No Municipal Tree for Old Boston Town

United Press Service

BOSTON, Dec. 24.—This city, which, according to Mayor Curley, has been spending $60,000 to $100,000 a year on public celebrations, will have no municipal Christmas tree tomorrow. The city's chief executive has decided that the strong box has been drawn upon too freely in the past and that the city's funds may better be expended for statues, "arches," and concrete sidewalks in the Public Garden.

Last year's city Christmas tree cost the taxpayers $9,000, the mayor says, and decorations for public celebrations have cost $5,000 a year.

It further states that the mayor's policy of retrenchment in municipal frolics is the result in part of failure of the merchants and other business men of the city to contribute to a fund for these celebrations. Originally they promised to share the expense with the city, says the mayor, but for some time the entire outlay has been from the public coffers.

MAGUIRE CO. TO MOVE ITS STORE

THERE WILL BE NO AFTER-HOLIDAY LULL, AS THAT IS THE TIME SET FOR CHANGING THE LOCATION

With the Christmas rush ending tonight, the employees of the J. F. Maguire company, far from looking forward to a little breathing spell, are getting ready to move. The stock is to be moved as soon as possible to the new location in the Maguire building on Main street, near Eighth.

The building to be occupied is the old Comstock hotel, owned by Maguire. This has been completely remodelled, a brick addition has been added, and with changes in the partitions, etc., it is now one of the best arranged store buildings in Klamath Falls.

Carpenters and painters are now putting the finishing touches to the building, which is soon to house a drygoods and furnishing store.

The man who eats apples has little desire to drink. BAGLEY'S APPLE JUICE should be more widely used.

The S. P. Company is reported to have bought the line down the coast to Eureka.

Klamath theater goers will have their first opportunity on Saturday and Sunday of seeing the popular romantic actor, Mr. Robert Edeson, in the Laskey production of "The Call of the North." There are five parts and 317 scenes in this thrilling play of the trackless woods. The play is written by George Broadhurst, and is taken from the book "The Con-

A LITTLE SPORTING GOSSIP

By Hal Sheridan

United Press Service

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—Little Benny Kauff, diminutive in size, but great in power and ability, stood out among the batters and base runners in the Federal League last year even brighter than the famous Tyrus has appeared in American league surroundings for the past several seasons.

Kauff was the king bee in the Gilmore circuit with a vengeance. Not only did he show the way with his bludgeon, with which he clubbed out 219 hits, twenty-seven more than his nearest competitor, but he finished way out ahead in the stolen base column. He pilfered seventy-five sacks in the 154 games he took part in.

Kauff's hitting was of the real kind, too—long distance stuff. He slammed out forty-five bingles that were good for two sacks each. Two base walks seemed to be Mr. Kauff's favorite kind of fruit, for in getting triples and four-baggers several others passed him. Aleck Zwilling, of Joe Tink-er's Chifeds, who is sometimes known as "Dutch," had a penchant for home runs. The roly-poly outfielder hung up sixteen home runs during the season, which was the league's best record. Bill Kenworthy of Kansas City, crowded him for honors by bumping out fifteen.

Kauff showed his class in another division, also. In getting runs he had it on the flock of athletics who make up the Federal League roster. Benny chalked up 118 tallies during the season. Bill McKenzie, a team mate of Kauff's and a former Yankee and Pirate, was second, and was the only other player in the league who had more than 100 runs to his credit. McKehnie also finished second in the base-swiping stunt, getting fifty-two.

Indianapolis probably will let Kauff name his own figures for his salary during the coming season. Several managers in organized ball have been after him after seeing his work in the Fed circuit. McGraw of the Giants, is declared to be particularly sweet on the youngster.

Jurer's House." It will please any kind of an audience.

"It's the best act of the kind that has ever been shown in Klamath Falls," was the verdict of the Orpheus patrons last night, after the appearance of Moon and Soule, vocalists and instrumentalists. The pair have unusual musical ability, and every number rendered, whether on stringed instruments or a song number, was roundly applauded.

Moon and Soule will appear again this evening. Besides this act there is an especially good picture program, including a two-reel drama and two one reel productions.

NEW BALLS ARE FULL OF MARKS

TEN-PIN DEVOTEES ARE SPILLING THE MAPLE STICKS AT A TERRIBLE RATE WITH NEW AMMUNITION

Some high scores are being made today at the Palm Bowling alleys, and all of the local ten pin champions have been down trying out the new balls, which were received last night.

Four new sixteen-pound regulation balls have just been received, and also new sets of pins for all of the alleys. In addition, the alleys have been scraped and repolished, and now resemble a piece of plate glass. It is expected that some record scores will be made in the next few days.

MITCHELL HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

ELDERLY MAN DRAGGED ACROSS THE STREET BY A MACHINE WHICH STRUCK HIM THIS MORNING

Struck by an automobile driven by Ed Smith while he was standing near the McDonald building at Sixth and Main this morning, A. M. Mitchell, father of Dr. George C. Mitchell, was dragged across the street by the car, and sustained severe bruises.

Mitchell and B. S. Grigsby were standing about ten feet from the sidewalk on the north side of Main street when the car came down Main street toward Seventh. At that time, says Grigsby, it was a little too far to the left side of the street, and when an auto coming from Sixth approached, Smith swung further to the left to avoid a collision.

Before Grigsby could pull Mitchell from danger, he was struck by the car and half pushed, half dragged across to the other side.

WE HAVE received today a couple of models of the new dancing and evening caps. Chic, fascinating. They will not be duplicated. Also the "Tommy Atkins."

LADIES BUSY IN RELIEVING POOR

GREAT QUANTITIES OF CLOTHING DISTRIBUTED IN THE PAST FEW DAYS—MANY DONATIONS ARE POURING IN

The executive committee of the Philanthropic department of the Woman's Library Club has been very busy of late, distributing clothing, etc. to persons found to be in need. As this is a permanent organization, names of persons needing help will be welcomed, as will contributions. These can be left at the Library Club building.

Additional contributions of late have been $10 from Dr. Fred Westfeld, and considerable clothing from J. C. Johnston.

MT. LAKE NEWS

(Herald Special Service)

MT. LAKE, Dec. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Grizzle and family will spend Christmas with Mr. Grizzle's sister, Mrs. Henry Morrison.

Mrs. Will Morrison and Miss Mable Morrison are home for the holidays.

The skating is fine, and many of the young people are taking advantage of it, having skating parties these nice nights.

Herb Lester is breaking brush on the Manning ranch.

The singing school, under the direction of Mr. Case, is in working order again for the winter. There is a good attendance and considerable interest.

Fay West, Austin Case and Ray and Rex La Prairie are home for the holidays.

Dale and Mary West spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Griffith.

In parts of the West where trees are scarce sage brush is used for fuel. In Nevada the large main stems are trimmed by Indians at $3.00 a cord and delivered to the user at about $6.50. Sage brush burns rapidly and is rather dirty, but produces good heat.

Those familiar with the Eastern mistletoe only have no idea of the great losses due to this parasite in the forests of the West, where it counts next to fire and insects in the amount of damage done.

Dairymen's Meet a Farmer Week Event

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Dec. 24.—Of the specialized industries that will be represented at the O. A. C. Farmers' Week, that of dairying seems to lead at this time. There will be a convention of the Oregon State Dairymen's Association, another of Oregon Jersey Cattle Club, and one of the Holstein-Friesian Association.

A conference of milk dealers and milk producers will be held by the dairymen and creamery men of the state, and it is confidently expected that the breeders of pure bred Arrshires and Guernseys will get together at this time and effect organization for each of these breeds of cattle.

"This will undoubtedly be the biggest gathering of dairymen that the state has ever known," says "Professor Graves in speaking of the Farmers'

Week dairymen's convention. A week chock full of interest and valuable information to everyone interested in Oregon's $25,000,000 dairy industry is promised and not a dairyman of the state can afford to miss it.

Some of the best known dairymen of the state will be on hand with valuable messages for Oregon dairymen. We will tell you soon whose these men are, and what they have done. Plans are now under way to have some of Oregon's record-breaking producers on exhibition during the entire week—some of the dairymen that have produced 700 pounds of butter fat on official test.
