Read What the Mutual Girl and Auntie Have to Say on This Page

LUCILLE—Auntie, do you know that we have a wholesale fruit house here in Klamath Falls, and I was talking with Mr. Will, the manager, and he said that they were handling in stock everything in the fruit and vegetable line—and right up to date. They carry in stock the best and choicest fruits and vegetables—and everything the market affords.

AUNTIE—Well, my girl, who is Mr. Will, and who is the firm that has this splendid line of fruits and vegetables?

LUCILLE—Mr. Will, Auntie, is the manager of the Wood-Curtis company, wholesale fruit and vegetable dealers, on Sixth street. They do not sell anything at retail, but Mr. Will said that there was no excuse why every grocer in this town and in the surrounding country should not be able to supply their customers at all times, with everything in the line of fruits, vegetables and produce, that was obtainable anywhere, as they made it their business to supply to the merchants all things in this line. This firm, Mr. Will says, is a big concern, with headquarters in Sacramento, and are big growers and shippers.

MORAL—Mr. Retailer, bear in mind that Wood-Curtis company can supply you, and therefore you are able to supply your customers anything in fruits and vegetables.
