SOME MINOR WAR NEWS FROM EUROPE

LITTLE STORIES FROM THE FRONT THAT ARE COMING IN THROUGH THE CAPITALS OF THE NATIONS NOW FIGHTING EACH OTHER—SOME ARE TRIVIAL BUT ALL ARE INTERESTING AT THIS TIME.

United Press Service
LONDON, Dec. 2.—(By mail to New York)—Queen Mary has taken a personal interest in the work of the American Women's War Relief fund. The other day she made a visit, accompanied by Lady Paget (formerly Miss Julia Moke of New York) and Mrs. Lewis Harcourt (formerly Miss Mary Burns of New York), wife of the colonial secretary, to the hospital which the American women resident in England are conducting at Paignton, Devonshire. More than 600 soldiers have thus far been treated in this institution. In addition to the large staff of thoroughly trained English nurses, two units of the American Red Cross have now been installed at the hospital. All who have visited the place are struck not only with the comforts provided for the patients but their general cheerfulness. One Irishman told the queen that although he had been in a trench half full of water for nine days before he was wounded, his only worry now was how long it would be before he had recovered sufficiently to return to the same trench to help his comrades. Another, who had just received word that in recognition of his gallant action in defending a bridge until the artillery had safely passed had been granted a commission, remarked to the queen: "It was only luck that they happened to pick me out. There were twenty of us holding that bridge and we all did the same."

Besides this hospital work, the fund has presented a number of motor ambulances to the war office, which are now being used with excellent results just behind the firing line in Flanders. Among the other activities of the American women has been the establishment of workrooms for the employment of women and girls who would otherwise be without resources on account of the war. Four of these are now in full operation—in St. Pancras, Woolwich, Greenwich and Isleton. The Duchess of Marlborough (Consuelo Vanderbilt) is particularly interested in this phase of the American relief work.

A rosary of pearl and silver given him by a French woman was the talisman that brought Private A. Lightfoot of the Duke of Wellington's West Riding regiment out of a particularly hot scrap with only a slight wound, according to his statement made in a hospital here.

"I was on sentry duty behind a road barricade when I saw about fifty Germans crawling through a field," he said. "When they got near enough I started potting them as fast as I could, until I had reduced their number to fourteen. They made a rush in, when suddenly a shell from their own side dropped on them and laid them all out, besides wounding me. It was the rosary that saved my life."

HOUSTON'S MASK BALL ON TONIGHT

SPECIAL PREPARATIONS TO BE MADE FOR THE NINETEENTH ANNUAL, TO BE HELD AT THE OPERA HOUSE

For the nineteenth consecutive time, merry maskers, representing everything from king to clown, from queen to scrubwoman, will assemble at Houston's operahouse this evening, for he it known this is the night for John V. Houston's annual mask ball, the affair he has been holding every New Year's eve since the opera house was built in 1895.

These dances have always proved immense successes, and have long afterwards been talked of by those attending. They are not only enjoyable for the merrymakers, but for the spectators as well, and tonight, as usual at this affair, the gallery and stage will be crowded with interested spectators.

Special prizes are to be given for the best costumes.

Music for tonight's dance is to be rendered by the Metropolitan orchestra, composed of R. A. Mitchell, clarinet; Mrs. Fitzpatrick, piano; Sam Garrett, violin; Charles Hutchinson, trombone; Ralph Rewey, cornet; A. L. Wishard, drums. The orchestra will play all new music this evening.

Social Meeting of Elks.

Tonight is the regular "ladies night" for Klamath Falls Lodge No. 1247, B. F. O. E., and the usual dance and good time will be held at the club. Elks and their lady friends will attend.

L. Dysinger, Roseburg expects to show a set of furniture made of deer antlers worth $5,000 at the Panama Exposition.

In order to eject some tenants who refused to pay rent or get out, James Stephens took the roofs off three houses which he owns in Wheeling, West Virginia. The ruse worked in two cases, but the other tenant declared that the blue sky was good enough for a roof.

THAWING PIPES BY ELECTRICITY

POWER COMPANY RECEIVES AND TESTS OUT NOVEL INSTRUMENT, WHICH KNOCKS OUT JACK FROST'S WORK

It takes sometimes all night for a water pipe to freeze, but to thaw it out is but the work of a few minutes, with an electric pipe thawing apparatus just received by the California-Oregon Power company.

This machine was tested out on several obstinate pipes yesterday, and they were thawed in seven or eight minutes, the longest time required being thirteen minutes. With this apparatus, it is not necessary to dig up the pipes at all, only to hook on the wires and let the current do the work.

MARGARET MASON
Her History
By Margaret Mason

"Who is Margaret Mason?
That's a query that reaches the Herald office several times a week, from those who read her sprightly weekly fashion letter in this paper every Saturday. Some contend that "she" is a man, but all agree she is very clever.

But she is not; the Margaret name is used advisedly. She is the proud mother of two youngsters, and she sets forth her life in this fashion:
I was born in Lawrence, Kansas; My name is Margaret Hoke, which people always mispronounce. It really rhymes with "Joy." Folk say I was precocious.

And at a tender age I yearned to be an actress. And elevate the stage. And so, my school days over. To New York town I came, and in a Broadway playhouse I struggled for acclaim. But acting out in public Was not my forte, I fear, And so to be a freelance. I dropped my trusty spear. Newspapers, likewise magazines, I deluged with my verse, With prose and also sketches.

I can't say which was worse. And then, because I loved my art, A "journalist" I wed. His name's Roy Wilson Howard—That's all that need be said. And now my Remington I best. With one hand, while the other is free to do the same to Jane. And Jack, her little brother.

So there you have my thrilling past, With all its outs and ins. My unromantic present is— Two children and two chins.
