

LINES DRAWING IN ALONG THE BATTLE FRONT

THE FIGHTING IS AGAIN BECOMING DESPERATE

Each Side Is Making Some Slight Gains at Points, But in the Main These Are Offset by Retirements at Other Points in the Battle—The Hague Reports French Sharpshooters Sniping Germans.

United Press Service
THE HAGUE, Oct. 23.—It is reported that the allies have completely cut off the German communications between Bruges and Ghent. Franco-troopers, or independent French sharpshooters, are reported operating behind the German lines, sniping off hundreds.

United Press Service
PARIS, Oct. 23.—It is reported that the Germans have withdrawn their advance line, which was expanded from Mariakerke to Middlekerke, because of the effective work of the guns of the British monitors.

The Germans are strongly entrenched east of the main highway connecting Ostend and Nieuport. Their fortified line runs from Willebroek to Thorouil, and the new German headquarters is reported located at Christalles.

Reports from the headquarters of General Gallieni indicate that there is no cessation in the fighting. The Germans continue their efforts to break the lines towards Nieuport and from Lille.

The Germans are desperately trying to break through the allies' lines in the vicinity of Arras as well as in the north. Indications are that the battle is not at the decisive stage.

On account of the ground not affording cover, the losses to both armies are enormous.

The last communique says that the gap between the allies' positions are closing.

The German attack continues very violent, and the various gains by the allies are being offset by the various slight retirements where the Germans' results are the most severe.

It is stated that in general the allies' lines remain unchanged, despite the severe fighting.

Christabel Pankhurst, Militant of Feminist Army in London

This is what Christabel Pankhurst, militant general of the feminist army in London, who has just arrived in the United States, had to say about the attitude of the women she speaks for toward the great war.

"The suffragettes in England are in favor of the great war. They have let all differences with the government drop for the time being, and have unanimously joined to help in whatever way they can. Many of them are in the Red Cross service,

The Rockefeller Ordered Released

many of them are making bandages and other things for the hospitals and clothing for the men in the field. As suffragette activities are in abeyance now in England, I thought it would be a good time to come to this country. I did not wish to stay in England with a suspended jail sentence over me. The British authorities made no attempt to molest me when I arrived there, but I told them, of course, that I should be leaving in a few days for America."

MANY GOING TO PLANTING FEST

LOCAL SPORTSMEN WILL MAKE THE SOWING OF WILD RICE AND CELERY A GALA EVENT AT ASPEN LAKE

Jackson F. Kimball, Southern Oregon representative of the Weyerhaeuser Land company, is in receipt of a bushel of wild rice seed and a barrel of wild celery seed, to be planted around Aspen Lake. The seed was shipped from the Minneapolis office of the concern, with a view to increasing the number of wild ducks around the pond.

The object of making the lake more attractive for ducks is to provide another shooting place for local sportsmen, not to make a private reserve. For this reason, local sportsmen are ready to assist in the work entailed.

Sunday the seed is to be planted, and already several auto loads of the members of the Klamath Sportsmen's Association have been made up to make the trip. Others are invited to assist in the work, and plans are being made to hold a "jinks" in connection with the work.

MAY ASK U. S. TO SEE THAT RIVER IS KEPT CLEAR

IS SHUTTING OFF INDIAN'S SALMON SUPPLY

E. B. Hall is in Receipt of a Letter From the Master Fish Warden for Oregon, Telling of the Inactivity of the California Commission, and Suggesting an Appeal to the Indian Service to Open Klamath River.

After working for a year in an effort to induce the California fish and game commission to take some steps toward the establishment of a fish ladder or some other means for fish to get above the California-Oregon Power company's dam in the Klamath River at Klamathon, the officials of the state fish and game commission are about to adopt another tack. This will be through an appeal to the Indian service, showing that by reason of the obstruction in the river the Klamath Indians are deprived of their salmon, which they have been wont to use as food.

The following letter concerning the matter has been sent to E. B. Hall of the Klamath Sportsmen's Association by R. E. Clanton, master fish warden, showing the new plan suggested:

"I am enclosing a copy of letter received from the California fish and game commission, referring to the dam in the Klamath River. You will note from same that there is no prospect of getting any immediate relief of the situation there through the California commission. This dam has been in the course of construction for a couple of years or more, and from indications it will probably be several years yet before it is brought to completion.

"Accompanied by Commissioner H. E. Duncan, I made an inspection of this dam, and it was our judgment that it was absolutely impossible for any fish to pass above the obstruction at any time or at any stage of the water. Inasmuch as I have had this matter up with the California commission for over a year, with no results whatever, I will have to confess that I do not see that I will be able to do anything further in the matter, but have thought the matter might be taken up by the Klamath county people with the Indian department at Washington, D. C., setting forth the fact that this obstruction has been the means of stopping runs of salmon, which frequent the tributaries of the Klamath River, and which the Indians have been accustomed to take for food. I have thought it possible that the above department might be able to bring some pressure to bear which would relieve the situation. If, in your judgment, you think it advisable to take this matter up on these grounds, we would be glad to assist you in any way within our power."

"KLAMATH FALLS AND THE COAST," CAROLS JOHNSON

RETURNED BOOSTER SAYS WE ARE LUCKY

Robert A. Johnson Finds That, in the South, Conditions of the Cotton Market Has Demoralized That District, and That in the Middle West Is Suffering From a Curtailment of Credit by the Financiers.

"I was never so glad that I lived in the Klamath country as I am today," says Robert A. Johnson, head of the Klamath Manufacturing company, who has returned from a sojourn of several weeks in the Middle West and South. "The people on the Coast, from Klamath Falls south, are in clover, compared with the conditions elsewhere in the nation.

"I find that nowhere in this section nor in California has the business man suffered the war as they have in the East. Interest is no higher on the Coast than it was before the war broke out, nor is there any curtailment of credit noticed. Just the reverse of this is the case in the East.

"In the South conditions are the worst, owing to the deplorable condition of the cotton situation, following the shutting off of European markets. When I think of the way things are going to the east of us, and how much poorer conditions are there, I can easily say that we are in clover out here."

Mr. Johnson also brings home the cheering news that the Klamath country is in line to supply boxes to a new big Eastern field. This is looking to the Coast for its supplies, and the way is being opened for the Klamath concerns to furnish these.

SPENCER CREEK SITE FINISHED

LEASE IS SECURED BY THE STATE FOR WHAT SUPERINTENDENT OF HATCHERIES SAYS IS STATE'S BEST SITE

The state of Oregon now has a lease on the hatchery site on Spencer Creek. A five year lease, executed by the Western Pacific Land and Timber company was today signed by Fish and Game Commissioner Charles F. Stone for the state of Oregon.

The lease is on fifteen acres of ground. The state by the terms of the document has the privilege of erecting and maintaining a fish hatchery and the necessary equipment for the same, the right to divert the waters of Spencer Creek for hatchery purposes, and to erect the necessary runways and fish traps.

There is every reason to expect that considerable work will be done at the hatchery next year, for Superintendent of Hatcheries R. E. Clanton considers this the finest trout hatchery site in the state, and the bulk of the trout fry to be distributed through out the state in 1915 will undoubtedly come from Spencer Creek.

Superintendent Clanton will be here in a short time to plan the enlarging of the present hatchery, and the work to make it a permanent institution.

Orders have been issued by the American state department to all consuls in the war area to look out for themselves and keep out of danger. Whenever there is great danger consuls and ministers are expected to change their posts. During the spring of Rheims, William Bardel, consul there, sought refuge from German guns in a wine cellar.

Big Game Tomorrow

Ashland-Klamath High Schools Are Contenders

This evening the students will hold a monster rally on the street, to whom up interest in tomorrow's contest. This will be held on Main street, starting at 7:30, and promises to be as interesting and spectacular as it is noisy. The procession will go to the depot, to greet the Ashland team upon its arrival.

Tomorrow at 1:45 the students will hold another big parade on Main street. This will terminate at Modes Park before 2:30, for it has been decreed that the game shall start at that hour promptly.

Oscar E. Willey will officiate as referee. The umpire will be Dr. Briscoe of Ashland.

The Klamath High team will be picked from the following: Noel, Packer, Mutschbacher, Oram, Stewart, Hill, McMillan, Beals, Kiehl, Sanderson, Short, Graves, Everett, O'Loughlin and Melham.

"Some of our boys are inexperienced in football," says Coach Vernon Mutschbacher, "but they are all game fighters, and are going into the game to win. There is no question but what the Ashland team is one of the best inter-scholastic teams in the state this year, but despite this and the fact that the Ashland team is up an 84-to-0 score against the Oregon Pass High eleven a short time ago, the Klamath team is equipped with spirited, active bunch, who will wear fighting clothes."

LONDON HEARING NEWS GALORE OF INVASIONS

BARGES FOR TROOPS REPORTED BUILT

United Press Service
LONDON, Oct. 23.—Copenhagen wires that the Germans and Howard shipyards at Kiel are busied in the construction of armored barges, to be used to transport the German invaders to England.

This report says that many of the barges are finished, and the rest are being turned out at the rate of nine per hour.

It is also reported that the Germans are constructing Zeppelin sheds at Schleswig.

Neither of these have been confirmed.

The Star says it is informed from a high official source that the police have been ordered to assemble all Austrian and German aliens between the ages of 17 and 50, for the purpose of sending them to a construction camp as prisoners of war.

It is reported that the action is the result of a system of espionage just discovered, whereby Germany is kept informed of the movements of British troop ships.

"The Mutual Girl and Her Auntie"

There have been so many changed standards in advertising in the past five years that what was good five years ago will not do now.

Let us all test the value of advertising today. There are hundreds of us reading this paper today. We have all got to spend a certain amount of money during the next twenty-four hours.

Now, I simply say to the business people of this city: Don't look to the medium alone to bring results. Look to the advertisements themselves. A good ad in a poor medium may bring results, but a poor ad had better be left out of the best of all of them.

If you spend a dollar in newspaper advertising, or a dollar in magazines, or on billboards, or in the picture show houses or in booklets, or in circulars, or in any way and manner that advertising is used—be sure before you contract to spend the dollar that you will spend that dollar judiciously and so that it will bring back that dollar and a profit besides. That's why you advertise: to make a profit. See to it that you not only use the right mediums but that you use them right.

Study your advertisements. Are they built to attract attention? Do they arouse and maintain interest? Do they create desire? Do they stimulate purchase? Do they compel action?

You change your advertisement often to tell the people what you have for sale.

Let the Herald get you up good live copy, something that will pull—and hang it on the hook in the office, and have the changes there at all times. We will do it.

Be identified on the Mutual Girl page. Why? Because it is different.
