Francisco in his big Mitchell, and will go from here to the Klamath Agency, Prineville, The Dalles, Portland and then to Albany.

It is said that a hair from the tail of the horse is the strongest single animal thread known.

British Poloists Take the Cup

MAJOR BARRETT.

CAPT. CHEAPE.

JOHN TRAIL.

This picture the British polo team, which sails tomorrow for London, bearing with it the international polo trophy, won from the American team at Meadow Brook, N. Y., in two straight victories. This is the second defeat suffered by America at the hands of the Britons this year, and some are wondering if the yacht cup, held here since 1851, and the Davis tennis cup, won by McLoughlin and Hackett last year, are also to be taken away by British sportsmen and athletes this year.

NEW CHURCH IS NOW CERTAINTY KENO POWER CO. HARRIMAN LODGE SUED IN COURT TO RE-OPEN SOON

MANY DETAILS REGARDING THE ERECTION OF NEW EDIFICE DISCUSSED BY PRESBYTERIANS AT MEETING

While the question of a site for its location was not decided upon at last night's meeting, the members of the congregation of the First Presbyterian church discussed the erection of a new church from many angles. It is the unanimous opinion that the present church, erected many years ago, is too small for the congregation.

At the conclusion of the meeting last night refreshments were served by the men of the congregation.

Many Crescent people are here to testify in the matter.

TOMASSI AMBROGETTI DEMANDS $400 DAMAGES FOR ABROGATION OF A CONTRACT BY KERN'S BROTHERS

Suit to recover $400 damages against the Keno Power company was commenced in the circuit court this morning by Tomassi Ambrogetti, a local stone mason. He is represented by W. H. A. Renner.

Ambrogetti alleges that the $400 represents his profits on a contract for the erection of foundation, head-gates, penstocks, etc., for the power company at its Keno plant. The company, he alleges, asked him to do the work, and entered into a contract, whereby he was to receive $1,500 for the work.

It is alleged that after Ambrogetti had hired men and expended money to prepare to do the work the company abrogated the agreement.

W. PAUL JOHNSON HAS ONE YEAR LEASE ON RESORT, AND SAN FRANCISCO HOTEL MAN IS IN CHARGE OF IT

With W. Paul Johnson as lessee and Frank Daniels, former manager of the Sutter hotel, in charge, Harriman Lodge, on Upper Klamath Lake, will soon be opened to summer tourists, fishermen, etc. Daniels is now at the Lodge making arrangements for its re-opening.

According to Johnson, this will be the last year that the resort, which was selected as a summer home by the late E. H. Harriman, will be open to the public. Hereafter, those owning the property will use it as a private resort. Johnson had difficulty in securing a lease this year, and was called to San Francisco recently because of a threatened breaking of the agreement.

BREITENSTEIN IS NOW MARRIED MAN

LOCAL LUMBERMAN TAKES MINNESOTA GIRL FOR BRIDE, WHILE SOJOURNING IN CALIFORNIA

You girls who have been wont to cast longing eyes at the stalwart form of Dick Breitenstein, who has sighed when you heard his name mentioned—you have waited too long when you figured that 1916 would be leap year, and a girl who has never seen Klamath county has captured him.

Advices have been received from San Francisco of the wedding of Richard Breitenstein and Mamie Peterson. The bride is from Parkers Prairie, Minnesota.

This wedding comes as a complete surprise to the many friends of the young lumberman, as it was conceded here that his heart was strictly immune from any effects of D. Cupe's arrows.

VILLA-CARRANZA TROUBLE ENDED; NO EXCITEMENT

HUERTISTAS SAY AMERICA IS PARTIAL

White House Today for the First Time Admits That There is a Possibility That the Mediation Proceedings May Be a Failure—Administration is Pleased at the Clearing Up of the Rebel Trouble.

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, June 18.—It is believed here that Villa's demonstration, as a result of which he won his point from Carranza, and will lead the rebel forces against Zacatecas, has clarified the situation. It shows who controls the military forces, and it is believed that it means that the successor to Huerta will use military rule.

United Press Service

EL PASO, June 18.—There is no excitement or bitterness as a result of the ending of the Villa-Carranza affair between partisans in Juárez, Torreon correspondents close to Villa say he recognizes Carranza as the political chief.

Americans arriving from Chihuahua say there is no excitement there, and nothing to indicate a counter-revolution had been planned.

The attack on Zacatecas begins not later than Sunday, Villa in supreme command. It has been inferred that Carranza has ordered General Natera, recently named over Villa, to report to Villa.

United Press Service

NIAGARA, June 18.—The Huerta delegates today publicly charge that America's insistence that a constitutionalist be named as provisional president is "tantamount to abetting, and even exacting fraud and violence in the elections."

The American delegates are preparing their reply. The gist of it is that it is necessary to install a constitutionalist at the head of the provisional government to prevent bloodshed.

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, June 18.—For the first time since mediation began, the White House today admitted that mediation may be a failure. Hope has not been abandoned by Wilson, but the publishing of their side in the negotiations by the Huertistas is regarded unfavorably.

ORDER SIMMONS RELEASED TODAY

MAN WANTED IN KLAMATH FALLS ON A SERIOUS CHARGE IS TURNED LOOSE IN WYOMING TODAY

Following the refusal of Governor West to issue requisition for John Simmons, wanted here for deserting his wife, Sheriff Low today telegraphed the officers at Sheridan, Wyoming, to release the prisoner. This was upon the advice of District Attorney Irwin.

It was a more serious crime than desertion that Simmons would have been tried for, had Sheriff Low been given requisition for his return. There is strong evidence to show that he is a bigamist.

Simmons, who is the son of prominent Douglas county people, married Mrs. Lily DeHay in this city January 7th. A few months afterwards he deserted her. Since that time, it is said, it has been found that Simmons had a wife in Portland at the time he married here.

Besides the wife in Portland and Mrs. Simmons here, it is said that Simmons had another woman living with him on his homestead, sixty miles from Sheridan, Wyoming, when he was arrested. The Portland woman, it is understood, was anxious to come here and testify for the state in case Simmons was returned here for trial.

Today he declined being transferred to another reservation, and stated that he has left the Indian service. He will move his family here and reside in Klamath Falls.

ENTIRE SUPREME JUDGE VOTE TO BE RE-CHECKED

CANVASSING BOARD WILL MEET TODAY

In Order to Settle Definitely the Long Drawn Out Race, Secretary of State Orders Complete Re-Check—Judge Benson Leaves for Salem in Answer to Urgent Telegrams—Letter From Olcott Regarding Situation.

Late this afternoon the official re-check of Klamath county's vote for supreme court candidates was completed by Snowgoose, Gowen and De Lap. Aside from the discrepancies noted a few days ago, which gave Benson four votes, no other errors were found.

Justice of the Peace H. Snowgoose of Keno, Justice of the Peace E. W. Gowen and Deputy County Clerk C. F. DeLap, will this afternoon commence a re-check of the votes cast for all candidates for justice of the supreme court at the republican primary May 15th. This comes as the result of the following order, sent to all the county clerks in the state by Secretary of State Ben W. Olcott:

"By reason of the fact that the county clerks of a number of the counties of the state advised the secretary of state that errors were made in the official canvass in their counties of the vote cast at the primary nominating election May 15, 1914, for candidates of the republican party for nomination for the office of justice of the supreme court, and that on account thereof the official canvass by the secretary of state, in the presence of the governor and the state treasurer, of the vote cast for candidates for nomination to said office was deferred to a future date, pending the furnishing of the county clerks of the several counties of the state of amended abstracts of the votes cast by members of the republican party for candidates for nomination for the office of justice of the supreme court at the said primary nominating election of May 15, 1914, you will, in accordance therewith, be pleased to re-canvass, as provided in Section 2377, Lord's Oregon Laws, as amended by Chapter 204, General Laws of Oregon, 1914, the votes cast at said election by members of the republican party, for candidates for nomination for the office of justice of the supreme court and immediately make an amended abstract of the votes given for candidates for nomination for said office in your county and transmit a duly certified copy thereof by mail to the secretary of state at Salem, Oregon.

"The importance of this matter demands your immediate attention." Circuit Judge Benson, who has been sawing with Justice Military for nomination for over a month, left this morning for Salem, in response to telegraphic summons received last night. It is believed that the judge will remain in the capital until the result of the official re-check is known, and the nomination settled.

Montague Is to Play Local Team Sunday

Montague vs. Klamath Falls.

This will be the contest staged at Modoc Point Sunday afternoon, according to announcement made this afternoon by Manager "Scoop" Duhl of the Klamath Falls Invincibles. Duhl has been at work for several days to secure this game.

From what travelers returning from afar have to say, the Klamath Falls team will find the Montague aggregation much more difficult to down than were the Chiloquin Engineers and the Sicca Braves. The little town where one gets off for Yreka is said to harbor some REAL baseball talent this season, and has trimmed Etna Mills, McCleod and other towns around there.

Wright, Montague's phenomenal pitcher of last season, is still with the team. He will be used in the best in the game here Sunday.

The Klamath Falls team is practicing nightly. In addition the diamond is being put into tip-top condition for Sunday's game.

Farm Experts Are to Hold Meetings Here

Dr. Hector McPherson and Prof. W. L. Powers, both of the Oregon Agricultural College, will arrive Monday to begin their series of illustrated lectures to the farmers of the Klamath Basin.

Dr. McPherson will lecture on "Agricultural Credit Associations." He will base his opinions and observations on conditions as he has found them, both in this country and in Europe.

The two farm experts will lecture at Merrill Monday night, at Malin on Tuesday night, at Mt. Laki Wednesday night and at Miller Hill Thursday night.

It is probable that Professor Powers will arrange to spend the rest of the week in this vicinity. If such arrangements can be made, Max A. McCull, county agricultural agent, will publish a program later in the week, giving dates and places for the Powers lectures.
