PUPILS TELL OF PILGRIM DADDIES

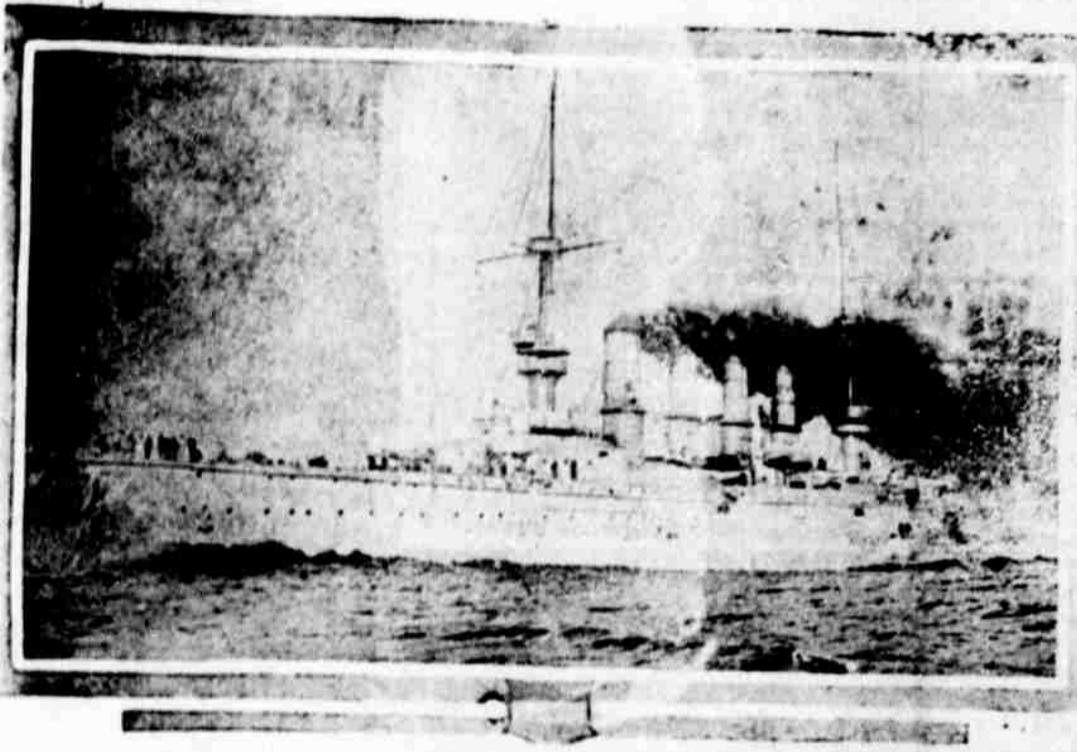

STORY OF THE FIRST THANKSGIVING IS THEME OF PROGRAM IN ALL OF THE SCHOOLS THIS AFTERNOON

And Mary was there—with her hair in a braid. Likewise, among those present were Jennie, her hair in curls; Freddie, his hair really combed, Susie, with her hair in ribbons—and all of the other primary and intermediate pupils of the local schools. Present also were their proud parents. The occasion for all of this slicking up, application of soap and water, best suits and dresses, etc., was the Thanksgiving observance at the schools today. In the smaller grades this was especially the case, and in lieu of studies, the afternoon was devoted to exercises appropriate to Thanksgiving. In some of the grades, cantatas commemorative of the Pilgrim days were given, and were highly enjoyed by pupils and parents.

German Cruiser Scharnhorst, Which Led in Battle Off Chili

The German cruiser Scharnhorst, of 11,000 tons and a speed of 26 knots, led the Germans in the naval battle off the Chilean coast November 1, when the British cruisers Good Hope and Monmouth were sunk. This is a part of the report made by Captain Luxe of the cruiser Glasgow to the British admiralty from Rio de Janeiro where his vessel is being repaired. "The enemy, who had turned south, was now in a single line ahead, and about twelve miles distant. The Scharnhorst and Gneisenau were in the lead. At 4:18 the speed was ordered up to 17 knots and the flagship signaled to the Canopus, 'Am going to attack the enemy now.' The enemy was now 15,000 yards away, and maintained this range, at the same time sending out wireless signals. By this time the sun was setting immediately behind us from the enemy's position, and while it was above the horizon we had the advantage in light, but the range was too great. At 4:55 the sun set, and the visibility conditions were altered. Our ships were silhouetted against the after-glow of the sun, and the falling light made the enemy difficult to see. At 7:20 the enemy opened fire at 12,000 yards, followed in quick succession by the Good Hope, the Monmouth and the Glasgow. The two squadrons were now converging, each ship engaging the opposite number in the line. The growing darkness and the hazy spray of the head sea made firing difficult, particularly for the main deck guns of the Good Hope and Monmouth. The enemy, firing salvoes, got the range quickly. Its third salvo caused fire to break out in the fore part of the Good Hope and the Monmouth, and both ships were constantly on fire. At 7:50 an immense explosion occurred on the Good Hope at amid-ship, the flames reaching 200 feet high. The total destruction of the vessel followed. It was now quite dark and both sides continued firing at flashes of the opposing guns. The Monmouth was badly down by the bow and turned away to get her stern to the sea, signaling the Glasgow to that effect."

PARIS, Nov. 25.—The allied fleet is battering away at the German line trying to reach the Belgian coast. The activities of the warships indicate that they are determined to curb the German plan to establish a base on the North Sea for a raid on London.

As a result of the firing between the ships and the German artillery the town of Zebruge is seriously damaged.

It is reported that six German submarines there are either destroyed or badly crippled, but this is not confirmed. It is known that the British fleet off the coast vigorously bombarded Zebruge yesterday, at the point where the vessels were supposedly located.

It is announced that the East Indian troops today retook the trenches they lost to the Germans yesterday.

In retaking the entrenchments, it is said, the Hindoos captured three German officers, 100 men, three machine guns and one mortar.

The latest communique states that on the French right, and in the region of Pontamousson, the artillery bombarded Arnville, within ten miles of Metz. This is the nearest the French have been to Metz since the war broke out.

Heavy losses were inflicted to the Germans in the vicinity of Niesport, where they were caught between the fire of the British troops and the guns of the allies' warships.

PRISONERS WILL FEED ON TURKEY

SHERIFF AND JANITOR CHIP IN TO MAKE THE DAY AS PLEASANT AS POSSIBLE FOR JAIL INMATES

If they can find no reason to be thankful over the way fate is treating them at present, prisoners in the county jail awaiting hearing before the grand jury are at least thankful that C. C. Low is sheriff and that E. B. Ramsby is janitor of the court house. Through these two men the prisoners are to have turkey dinner tomorrow, and, as one prisoner, Chas. Mender, is a cook par excellence, it will be a turkey served right.

The prisoners have been anxious to pile wood whenever possible, as it gave them some exercise and fresh air. This, of course, has helped "Dad" Ramsby, and to show his appreciation, he announced that he would buy a turkey. Sheriff Low insisted on paying half the cost of the bird. So "turk and fixins'" will be the menu tomorrow.

In addition to the turkey, cranberries and oysters for dressing were furnished by the newspaper men covering the court house beat, and Circuit Court Clerk George Chastain helped the good cause along further with a pair of nice mince pies.

Sportsmen's Meeting Is a Great Success

The importance and influence of the Klamath Sportsmen's Association was fully proven by the great and enthusiastic gathering at the annual meeting of the association, held last evening at the White Pelican hotel. Each year the attendance and enthusiasm increases, as the people realize the importance of the work being done by this organization.

"This is one of the most representative body of business men it has been my pleasure to see," said R. E. Clanton, master fish warden, in his talk to the members. "I have met with many sportsmen's organizations in every part of the state, and I can say that in the usual gathering of this kind the business and the man who is responsible for the development of the country is usually absent."

One hundred and twenty-five enthusiastic listeners followed every word of Mr. Clanton in his outline of the plans he proposed to recommend to the state fish and game commission, of work to be undertaken in the propagation and distribution of trout in Klamath county next year.

Mr. Clanton stated that the Spencer Creek hatchery was the best trout taking station in the state of Oregon. More eggs were taken from this station the past year than from any other, notwithstanding the delay in the work caused by trouble early in the season. According to Mr. Clanton a liberal amount of money is to be spent on Spencer Creek next year. A branch hatchery is also to be established on the north fork of the Sprague River, near Bly.

Mr. Clanton paid a tribute to Chas. F. Stone and congratulated Klamath county on being represented by him on the state commission. He also lauded the excellent work done by District Game Warden Henry Stout, who, he said, was one of the most efficient wardens in the state. The social session which preceded the business meeting was presided over by E. B. Hall, the Eastern Oregon member of the executive board of the Oregon Sportsmen's League.

County Judge W. S. Worden delivered the address of welcome to the visiting guests, and he was followed by short talks by W. O. Smith, Sam Evans, W. A. Delsell, George J. Walton and Oliver P. Morton.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: W. A. Delsell, president; J. E. Bodge, vice president; J. E. Swansen, secretary, and J. J. Parker, treasurer. Directors outside of Klamath Falls were elected as follows: W. C. Dalton, Malin; John Martin, Merrill; L. C. Slaemore, Fort Klamath; J. O. Hamaker, Bonanza; D. F. Driscoll, Bly; Sam Pagett, Keno; F. M. Cleaves, Crescent; B. St. Geo. Bishop, Odessa; R. C. Klepper, Chiloquin.

The bylaws were amended to provide for an executive committee with authority to transact business for the association, to consist of the president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and three additional members to be elected. Fred L. Houston, O. W. Robertson and Bert E. Withrow were elected on this board. Jas. H. Driscoll was chosen as a delegate to represent the association at the annual meeting of the Oregon Sportsmen's League, to be held in Portland on December 7th.

One of the important actions of the gathering of sportsmen was the adoption by unanimous vote of a resolution approving the present organization of the State Fish and Game Commission, and their recent action in reinstating R. E. Clanton as master fish warden and William L. Finley as state game warden.
