CATTLE AND HOGS REMAINED FIRM ALL WEEK AT THE UNION STOCKYARDS, AND DEMAND KEEN FOR GOOD STOCK

(Herald Special Service)

PORTLAND, June 23.—Cattle prices were steady to firm all week. Receipts were of fair volume, especially during the first half of the period. Good grass steers sold at from $7.25 to $7.50, and light hay stuff at $7.75. The butcher trade was slow, due to inferior stuff offering.

The hog market maintained its strength throughout the week, with buying demand keen and outlet strong. Extreme top at week's close was $8.10, with bulk going around $c and $8.05.

The sheep house was a very snappy department, with a steady call for smooth, fat mutton and lambs. The feature was fancy yearlings at $4.75 and $5. Ewes ranged from $4 to $4.25. Lamb buying was on a $c basis, and the trade could have used more than was offering.

Farm Expert in Jackson

The county court has signed a contract with M. P. Henderson of the University of Wisconsin to act as county horticultural and agricultural expert, co-operating with the state in the studying and combating of plant diseases, under the direction of the Oregon Agricultural College.—Medford Mail-Tribune.

Must Clean Up

Chief of Police Porter has been authorized to notify the proprietors of Ashland's meat markets that all unwholesome odors emanating from their establishments must be eliminated at once or the powers of the state board of health will be invoked.—Ashland Record.

Creamery for Alturas

A move is under way that promises the establishment of a creamery in Alturas. Mr. Watson, a practical creamery man, has offered to erect and conduct a creamery at Alturas, provided a sufficient number of cows are pledged. He asks no bonus, or other favors of Alturas and vicinity, but that only a sufficient number of cows be pledged to insure a success of the enterprise.—Alturas Plain-dealer.

Skinned for Humanity

Seven Medford women, all well known in social and club circles, gave 150 square inches of skin from their bodies to aid in the skin grafting operation at the Sacred Heart Hospital this morning to save the life of little Sarah Green, aged three years, horribly burned while playing with fire at the 491 orchard three weeks ago.—Medford Mail Tribune.

The Kind Needed

Among the recent arrivals to Douglas county, a number of families of Germans are noticed who have settled in the neighborhood of Dixonville. The newspapers of the country may make all the jests they please about the war lord of Germany and his upturned moustache, but if we can secure enough of his citizens to come here and settle in any section of the county, it will only be a few years until that part is recognized as one of the garden spots and they will not be satisfied until they have good roads.—Roseburg News.

At the end of 1912 there were 2,619,891 bee hives in Germany, more than half of these being in Prussia. Silesia leads in the Prussian province with 187,264, and of all the non-Prussian states, only Bavaria has more. The province of Posen counted 122,795.

The buying of a diamond is an investment. Quality counts. A poor diamond is like a "plug" horse; everybody knows it. I have some stones of fine color and quality. If you are in the market for a fine stone I'd like to quote you a price.

MODOC PULLS OVER A MILLION FEET OF LOGS—NEW HOMES AT SHIPPINGTON—OTHER INTERESTING NEWS NOTES

(Herald Special Service)

SHIPPINGTON, June 23.—By far and away the biggest tow ever moved on Upper Klamath Lake was handled by the steamer Modoc last week, when she moved 1,100,000 feet of logs from Odessa to Pelican City.

The select dances at St. Cloud are attended only by those having an invitation. The affairs are strictly formal, but we have good times.

G. W. Thornton, Mr. Rowley and Winter Knight have each built a home in Shippington. Mr. Knight is just putting the finishing touches on a new sailing yacht. The craft will have a 4 h.p. auxiliary engine in case of calm. Mr. Knight is a good shipbuilder and a smart navigator. If his boat shows any great speed he may send a challenge to Sir Thomas Lipton.

The steamer Mazama recently brought down fourteen tons of hay from Wood River points. Captain Taylor reports lots of water in Wood River and navigation good except for some sunken logs.

The Most Important Thing in Camp

In the July Woman's Home Companion C. H. Claudy writes a little article entitled "Frank's First Camp," in which he describes the best way to live in a tent. It is a practical article, full of valuable suggestions for campers. Following is an extract.

"The most important thing to learn in camp is not to drink water you don't know about. The river looks good, but it may be full of all sorts of invisible filth. Spring water is usually all right. But when you don't know your water, boil it and cool it before you can drink it. You can't be a good camper and neglect your own body."
