

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

BY MARGARET MANON
(Written for the United Press)

A cunning frock Dad got for Dot, with other dots strewn o'er it—He got a suit for little Bill. Then got a big bill for it.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—With their skirts up to their shoe tops and their frocks hanging loose and waistless from their shoulders like a six year old—all the big girls seem to be stealing their fashion ideas from the little girls these days. Naturally then it is up to the little girls to be very well dressed indeed since they become miniature models a la mode for the grown-ups.

At the recent Fashion fete models for an American made maid of tender years were as important a feature in the exhibit as were any of those for the older members of the American Beauty family.

One lovely little model of softest old rose velvet was cut in one piece and hung straight from the little low round neck to the knees. Hand embroidery in different shades of rose silk bordered the neck and sleeves which were elbow length and also was carried out down the front of the dress in a panel effect.

The other little dress of knife pleated white chiffon hung from the round baby neck in a long blouse effect to the hips where it was girded in by a garland of tiny pink ribbon rose buds. These finished the short sleeves and the neck also.

Embroidered net over flesh colored silk makes a pretty frock to bring delight to the heart of any little woman. Let three tiny ruffles of the net outline the short waist, the elbow sleeves, and five the short full skirt, and her cup of joy will brim over with joy, even as her frock fluffs over with frills.

Quaint, long-waisted kindergarten and play frocks of tan or blue linen embroidered in bright reds, greens and blues on the little turn over collar, turn back cuffs and low wide belt, which holds in the box pleats of the frock are very charming. Little white dresses hanging full from the yokes, smocked in pink or blue are also artistic and picturesque.

Childhood is coated this year preferably in velvet or corduroy. Like the grown-ups and whether they took it from the grown-ups or vice versa is a question. Band and putty velvet or corduroy is very popular and pretty especially when collared, cuffed and belted in brown fur. The long waisted side belted models prevail above all others for the favored coats. Brown is another popular shade and black velvet trimmed in tailless ermine is very chic indeed for Miss Rix-year old.

Little averted bowl shaped hats of velvet with a band of fur to match that on the coat or a curling ostrich feather around the crown are vastly becoming to small heads. One Fifth Avenue shop is showing adorable little skunk shaggy bonnets of pale blue, pale pink or white chiffon velvet with just a nosegay of tiny pink rosebuds and forget-me-nots on one side. A Paris creation of the bowl shaped variety has a brim of chinchilla fur and the round crown overlapping in longitudinal tucked effect. A tiny rosette finished the very top of the crown where the ribbon ends converge.

Little frocks isn't to be put down either anymore with hand me downs or suits de lux evolved from fathers' coat of trousers. David Copperfield and Oliver Twist effects still continue good for young hopefuls, only the winter models are fashioned mostly with bright hued corduroy trousers and white china silk waists. Some of these have little separate coats of bright plaid wool with gold buttons and three quarter length trousers of black velvet. For all the world like "when Grandpa was a boy." Long trousered sailor suits in either white flannel or blue serge are always smart. Top coats of gray or brown chinchilla are shown in belted models and a cunning flaring box model with Raglan sleeves of English mixture is an exact copy of Father's 1914 model top coat as to make a small boy fairly whoop with glee as a proud possessor.

An outfit for a tiny tot. Now shows a grown-up what is what. And also costs 'em quite a lot.

NOBODY WILL BE DISAPPOINTED

Everybody that tried to answer the question, whether their answer was correct or not, will be rewarded, the winners, of course, will be doubly rewarded, and those who tried and didn't guess right will receive for their efforts some specimen of color photography and the same subject, only just a little smaller.

We were going to publish the names of those who guessed the right answer, but, goodness, there were too many of them, so we will only publish the names of those guessing and the winners.

New Cubs' Manager and Predecessor

Hank O'Day, the baseball manager who is famous as an umpire, loses out again in his attempt to lead a big league club to the pennant. Roger Bresnahan has become the manager of the Cubs, and will lead them next year, and it is said, for three years, according to his contract. Not long ago Bresnahan was ranked with Johnny Kling of the Cubs and Billy Sullvan of the White Sox as one of three great catchers of the country. Kling and Sullivan have retired, while Bresnahan caught for the Cubs last year when Jimmy Archer was not feeling good. He is no longer the great backstop he was when with the New York Giants. Archer will, no doubt, continue to do the catching in the season of 1915.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Most forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive and harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

To Help Cripples

A national association, called the United Workers for the Cripples, has been organized, with Mrs. F. W. Baumhoff of St. Louis as president. The new organization announces its purpose to be the giving of assistance, especially to children, in every way possible, such as advice regarding education and aid to enable them to become self-sustaining. The work is nonsectarian and there is no fund for relief work, expenses being met by voluntary contributions. The officers of the organization are preparing to work for legislation in all states to aid 250,000 afflicted persons.

Free Laundry for Poor

Through the efforts of Health Commissioner George B. Young and members of the Women's City Club, Chicago is to have a municipal laundry for the poor. The charge will be a few cents for use of all appliances. The municipal lodging house is to have a free laundry for the down-and-outs to wash their apparel.

When baby suffers with eczema or some itching skin trouble, use Doan's Ointment. A little of it goes a long way and it is safe for children. Fifty cents a box at all drug stores.
