Maerlinck Working in Field as a Farm Hand Now

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Maurice Maerlinck a farm hand! Save the mark! but that is the present employment of the wonderful Maerlinck. He is working in the fields, reaping and stacking wheat, alongside a peasant woman and peasant boys and girls. The picture of the great Belgian poet, thinker and writer of whom is the greatest spirit of modern times, working in the field was sent here by the Boston correspondent of the London Morning Post, who happened upon him as he passed through the outskirts of the place. Maerlinck is 59 years of age, and therefore not available as a soldier. "Since I could not go to fight," said the poet, simply, "I felt I must do something, anything, what was nearest. The harvest, you see, had to be got in." He was almost apologetic about it. "As soon as Belgium was drawn in by the madness of the age-manipulated by the madmen of the age."

PEKIN, Sept. 22.—Chinese officials at Shantung peninsula telegraph the government headquarters today to the effect that Japanese troops are besieging the fortified German positions in Kiau Chau. They say the Japanese lost heavily when the Germans detonated mines in the ground over which the Nipponese were advancing. It is said that an entire battalion of Japanese infantry was completely wiped out, and other commands somewhat demoralized.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Experts are awaiting for the announcement that the German line is withdrawn to positions just inside the French northern border. It is admitted that the battle will probably last at least two days more. Experts believe that at least a part of the German force has already retired to new positions along the Sambre.

May Enter the Ring.
Earl Ritchie left this morning for San Francisco, where he will work this winter. Incidentally, Ritchie, who is 18 years old, and weighs 185 pounds, will train at the Olympic Club, and it is believed that he will speedily develop into an exceptionally clever heavyweight boxer. A "white hope" claiming Klamath Falls for his home wouldn't be half bad.

Commander Whose Army Is Turned

General Alexander von Kluck

GERMAN RIGHT IN TIGHT FIX

United Press Service
BORDEAUX, Sept. 22.—The war office today positively announced that the flank of the German right wing has been turned by the allies, and that as a result, General von Kluck's command is in danger of isolation. It is stated that reinforcements are rushing toward von Kluck from Belgium, but will be unable to assist his retreat or prevent his being encircled.

The British and French outnumber the von Kluck command two to one. Over a million allies are engaged in the heavy line, and hold that number more are in reserve.

Since yesterday, the turning movement of the allies has continued, and official reports state that now that the German right has been definitely turned, the allies are making tremendous assaults to divide the enemy and isolate the southernmost forces. The weather has modified, and this permits the allies to work faster.

United Press Service
PARIS, Sept. 22.—Experts take the report of the "turning" as meaning that the allies have pushed von Kluck's army out of alignment with the rest of the German front. It is believed this will necessitate the retirement of other German armies, or their taking a chance of being enveloped.

The left wing of the allies is steadily progressing against von Kluck's command. The allies' left, by determined and at times hard to hand fighting, succeeded in gaining ten miles along the right bank of the Oise. This movement (the enveloping one) is progressing as planned by General Joffre.

WEST ASSURED OF GETTING AID IN HIS WORK HERE

Mayor Nicholas and District Attorney Irwin say They Cannot See Where Investigation Is Needed Here, But They Both Invite West to Look Around If He Wants to, and Promise to Aid Him in It.

If Governor West wishes to make an investigation of conditions in Klamath Falls, he will have the mayor's office and the district attorney's office at his command, should he desire their services in any way. This is the way the two officials here received letters of inquiry from West also up the matter.

Mayor Nicholas today stated that he would write to the governor, stating that he knew of no violation of the law here, such as Mrs. Moore alleged, and for that reason thought an investigation unnecessary. He entreated the governor to investigate if he wishes to, though, and promise to give whatever aid the governor asks.

"So far as the district attorney's office is concerned, Governor West can investigate here as much as he pleases. We will be glad to give him every assistance in this work that he desires," says Prosecuting Attorney Irwin today. Irwin received a letter from West which was apparently a copy of the one sent to Mayor Nicholas.

A speech by Rollo C. Greenback on the duties of the Oregon voter regarding the fundamental duties of the citizen as proposed by the people, the duty of the "bucket social" type of political campaigning, etc., was given at last night's meeting of the Klamath Literary Club. In addition three well rendered solos by Mrs. Bert C. Thomas were enjoyed.

"Pigs Is Pigs."
Even in motion pictures, Ellis Park's Butler's great story, "Pigs Is Pigs," is bristling with dirt and mirth, as evidenced by the continuous laughter at the Temple Theater last evening, when this was shown on the screen. In the role of the entrepreneur agent, John Bauer, as usual, keeps the house in an uproar. The picture will be shown again this evening, and undoubtedly another will be a Pigeon news film, showing the French engineers in action at the front.

Preparing the Petitions

Half-Mill Levy Question to Be Placed on the Ballot

If you are interested in the proper exploitation of Klamath county, don't sidestep Captain J. P. Lee and the petition he is circulating.

If you glimpse Colonel M. G. Wilkins approaching you with his winning smile and a voluminous document in his grasp, do not break and run, gentle reader, unless you are "strictly agin" it's proposed half mill levy to raise a Klamath county public fund. The signatures of a big per cent of the voters are necessary to get this measure on the November ballot by initiative petition—hence the activity of the colonel and the captain.

At an informal meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon, the necessity for taking action at once was brought out. A half mill levy, it is expected, will raise about $8,000. There is urgent need of Klamath county taking such a measure at this time. The Panama-Pacific International exposition is almost at hand, and to support the proper kind of home system, it is vital that the pro-

COPS ARE AFTER THE SPEED FIEND

STOP WATCHES IN THE HANDS OF PATROLMEN RESULT IN THE APPREHENSION OF THREE AUTOISTS AND MOTORCYCLISTS

As the autoists and motorcyclists are showing signs of disregard for the speed ordinances, the police department is making an investigation, and the time of a number of cars has been taken as they sped along. Stopwatches are handy things in this respect, say the police.

Lee Illy was stopped as he rode his motorcycle Monday night and ordered to appear to answer to a charge of exceeding the speed limit. He paid a $5 fine.

Austin White was arrested Tuesday for driving his auto faster than the law permits. This morning he paid $5 into the municipal exchequer.

Will Lee was another speeder on Tuesday, and was stopped by Patrolmen Walker and Wilson. He paid $5 in Judge Leavitt's court.

It was on a similar charge that Walker and Wilson ordered Ed H. Dunham to appear in Police court Sunday.
