

Herald's Classified Advs.

FOR RENT

FURNISHED ROOMS for light house-keeping; rent reasonable. 110 Second street. 11-1f

OFFICE ROOMS—Choice suites in the Odd Fellows and Willis buildings; best location in the city. See W. O. Smith, Herald office. 10-1f

FOR SALE

HOUSEHOLD furniture of all kinds for sale at Mrs. C. O. Morgan, 29 Pine street. 11-1f

FOR SALE—Adjustable dress form. Call at Winter's Jewelry store. 14-6t.

News print paper has been made by the forest service laboratory from twenty-four different woods, and a number compare favorably with the standard spruce pulp paper.

Today's news today in The Herald.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

CITY AND COUNTY ABSTRACT COMPANY
ABSTRACTS INSURANCE
Members Oregon Association
Title Men

Office and Residence, Phone 115
NW cor. 7th and Main
CLAYTON E. WHEELER
Physician and Surgeon
Osteopath
Spondylotherapist
(Spinal Treatment)
Office hours: 9 to 11:30 a. m.; 2 to 5 p. m.; evenings, 7 to 9

KLAMATH FALLS

Steam Laundry

Guarantees first-class work as well as first-class service.

Rough Dry, 6c per pound, 40c per dozen.

New collar machine prepares the collar for the tie.

Wood! Wood!

Block Wood, single, double loads

16-inch Body Wood

16-inch Limb Wood

4-ft. Body Wood

4-ft. Limb Wood

Rock Springs Coal

(Extra on hill)

Leave Orders at

Square Deal Store

Cor. Sixth and Main

P. C. CARLSON

Phone 185

Midway Livery Co.

IN NEW HANDS

Horses bought and sold. Harnesses and buggies for sale. Good rigs for hire and gentle horses.

Baled hay and grain for sale.

Phone 215J

We Will Give Scrip

WITH ALL SPOT CASH WOOD BUSINESS at regular prices.

Leave money with order or pay on Delivery

KLAMATH FUEL CO.
515 Main Street

WINES

GENUINE—
PURE GRAPE BRANDY,
PURE APPLE BRANDY,
PURE PEACH BRANDY

FOR THE CONNOISSEUR

Meat for the Home.

KLAMATH LIQUOR COMPANY

Plumbing and Tinsmithing

We Do the Work Just Right

PADE & PINGLE

"The Know How Men"

Cor. 6th & Klamath, Phone 217

The Evening Herald

W. O. SMITH, Editor

Published daily except Sunday by The Herald Publishing Company of Klamath Falls, at 115 Fourth Street.

Entered at the postoffice at Klamath Falls, Oregon, for transmission through the mails as second-class matter.

Subscription terms by mail to any address in the United States:
One year$5.00
One month50

KLAMATH FALLS, - - OREGON
MONDAY, JANUARY 18, 1915

AND STOP AT
KLAMATH FALLS

TAXATION AND EXPENDITURES

PEOPLE WHO COMPLAIN about their taxes might find a useful hint in the report recently filed by the New Jersey board of equalization. The average tax rate had jumped from $1.97 of last year, to $2.24 for the present year, an increase of 13.8 per cent. The board says:

The increase is due to the fact that local expenditures have increased in a greater ratio than the sources of local revenue.

The appalling fact can be applied to all the states. The census returns go back to 1860. They show the average per capita levy to be more than three and one-half times what it was at the earlier date.

Of course, the tax rate per $100 also increases. Yet, notwithstanding the enormous increase in amount of the tax levies and the increase in population and wealth, the average per capita indebtedness of the states, counties and minor civil divisions has steadily increased.

What do the people get in return for this increased taxation? When a man's business expenses increase faster than the returns, the bankruptcy court awaits him. But in the public business there is no thought of cutting expenses according to means. The tax rate is to be adjusted to fit expenses.

This is good business to the politician but to the people who pay the bill the effect is, as Shylock said: "You take my life when you do take the means whereby I live."

Kings should shear their sheep, not skin them. But so long as the people permit their affairs to be conducted without any idea of economy or anything approaching a budget system, they are sure to be skinned. Isn't it time to demand a real reform?—Wall Street Journal.

Scattered Shots

COME TO THINK about it, it's funny how a few numbers can make a difference. For instance, the wife who is enslaved by "500", will roar her head off if her husband indulges in an occasional game of 21 or 26.

IF LOVE is blind, he seems to be able to point out ways around obstacles right along.

SOME FEW PLACES have as good or better winter weather than Klamath, a few have better spring weather—but where, oh where is the locality that has such good, healthy all-year-round weather as we enjoy?

SO FAR as we can learn there has been no increase in the Portland Journal's circulation here, following the announcement of Ex-Governor West's daily drive regarding his opinion of the legislature and its members.

WE HEAR that there is talk in Salem of introducing a bill providing a heavy fine or exile for those who refuse to number their houses.

THEY CAN SAY what they please about these airships; since they got busy, everything is looking up in London, Paris and Berlin.

HOW MUCH have you saved for the trip to the expo?

SURE! Business is good.

The board of directors of School District No. 1, meets this evening in regular session.

The forest service is co-operating with fifty-four railroads, mining companies, and cities in making tests of wooden ties, timbers, poles, piling, and paving blocks, which have been given preservative treatments.

Shell Bursting in Front of Cannon

This is a striking photograph of the fine roads to be found all over France when the battle turned in that direction. In an instant the horses drawing the gun were unhitched and the driver started off to

SOME MINOR WAR NEWS FROM EUROPE

LITTLE STORIES FROM THE FRONT THAT ARE COMING IN THROUGH THE CAPITALS OF THE NATIONS NOW FIGHTING EACH OTHER—SOME ARE TRIVIAL, BUT ALL ARE INTERESTING AT THIS TIME.

United Press Service

LONDON, Dec. 26.—(By Mail to New York).—Among the many heroes of the war who have been struck down before they had a chance to enjoy the reward of their bravery was Sergeant Heaney, of the King's Own Royal Lancaster Regiment, who was killed in action two days after being promoted lieutenant and recommended for the Distinguished Conduct Medal, for an exploit which saved an entire division.

The Royal Lancasters have been continuously on the firing line since the outbreak of the war, and with every man performing prodigies of valor it was difficult to single out particular acts of courage. Heaney's chance came one day when the situation as regards food supplies for his division was becoming desperate. For ten whole days the roads from the trenches to the supply depot had been rendered impassable by the hail of shells rained upon by the enemy, and no fresh provisions could be got to the troops on the firing line.

Heaney went to his major and offered to take the wagons through the rain of shells and bring back food. He did not say he would try. He said he would go and fetch the provisions. The major said, "Impossible!" and when he persisted, "Sheer madness!" Nevertheless, the sergeant was allowed to take a few comrades, and with the wagons he set off down the shell torn track.

Four miles separated the trenches from the depot, and every yard of the way there and back lay under a devastating fire, but Heaney got through and brought back provisions with a loss of only two horses killed and one man wounded.

He was promoted lieutenant on the spot and recommended for the D. C. M., but two days later he was placed in a place of safety. But before he had gone fifteen yards a German shell burst. Though the horses were trained to stand fire, they were so startled they nearly broke away.

Staff officers declare that he undoubtedly saved the division from capture or annihilation.

"It's fine to be in the Coldstream, but you don't necessarily care about living in the cold streams," writes Private A. K. Hammond, of the Coldstream Guards, describing a certain twenty-three days his regiment spent in the trenches. "Not a man cared a tinker's cuss for the German shells and bullets, but to stand for days—twenty-three, to be exact—at a stretch, in water, not only up to your ankles, but more often above your knees, takes a lot of stuffing out of you."

"We dropped into a terrible place a month ago. No matter whether it was fine or wet, the water kept trickling into the trenches. As fast as we tried to drain our trenches they filled up again with the water that oozed through the hillside. Life in these trenches has been damnable, but it is marvelous what one can get used to when pushed. Officers were tired the same as ourselves and as they took it as part of the game, we did likewise. Our generals have rechristened the battalion. He has named us the 'amphibious brigade,' and says when he gets home he will back up against any battalion in the British army, or any other army, for feats of endurance under any condition anyone likes to name. You can take it from me that our officers, many of whom, I am sorry to say, have gone under, have performed wonders, and there is not a man in the whole brigade of Guards but what would readily admit that all the hardships the men have endured have been shared by the officers, the officers who, in full dress in the park, so many people were disposed to regard as aristocratic peacocks."

Private O'Keefe, of the Connaught Rangers, carries a German letter of introduction, which should procure him good treatment, if he ever fell into the hands of the Kaiser's troops. O'Keefe was one of a detachment of the Connaughts operating near Ypres, and endeavoring to catch a body of Germans who were sheltering in a farm house. Within the farm house itself were two of the officers, and O'Keefe decided to get them out.

He dashed up to the door, exposed for 200 yards to the furious rifle fire, and demanded the instant surrender of the astonished Germans as a preliminary to peace. As they refused O'Keefe shot one of them, took the other prisoner, and brought him back to the regiment. The prisoner was so moved by the man's reckless courage that he wrote a note in German in his captor's pay-book, urging any German, who should have the luck to capture O'Keefe to "give the best treatment to the brave man who had saved my life."

From this, Colonel O'Keefe got a mild reprimand for foolhardiness.

Recent sales by the government totaling 126,000,000 feet of sawtimber in the Olympic National forest, in western Washington, mark the opening of the hitherto inaccessible storehouse of timber, estimated to contain a stand of thirty-five billion board feet.

Mineral Output of Oregon Decreases

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Preliminary estimates of the output of metals from Oregon mines in 1914, as also show general decreases from the figures for 1913. The gold yield for 1914 is about $1,600,000. The silver output for 1913 was 179,036 fine ounces, or 53,000 ounces less than the yield of 1914 was about 5,000 pounds, or 38,000 pounds less than 1913, and the yield of lead was 41,000 pounds, or 4,600 pounds less.

There are only about 175 producing mines in Oregon, of which 125 are placers, most of them on a small scale and two-thirds of them by-products from other mines. The most productive deep gold producer in the state in 1914, as also in 1913, was the Rainbow Commercial Mining Co., in the Mormon Basin district, Baker county. Other large producers in the same county are the Columbia Gold Mines Co., at Sumpter, Cracker Creek district; Cornucopia Mines Co., of New York; Union and Last Chance mines, Cornucopia district; Highland Development Co., Baker district; Ben Harrison Mining Co., Granite district; and Bonanza Mining Co., Cornucopia district. Outside of Baker county the only producing deep mines of note is the Humboldt Consolidated, in the Mormon Basin district, Malheur county. The most important placer producers are the Powder River Dredge Co., Cracker Creek district, Baker county; the Snyder Consolidated Gold Mining Co. (Ltd.), operating a drift mine in the Granite district, Baker county; the Boulder Creek hydraulic and drift mine, in the Cornucopia district; and the Tom East hydraulic mine in the Grave Creek district. The yield from the dredging operations was greatly in excess of that from all other forms of placer mining combined.

By far the largest production of gold from both deep and placer mines continues to come from Baker county, which annually yields about 84 per cent of the total gold of the state.

DAIRY NOT DEAD

(Communicated)

Last Friday night a surprise party was given at the home of Mr. Ross Brown, two miles west of Dairy, and Ross says he surely was completely surprised and a little bit scared. Children and all, there was thirty-six present and everybody had a fine time. At midnight an excellent supper was served and everybody, especially Ross, said a surprise party was just about right. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Oden, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Moulton, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sedgwick and Mrs. G. Anderson. Misses Zelma Oden, Vida and Velma Pearson, Jewell Brown, Carrie Elerison, Emma Anderson and Wreathel Oden. Messrs. Oakley Welch, Ed Foster, Carmie Oden, Martin and Henry Stoebler, Clive Spour, Horace Moulton, Glen and Jerry Pearson, Harold and Calvin Brown, George Fratts, Scott and Benny Oden and Ross Brown.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

DARKENS BEAUTIFULLY AND RESTORES ITS THICKNESS AND LUSTRE AT ONCE

A heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautiful dark.

(Advertisement)

"When the Heart Calls"

Drama in two parts

"Matty, Wimsical Boy"

Story No. Two

"Sammy's Vacation"

Comedy

ADMISSION 10c

COMING

Next Sunday and Monday

"PAID IN FULL"

ADMISSION 10c

MATINEE EVERY SATURDAY AND

SUNDAY AT 2:30

HEADACHE STOPS, NEURALGIA GONE

Dr. James' Headache Powder give instant relief—Cost dime a package.

Nerve-racking, splitting or dull, throbbing headaches yield in just a few moments to Dr. James' Headache Powder which cost only 10 cents a package at any drug store. It's the quickest, surest headache relief in the whole world. Don't suffer! Relieve the agony and distress now! You can. Millions of men and women have found that headache and neuralgia misery is needless. Get what you ask for.

Theater Guide

Houston's Metropolitan Amusements

HOUSTON'S OPERA HOUSE DARK

STAR THEATER

"The Perils of Pauline"

Eighteenth episode in two parts.

"The President's Special"

Edison—In two parts

"The Circus and the Boy"

Vitaphone comedy

10 and 15c

COMING

MARY PICKFORD

In "Hearts Adrift"

Matinees every Saturday and Sunday

at 2:30

TEMPLE THEATER

"Sunshine and Shadows"

Vitaphone two-reel drama

"His Sister"

Selig drama

"In Dutch"

Kalem comedy

ADMISSION ALWAYS 10 CENTS

MATINEE DAILY AT 2:30

ALL LICENSED PICTURES

MERRILL OPERA HOUSE

Merrill, Ore.

MOTION PICTURES TUESDAY

AND SATURDAY

G. D. GRIZZLE MONUMENTS

Made of Marble or Granite
1018 Main

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON

Capital Stock, 100,000 Surplus, $11,000
U. S. DEPOSITORY

OUR POLICIES—

To distribute the bank's assets in such a way as to maintain under any conditions and at all times an ample reserve to meet the demands of its depositors and take care of its borrowing customers.