Wilson Pleads for Discretion.

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—The administration is bringing pressure to prevent a break between Carranza and Villa. The junta sent for Wilson code messages to both, pleading with them not to break until the revolution is ended.

Nevertheless a new revolution is feared.

If Carranza and Villa split, the powers will undoubtedly demand that America protect the foreigners in Mexico.

TORREON, June 30.—The break between Villa and Carranza is thought to be most serious.

Villa has wired Carranza that he is tired of the treatment that he and his fighting followers have received, and will not fight until all differences are settled.

Carranza has replied that a commission is en route from Monterrey to Torreon to confer with Villa's representatives and to settle all the differences, if possible. They will confer here or at San Pedro Friday or Saturday.

EL PASO, Texas, June 30.—It is believed here that the Villa-Carranza quarrel is most acute. It is openly stated in Jaurez that Villa may break entirely away from Carranza and start an independent revolution.

It is learned from authoritative persons that Villa has issued an ultimatum to Carranza that operations in the field have ceased pending a reply.

The ultimatum is couched in most vigorous language. It demands that a supply of ammunition be sent immediately from Tampico, and a demand that the Carranzistas allow Villa to use the railroads in Carranza territory.

Heretofore the Carranzistas have refused to permit the use of their lines, and have frequently held up shipments going to the front.

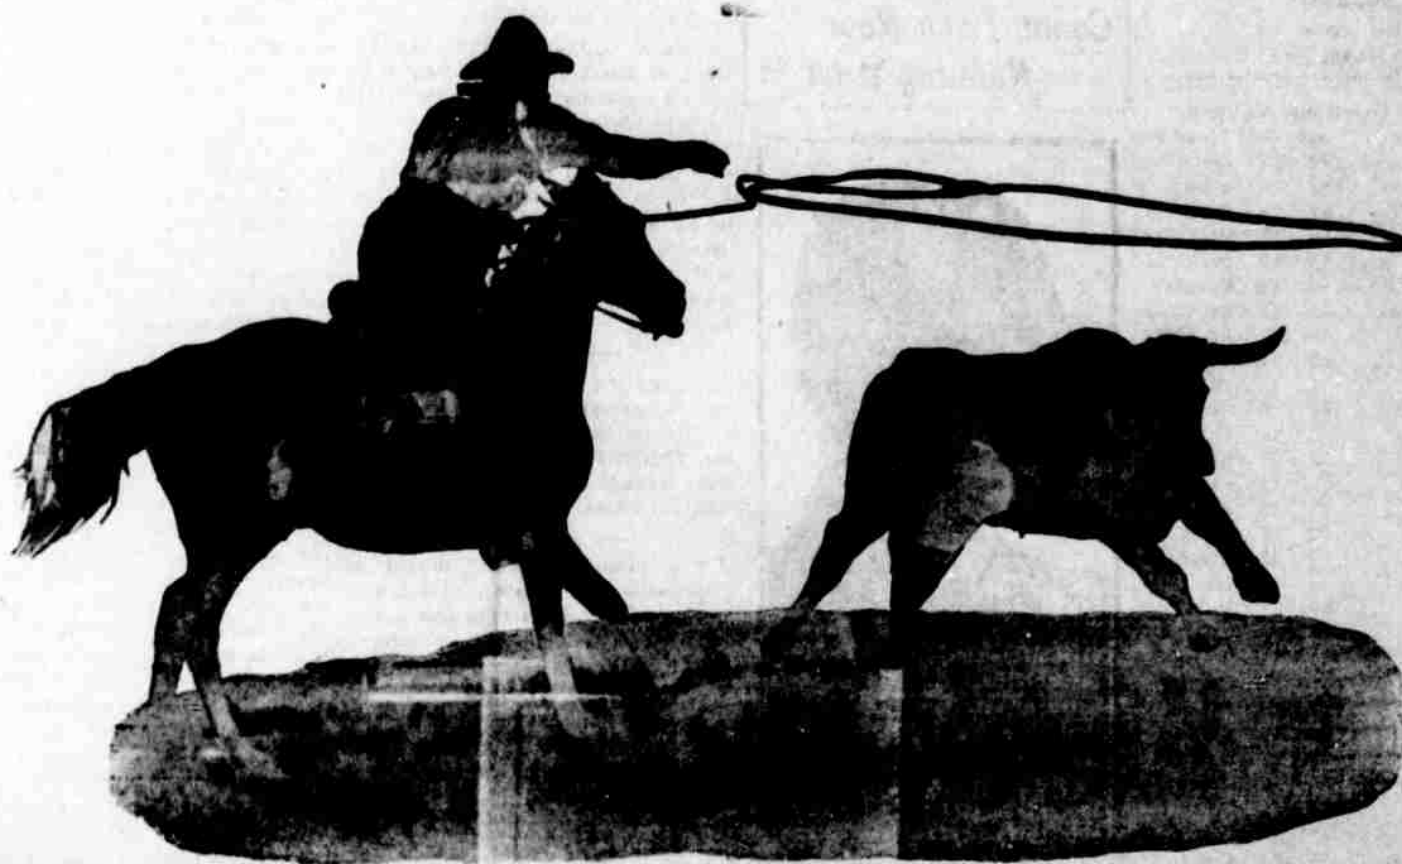

A TON OF SALT BY PARCEL POST

SHIPMENT COMES IN FROM MT.
HEBRON AND LEAVES TODAY
FOR STRAW, CAL.—IS HAULED
BY STAGE

Some wondered this morning why two extra horses were used on the Merrill stage. It was learned that the parcel post was responsible, and that in this case, the shipment was a ton of salt.

The salt, in 50-pound sacks, came in last night from Mt. Hebron, consigned to a ranch at Straw, Calif., which is southeast of Tule Lake and south of Cornell postoffice. The salt will be hauled the entire distance by the stages having the mail contracts.

BUDA PESTE, June 30.—Over 200 have been killed and twice that number wounded at Mostar, Herzegovina today in a battle between Serbians and Mohammedan Croats over the assassination of Grand Duke Franz Ferdinand.

It is reported that the city of Mostar is burning. Dispatches to Buda Peste say the Croats attacked the Serbian quarters bearing banners emblazoned with "Death to the Murderous Serbians."

Young Serbians opposed the program of the marchers, precipitating the battle.

For a while it seemed the Serbians would be victorious, but new herds of Croats joined in the battle, which was carried on from the rooftops, and finally the flames were started, and could not be extinguished.

It is impossible at this time to estimate the casualties.

Big Parade for 4th

Will Be Historical, Commercial and Fraternal

One of the big features of the Rodeo will be the opening parade on Friday morning. According to members of the Rodeo Amusement Association.

In the line of march there will be two brass bands, the Klamath Falls and the Weed bands. Besides this some of the stirring old strains may be rendered by Captain Ramsby's fife and drum corps.

The procession will also revive the spirit of the Old West. There will be old prairie schooners and stage coaches, and the ribbons over the four and six horse teams will be handled by "Uncle Jerry" Martin, John Schallack, Captain Applegate and others.

er pioneers, who were big factors in the early days.

Besides these modes of travel, the pack train, so common in Klamath's early history, will be present. There will also be Indians, cowboys and other Western characters.

Nearly every business house in town will have a float in the parade. A prize has been offered for the best decorated. There will also be a big number of decorated automobiles in the line of march.

All of the lodges of the city will be asked to participate, and the fraternal section promises to be one of the most interesting. The Klamath Falls and Weed baseball teams will also turn out.

Four Police Officers

Mayor and Council Clash Over Size of the Force

The city's regular police force will consist of four patrolmen for the summer months at least. This was decided at last night's meeting of the council, after Mayor Nicholas and members of the council had a little "run in" on the question.

At the meeting Nicholas named Frank Wilson for another year as patrolman, to serve until June, 1915. This appointment was confirmed. He then appointed Patrolman M. M. Obenchain for a like term, and Owens moved its confirmation. This was lost for want of a second.

Rogers then stated that the four-man police force was not needed as much as other things. He suggested the using of the fourth man's salary for the improvement of the Shippington road, or some other needed improvement.

"The mayor has the authority to appoint and discipline the police force and I am trying to give the city the best protection possible," said Mayor Nicholas. "We have money appropriated for the payment of a fourth man, and I believe we should use it for this purpose. If a fire should break out in the night and not be discovered by a watchman, there would be a greater loss to the city than the salary of the fourth policeman."

"Despite all that could be done, the city would be short of protection with three policemen. The police are already working overtime to patrol the city, and there is a provision in the charter that one must be at the railroad station when the train comes in. This would take still another man from the street in the early evening hours. It is impossible for two night men and one day man to patrol the town."

"I think you are making a mistake in opposing this appointment. I want to enter a protest, and to go on record to that effect. It is not giving a fair deal to the city, myself and the people who have a right to demand protection."

"I am willing to take the cussing, and the police will take their share, but at the same time, all of the people want police protection. Especially is it bad to cut down the force at this time, when there are so many transients."

Members of the council evidently felt in accord with the mayor on the need of a larger force at this time of the year, for after he changed the Obenchain appointment from a year to an indefinite time, the council, with the exception of Rogers, confirmed appointment.
