

BOTH SIDES RUSH RE-INFORCEMENTS

German Right Still Being Hammered; Center Unchanged

ANTWERP NEAR CAPTURE; ALLIES RUSHING TROOPS

SEVERAL OUTSIDE FORTS ARE DESTROYED

American Consul General Secures Promise That Germans Will Not Fire on City's Public Buildings...

LONDON, Oct. 5.—It is believed certain that the Germans have "smothered" the St. Catherine, Wavre and Walheim forts at the extreme southern end of Antwerp's line of defenses.

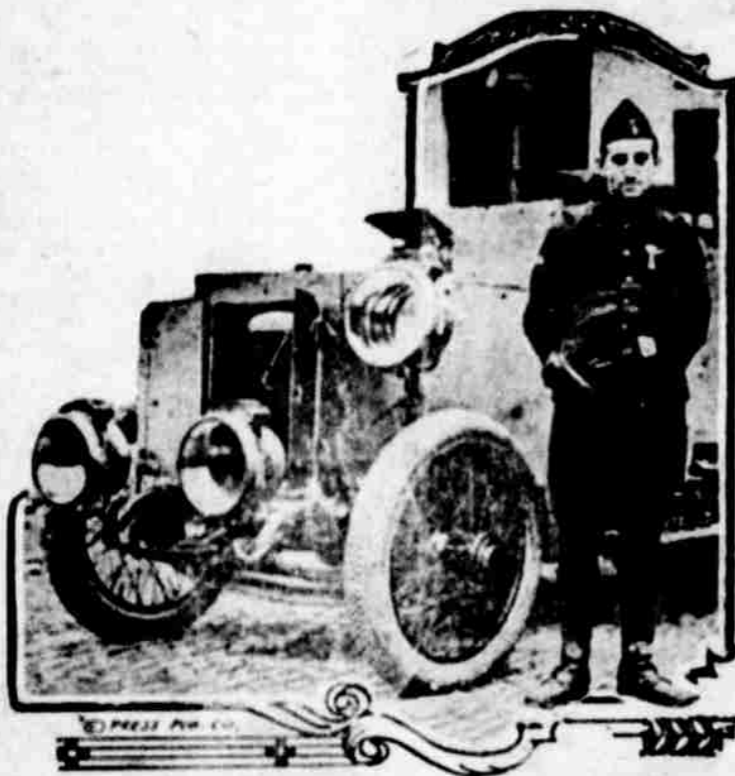

The belief is growing that unless the allies soon raise the siege the Germans will capture the city.

Late Antwerp dispatches indicate there are British troops there. This may be some of the Canadian regiments.

ANTWERP, Oct. 5.—"The situation is excellent, every fort is in action," is the statement given out by the war office today.

It is reported that American Consul General Ethelbert Watts has urged the German commander to spare the Belgian historic buildings.

PORTUGAL NEXT TO PARTICIPATE, SAYS GERMANY

BERLIN ALSO REPORTS INDIANS AMONG THE ALLIES

German War Office Statement Says the Germans Are Gaining Decisively With Their Right Wing in France, and That the Allies Lines Have Been Pierced in Several Places by Teutons.

BERLIN, (via wireless), Oct. 5.—Portugal, it is believed, is preparing to aid the allies. Late maritime advices show that a number of British steamers have reached Lisbon.

It is reported that they are to be used to transport Portuguese troops to the battle front in France.

It is learned that the British East India regiments have been landed at Marseilles. They are rushing to the front to reinforce the British.

The latest war office statement says the German right is gaining decisively in France.

The allies flanking operations have been checked, and at several points in the west the lines have been pierced and the French driven to their trenches.

All armies are fighting furiously.

CHATAUQUA NOW CERTAIN; FIFTY BACK THE MOVE

ORGANIZATION IS TO BE EFFECTED SOON

Six Day Session Will Be Held Here Next Summer, the Meeting to Be Held in a Large Tent, With Programs Afternoon and Evening, and a Change of Talent Every Two Days—All Elated.

The Klamath Falls Chautauqua Assembly is a reality.

Sufficient men and women interested in the holding of such an educational and entertaining event here next summer were found in two days of canvassing, in fact more than enough were found, and still more names are being added.

A list of those supporting the organization follows:

- Elder S. D. Harlan, O. A. Sterns, W. E. Faught, M. D. Coates, Bessie B. Applegate, V. T. Motschenbacher, Marion Hanks, Fred Peterson, E. C. Chandler, E. V. Hawley, J. D. Right, Ed. Sutton, J. G. Smetzer, E. E. Cole, Leslie Rogers, E. L. Elliott, A. Noller, J. W. Siemens, W. S. Slough, A. R. Campbell, W. H. Shaw, W. E. Seehorn, Rev. J. S. Stubblefield, Herbert D. Gale, J. C. Smith, Dr. W. R. Boyd, Miss Edna Wells, Dr. C. E. Wheeler, E. E. Magee, C. A. Davis, O. E. Willey, George J. Walton, J. B. Mason, G. W. White, Mrs. M. J. Beebe, C. C. Hogue, A. Oehler, Mith Ethel Gross, Miss Laura Bice, Dr. F. M. White, A. Y. Tindall, E. M. Chilcote, Earl Whitlock, J. B. Griffith, George A. Haydon, Charles F. Stone, John Hagelstein, Charles Mack, Roy Kinsman, U. E. Reeder, Dr. George Merryman, Dr. C. V. Fisher, John Shepherd.

In a short time, organization of a Chautauqua Association will be perfected by the supporters of the movement. They will also take up arrangements for the six day "feast of reason and flow of soul" to be held here.

Elder S. D. Harlan, who has been working for an assembly here, reports that he encountered a good deal of opposition owing to the ill-fated attempt at a Chautauqua in 1912.

The bureau conducts Chautauqua assemblies in sixty different Western cities, many of them in Oregon. It is through this co-operation, and the booking and circuit system adopted that it is possible to secure high class entertainers, lecturers and musicians for the assemblies.

Meetings will be held in a big tent. It has been found that this is much cooler and much more satisfactory than a hall. There will be afternoon and evening sessions, with talent changed every other day.

For photographers' use in dark rooms there has been devised a lamp carrying several different colored glasses in a wheel in front of its opening, so any colored light can be obtained when desired.

To protect the eyes of motorists at night from glaring headlights, goggles have been invented, the upper portions of the lenses of which are of dark amber glass.

BOTH SIDES ARE RUSHING RESERVE FORCES TO FRONT

BRITISH COLONIALS ARE NOW IN ACTION

Reports indicate that Kaiser is doing the same, but the reports from Paris are to the effect that the German right is being driven back, while the fighting along the Meuse has been changed.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Extraordinary reinforcing of the German left indicates that the Kaiser realizes the prime importance of the army's spirit in holding the present lines.

All the Indian and Colonial British troops, with the exception of the Canadians are reported at the front. The whereabouts of the Canadian regiment is a mystery.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—The Germans continue to drain their fighting units elsewhere to reinforce von Kluck and von Boehm at the extreme right, still bearing the brunt of the fight.

The battle north of the Oise continues vigorously, but the outcome is uncertain. Both sides are constantly reinforcing.

Strongly reinforced, the allies are extending their lines north of Arras, driving the German right eastward.

Schoolchildren to Be Rewarded for Best Letters

In the interest of education, the newspapers of the county will conduct a Letter Contest through the public schools, offering awards to the pupils and students writing the best letters to friends or relatives residing outside of Klamath county.

It is to open at once, and to close December 1st. All letters are to be mailed to the Chamber of Commerce, from where they will be forwarded to the proper judges, who are to be selected from the teaching staff of the county.

Honor, glory, gold, awaits the winners. Not much gold—but enough to make Christmas a little more happy for the fortunate contestants.

The Mutual Girl and Her Auntie

Mr. C. J. Garland and his two boys will be in Klamath Falls soon. They are known as "Daddy and His Boys" in the advertising field, and they will feature a new plan of advertising for The Herald—one that will be right up-to-the-minute in special advertising.

The Herald has made all necessary arrangements with "Daddy," and will feature this plan exclusively in this paper.

"Daddy and His Boys" come to this paper with the highest recommendations as to their clean, good methods of doing business, and with a large and varied experience in promulgating new, attractive and special features. Today, more than ever before, newspaper advertising, if featured correctly, is the one best winner in so-called publicity, and "Daddy and His Boys" have many of these new features to show, explain and interest the business people of our city.

"Daddy" wants every business concern in this live, splendid little city to keep their eye on his advertising talks, whether you advertise or not (that's up to you). You may learn something to your advantage.

Those Who Failed to Attend Missed Excellent Show

The livestock exhibit, housed in Ryan's barn, was unexcelled this fall. This took in many exhibits, and the judges, C. T. Oliver of Klamath Falls and Doc Caldwell and Bob Dalton of Merrill, had hard work in deciding some of the awards.

- Best stallion—Sisemore & Felton. Best beef cow—L. C. Sisemore. Best beef steer—Dan Ryan, first and second prizes. Best ram—James Felton, first and second. Best ewe—Johnnie Moon. Best mule team—Will Nickerson, first and second. Best draft team—Mr. Pyland. Best pen Duroc hogs—Mr. Pyland. The poultry exhibits were judged by Mrs. Caleb T. Oliver.
