

FOOTBALL GAME AT MODOC PARK, 3 P. M.

If you are not at Modoc Park at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, you will be a little late for the game, perhaps, for, barring the unforeseen, the game between the football teams of Medford High and Klamath County High is to start promptly at that hour.

This evening the Medford squad, with a big delegation of rooters, will arrive for the fray. They will be met by the local students. A big rally on the streets this evening will precede the reception at the depot.

A few switches have been made in the lineup of the Klamath County High team, and although the boys are going against an aggregation that outweighs them twenty pounds to the man, they are out to win, and if they don't take the game away from Medford, the Rogue River bunch will at least know they have been playing.

When the whistle blows tomorrow, the team will be lined up something like this: Fullback, Molschenbacher; right half, Grem or Heals; left half, Stewart; quarter, Hill; center, Graves; left guard, Page or Kiehl; right guard, Melhase; right tackle, McMillan; right end, Captain Noel.

The boys have been practicing hard ever since returning from the Rogue River Valley. They are in the best possible shape, and are also stronger on account of being a little more experienced, as inexperience has been the great handicap here. The local kids are scrappers, and can be counted on to fight to the last down.

Captain Talbot Discussing Tactics

This photograph shows Captain Talbot of the Yale football team resting and discussing tactics on the field between quarters in the game with Harvard Saturday. Since the period of rest is so short under the present rules, there is no time to talk over new tactics in the dressing rooms. The Yale men wrapped themselves in blankets and lay down in view of the spectators. Then the coaches had a talk with the captain about the methods to be used in the latter part of the game. Judging from results, these talks did not accomplish much.

A LITTLE SPORTING GOSSIP

By Hal Sheridan

United Press Service

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—President Dedmon Ebbets, he of the Brooklyn Nationals, is giving vent once more to his long and prolonged groans touching on and appertaining to (as Stockholder Bill Davery used to say when he was chief of police) Joseph Federal Tinker and $15,999.

As is well known to earnest students of the political and financial history of the Federal League, Ebbets bought Tinker for that sum from Gary Hermann of the Cincinnati Reds.

"It's a mere trifle," thought Ebbets, as he handed the Rhinecland Chief a certified check for the release of the shortstop. "I can get it back again by holding a splendid 'Tinker

Day," and lure the shekels in that way."

Unhappily, however, Tinker could not see dollars, and declined to write his signature in the lower right hand corner—next to the red seal—and jumped to the Federal League instead. And the fans of Chicago's North Side held the "Tinker Day."

But the saddest part of the story is that Joseph did not take into his confidence President Ebbets, and the latter handed over the big check without imagining that Joseph did not care to play in the City of Graveyards.

In the meantime the boss of Brooklyn's ballboosters is waiting for the National League meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria in this city on December 8th. He vows that he'll be paid in full.

At that, you cannot blame Ebbets.

SOME GEORGE, THIS

Some people become famous by knowledge, some by skill, some by wealth, but most people become great by ability.

He is a man, "George Howell Gay," who started life a poor boy, and through ability and talent has become world-famed as an artist, and is now the official artist to English royalty, whose commission allows him only to paint the pictures of the royal family of that land.

His masterpiece alone gained him this commission, and you are having a chance to get an exact reproduction of this masterpiece in color photography, without cost.

Here is how: To get this work of art all you are requested to do is to answer this question correctly: "What store is 'The Home of Sensible Christmas Gifts?'"

Put your answer on a postcard, with your name and address, and mail it to Postoffice Box 324.

A Fair Warning

One That Should Be Heeded by Klamath Falls Residents

Frequently the first sign of kidney trouble is a slight ache or pain in the loins. Neglect of this warning makes the way easy for more serious troubles—dropsy, gravel, Bright's disease. 'Tis well to pay attention to the first sign. Weak kidneys generally grow weaker and delay is often dangerous. Residents of this locality place reliance in Doan's Kidney Pills.
