

ENGLAND STIRRED BY STAND TAKEN BY BELGIAN KING

AS RESULT, MORE TROOPS ARE ENLISTED

Dispatch From Berlin Says that All of Belgium is Now Controlled by the German Forces—Chancellor Leaves to Confer With Kaiser Wilhelm Regarding the Government of That District.

United Press Service

LONDON, Oct. 17.—England is stirred by the declaration of King Albert of Belgium that neither he or the queen will accept asylum, and that the Belgian army will continue its resistance to the last.

The Belgian king will be prayed for everywhere tomorrow.

It is expected that this will result in England rushing another expedition to the continent.

Preparations of British recruits is being rushed, so it is believed that another force will soon be sent across the channel.

The principal difficulty heretofore was that supplies were lacking, and that the most efficient quartermasters who were in the front, were needed here. Lord Kitchener is supervising the reorganization of this department, and it is furnishing equipment and supplies much more rapidly.

United Press Service

BERLIN, (via The Hague), Oct. 17.—The war office announces that the Germans in Belgium have effected a junction with the right wing of the army in France, and that the situation everywhere is improving.

It is announced that Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg has gone to general staff headquarters from Antwerp to report to the kaiser. It is expected that this will result in the announcement of a new plan for the government of Belgium.

It is announced that Belgium is now entirely in German hands.

"Sugar Bowl" Enlarges.

It was a highly pleased assemblage that left the "Sugar Bowl" today, after enjoying their first lunch there, for Manager Garrick has just installed a steam table, and is now serving hot electrically cooked lunches, both at noon and in the evening. The new department has scored a distinct hit.

Detective Is Now at Work on Stories, Book

Detectives, once they attain renown, are no different from baseball players and other idols. It appears, for announcement has just been made that William J. Burns, the sleuth who unearthed the Oregon land fraud cases, the San Francisco graft cases, the McNamara dynamiting, and interested in graft investigations in many states, has entered the literary field.

WOMEN'S MEET GREAT SUCCESS

HALF THE INITIATIVE MEASURES WERE DISCUSSED FRIDAY, AND ANOTHER MEETING TIME IS ARRANGED

Even the expectations of those in charge were surpassed by the success of the women's meeting at the Women's Library Club Friday afternoon, when the initiative measures to be voted upon in November were discussed. Half of the measures were taken up, and some lively discussions ensued, which served to clarify much of the red tape surrounding some of the bills.

Mrs. Robert E. Wattenburg was chairman of the meeting, and quite a number took part in the discussions. The entire meeting was a great success, and was full of interest for all, so much so, that another meeting has been arranged for next Thursday afternoon, when other measures will be up for discussion.

All women are invited to attend.

AMERICANS HURT BY SHOOTING OF MEXICAN TROOPS

FOUR CAVALRYMEN ARE AMONG THE WOUNDED

In Addition to the Soldiers, Three Civilians Are Shot—Fighting is Resumed This Morning by the Villa and Carranza Troops at Naco—Carranza Forces Still Holding That Border City.

United Press Service

NACO, Oct. 17.—Four American cavalrymen and three civilians were wounded today by bullets fired by Mexican belligerents battling at Naco, just opposite.

Of the wounded, Private Robert Wathan of Troop A, Ninth cavalry, was shot through the stomach, and may die. Another seriously wounded trooper is Private Daniel Wakefield, of Troop E, Ninth cavalry.

The other wounded troopers are of the Tenth cavalry, and are Sergeant Nathan Smith and Private Ponce McCarver.

United Press Service

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Oct. 17.—Pierce fighting was resumed between the Villa and Carranza forces today at Naco, Sonora, just across the river from Naco, Ariz. Messages from the American towns say that many bullets are falling on the American side of the border, and that four persons were struck in the American town.

Carranza's forces still hold the Naco defenses.

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 17.—Governor Hunt of Arizona has asked permission of the state department to establish a hospital on the American side for the benefit of the Mexican wounded.

The department refused to countenance the plan except in the case of Mexicans when wounded and abandoned.

JOHN TABOR SURPRISES HIS LOCAL FRIENDS BY BRINGING A BRIDE HERE FROM THE FROZEN NORTH

"Well, John struck it lucky in Alaska this summer," says "Dad" Tabor, commenting upon the return of his son, John Tabor, from the salmon fishing grounds north of Ketchikan, where John owns a successful fleet of fishing boats.

"Dad" has particular reference to Mrs. John Tabor, who joined fortunes with John this summer in Alaska. The bride, in the two days she has been here, has already made a splendid impression upon those she has met, and the returned local boy is receiving hearty congratulations. The Tabor will spend the winter here.

MORE WAR TALK BEFORE CONGRESS

THIS TIME, FRANCE IS IN BAD, AS A RESULT OF BOARDING OF AMERICAN SHIP ON THE HIGH SEAS

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 17.—Senator Charles S. Thomas of Colorado today read in the senate a letter from R. W. Patterson of Colorado, vigorously protesting against the alleged boarding of the American steamer Metapan by a French cruiser's crew, and the reported arrest therefrom of five Germans bound for a neutral port.

Senator Stone, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, voiced a warning to the belligerents that they will be held responsible for such deeds, and that if interference with the rights of American citizens is indulged in, America will be forced to act.

OTHER PROJECTS ASKED TO BOOST

COPIES OF KLAMATH WATER USERS ASSOCIATION RESOLUTION THAT LANE'S WORK IS BENEFICIAL, TO BE SENT OUT

At the meeting of the water users in Merrill Saturday, resolutions were adopted lauding Secretary Lane for his efforts in behalf of the water users of the West, and giving the support of the people of the project to any promotion that might be given to him in the government service. The resolution was sent to President Wilson by the association.

Now a plan is under way to have similar resolutions drawn up by all of the projects, and submitted to the president. Steps toward this are already being taken.

SLIGHT BLAZE IN FORENOON

HOME OF DON LYTLE ON NINTH STREET IS THREATENED BY FIRE STARTING IN WOODBOX. WATER DAMAGE BIGGEST ITEM

Fire believed to have started in the kitchen woodbox called the fire department to the home of Don J. Lytle, on Ninth street, near Main, this morning.

The blaze had gained slight headway, and through the efforts of citizens before the fire department arrived, and a few minutes' work by the fire fighters, the conflagration was soon extinguished.

The loss caused by the fire was very small. Some of the rooms will have to be repaired, owing to the unavoidable damage from water.

Is Recovering.

Miss Stacey Bleha, who was operated upon for appendicitis and gallstones Wednesday by Dr. Hamilton, is recovering nicely, according to advice from the Blackburn hospital. She is past the danger mark.

Shepherd Will Write Another Series on War

Readers of the Herald will be glad to learn that another series of articles on the present great war, written by William G. Shepherd, will soon be published. The first of these will appear in Monday's Herald, written from Paris, and describing actual conditions there.

A few weeks ago a series of three articles by Mr. Shepherd on the causes of the present conflict were published. These attracted widespread attention, and the favorable comment received from all over the nation caused the United Press to request still further stories of this character from the gifted pen of Shepherd.

For the past three years Shepherd has been much in the eyes of the world. Following his wonderful story of the burning of the Triangle Shirt Factory in New York, he went to Mexico as the Mexico City representative of the United Press.

Shepherd has always been a rustler, and a man not to be contented with just the story as given out. He is like a curious boy with a watch—he must find out what is behind the face of it. For that reason, instead of remaining comfortably in Mexico City, rehashing the news that appeared in the local papers, he left an assistant to watch the capital, and spent some time making first hand investigations throughout the troublesome nation. The result was his masterly and authoritative articles, which opened the eyes of the world to true conditions to the south of us.

Shepherd's story on the landing of marines at Vera Cruz was a worldwide "best."

Fire Protection in Record Time in Lake

(Herald Special Service)
 PORTLAND, Oct. 17.—In reviewing the fire protection work of the past season, the district forester at Portland announces that some very efficient and speedy records have been made in reaching fires.

Perhaps the most striking instance of this speedy work occurred at a ranger station three-eighths of a mile from Silver Lake, Oregon.

CHANGES ALONG LINES ARE NOT OF IMPORTANCE

PETROGRAD REPORTS ANOTHER VICTORY

Allies Claim Advances Around Arras and the Occupation of Fleur Baix. British Report the Sinking of German Ships, and There is an Unconfirmed Rumor of Destruction of British Men-of-War

United Press Service

PARIS, Oct. 17.—The latest communique says that the allies have gained in the vicinity of Arras and the Mithel and now occupy the district around Armentieres and the village of Fleur Baix. It says the situation in general is little changed.

In the Ypres district there is no alteration in the lines. They generally remain as reported Thursday and Friday.

United Press Service

PETROGRAD, Oct. 17.—The German army, hard pressed, is in full retreat from Russian Poland, west of Warsaw, according to the war office, after a battle of eleven days, with enormous losses.

The office says the Russians retreated from their positions, leading the Germans into a trap. The artillery then decimated the enemy, who fled, abandoning equipage and an ammunition train.

United Press Service

LONDON, Oct. 17.—It is widely rumored, though not confirmed, that German submarines torpedoes and sunk the cruiser Invincible and the battleship North Sea yesterday. The official press bureau, at the instance of the admiralty, issued a statement discrediting this.

The British fleet sunk four German destroyers off the German coast, in the declaration of the official press bureau tonight. It is understood that the destroyers attacked the cruiser Undaunted while the latter was patrolling, and other British ships rushing up soon sent the four to the bottom.

W. U. Manager Leaves.

H. L. Giem, manager of the Western Union office here, left this morning for Klamath Falls, Mich., to be at the bedside of his mother, who is reported as approaching death.

The Department of Commerce issued a license to the Atlantic Communication company to operate the wireless station at Bayville, L. I., as a "limited public service station."

be given at 2:30 at the Library Club building, and is open to all.

Mr. Osborne is a university graduate, and has a nation wide reputation as a writer and lecturer. He was here last year, and his brilliant talks at that time are remembered by his audience as clear and forcible speeches.

"The Mutual Girl and Her Auntie"

Mr. Business man, remember one thing in your advertising, and that is this: No sale was ever made until a man was convinced.

And the result is, that you must make the person understand before he is convinced.

He cannot understand unless in the explanation he can understand what you mean, and the average human being has a considerable amount of pride.

We all dislike to own up to a thing we don't understand. I have had men explain things to me and say, "You understand that?" and I would nod my head.

It would be a reflection upon myself to do otherwise, and so I have kept on nodding my head, but when the explanation was finished I changed to a lateral instead of an up-and-down motion—that was all.

You cannot sell to anybody unless he understands what you are talking about.

Be sure your explanation is plain in your advertising. Just plain common sense talk in your advertising—two times two—because half of the people do not know technical terms.

Let us all be careful what we say in our letters and what we say in our advertising.

After we have written them down, they stand out in good cold type, and people will be very liable to misconstrue our meaning, and therefore, I say, be careful.

Read all the good things in The Herald Monday.
