

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

BY MARGARET MARION
(Written for the United Press)

Behold the banished petticoat, has now returned to grace— and ornament fairer than ever. With chevron and lace. Quite like the prodigal's return. The petticoat's will be— Because the fatted calves are all prepared for it you see.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Whether an undershirt cast out by fashion becomes an out-cast of an out-skirt is beside the point in the lingerie forecast for 1915, is that article of wearing apparel, more noticeable by its absence than anything else the last season or two, has now returned in all the fulness of its pristine glory and also all the fulness of a circular cut. Naturally with the full flaring and pleated outside skirt of the mode the undershirt can no longer be denied. Hence the circular petticoat of 1915 now makes its bow before fair femininity. Snug and tight fitting about the hips it breaks into frothy ripples of lace around its circular finish, cascades of chiffon flounces, shimmering pleated silk and satin ruffles, coquettish lovers knots of ribbon, garlands wreaths and nosegays of tiny ribbon flowers add to its charms. And all in such delectable shades and materials as to make every woman go around in circles for a circular petticoat.

Aping the fashion of the sleeveless evening gown or nightgown for a little later in the evening wear, comes absolutely guileless of a sleeve. It is an Empire model of flesh colored crepe de chine and straps of the same material edged with ruffle of point de esprit to hold it over the shoulders.

As a direct antithesis of sleeveless nighties is the new model with the long, tight sleeves and prim, close neck like the sensible and modest night habiliments of our granny's youth. Where there were virtuously composed of cotton flannel or heavy cast iron linen and cambric however, these latter day concoctions are evolved from sheerest tissue batiste and nainsook, which prove that being under cover doesn't necessarily mean being out of sight.

The tailored nightgowns of crepe de chine are very popular owing to their easy laundry characteristics, as well as their chaste beauty. They are usually cut on empire lines and are finished solely with a row of hem-stitching around the low neck and short sleeves.

While we haven't taken to moyer age nighties as yet, this long waisted effect is being shown with killing effect on some of the newest combinations. In fact, the moyer age combination is absolutely indispensable to the successful set of moyer age frocks. Under the gown with the new old Empire waistline, of course, combinations with the same short waisted are worn.

As a trimming for combinations, petticoats and in fact all lingerie footings is very good. It is as practical for a laundry point of view, as lace and is much more novel and attractive as well as possessing the desirable effect of softening the flesh over which it is worn. A charming nainsook set, consisting of combination and nightgown, has a deep yoke of the puffed footing finished with a sheer and narrow lace heading, ribbon run, and edged with a tiny ruffle, of the footing. The panties are finished with a deep puffing and ruffle and beaded finished edge.

Ruffles, so banished as in truth were all frills and fluffiness from undergarments as long as the tight and clinging lines were in vogue, are now found on every dainty bit of lingerie, and often in the most unexpected places. A favorite spot is as a sort of short peplum below the high waistline of an Empire gown with similar pleated ruffles around the elbow sleeves and as ruff effect around the round, low neck.

Envelope chemises still strive for general favor but after the first faddy novelty of them has worn off they are found neither as comfortable nor as attractive as they promised. Hence envelope chemises will envelope but few feminine figures this spring. When it comes to a question of corset it's going to take the ladies some time to get on to their curves, to say nothing of getting into them. In some ways its going to be easier for that proverbial camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for some of us girls to get into a 1915 model Irene Papillon or a Goodwin these curvaceous days.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied to Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief. Ah! how good it feels! Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, blowing, no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight. (Paid Advertisement)

CAMPAIGN NOW AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

FOLLOWING SERVICES AT GRACE
M. E. CHURCH, CO-OPERATIVE
EVANGELISTIC WORK IS TO BE TRANSFERRED AGAIN

Each night this week the union evangelistic meetings were held in Grace M. E. church. However, Sunday night will be the last meeting held in this building.

At the union service Sunday evening, beginning at 7:30, Elder Harlan will deliver the sermon. His subject will be "Standing Fast."

Beginning Monday night the services will be held in the Christian church, corner of Ninth and Pine streets. Each afternoon of the week cottage prayer meetings will be held in different homes.

The night services have not been as well attended as they should have been. However, those who are privileged to attend believe much good is being accomplished by arousing God's people to their sense of duty.

This is the last scheduled week of these meetings. Make your greatest effort to attend each night and if a member of the church reconsecrate your life to God's service. The sermons scheduled for the week are:

Monday night—"Sin."—Rev. Stubbfield.
Tuesday night—"Repentance."—Rev. Simmons.
Wednesday night—"Regeneration."—Rev. Richards.
Thursday night—"Sealed for Service."—Elder Harlan.
Friday night—Laymen to have charge of meeting.

Governor May End Chapman's Job

SALEM, Jan. 23.—All that remains now to make Senate Bill, No. 9, introduced by Senator Dimick, and abolishing the office of state immigration agent, a law, is the signature of Governor Withycombe, for it has passed the House without a dissenting vote. C. C. Chapman, of Portland, now occupies the office.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

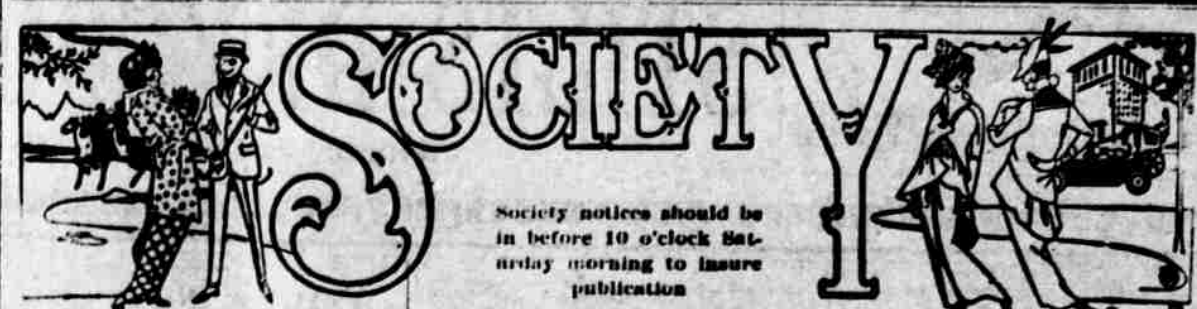

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

STOPS HEADACHE, PAIN, NEURALGIA
Don't suffer! Get a time pack of Dr. James' Headache Powder.
You can clear your head and relieve a dull, splitting or violent throbbing headache in a moment with Dr. James' Headache Powder. This old-time headache relief acts almost magically. Send one to the drug store now for a time pack and a few moments after you take a powder you will wonder what became of the headache, neuralgia and pain. Stop suffering—it's needless. Be sure you get what you ask for.

Wonderful Exhibit In Vast Palace of Transportation at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

This photograph gives evidence of the imposing character of the Exposition. The capitals of the vast columns are richly ornamented and the vault above is colored cerulean blue. The disks at the apex of the vault conceal colored lights, which will illuminate the ceiling, but which will not be directly seen by the many visitors. The palaces are surfaced with imitation Travertine marble, a substance almost as hard as concrete.

These nice crisp winters days sees Klamath Falls' people enjoying feasting and coasting parties, with joy abounding and enthusiasm rampant. There is something about coasting that entrances all, whether they indulge in the pastime, or stand and watch the others as they come scooting down the hills on bobs or cutters. The crowds who gather at fifth and Main streets eagerly watching the youngsters as they make the swift descent, bear testimony to this, and the cheers after a "record" slide and the laughter after an upset is as hearty from the grownups as from the youngster themselves. Verily, 'one touch of nature'

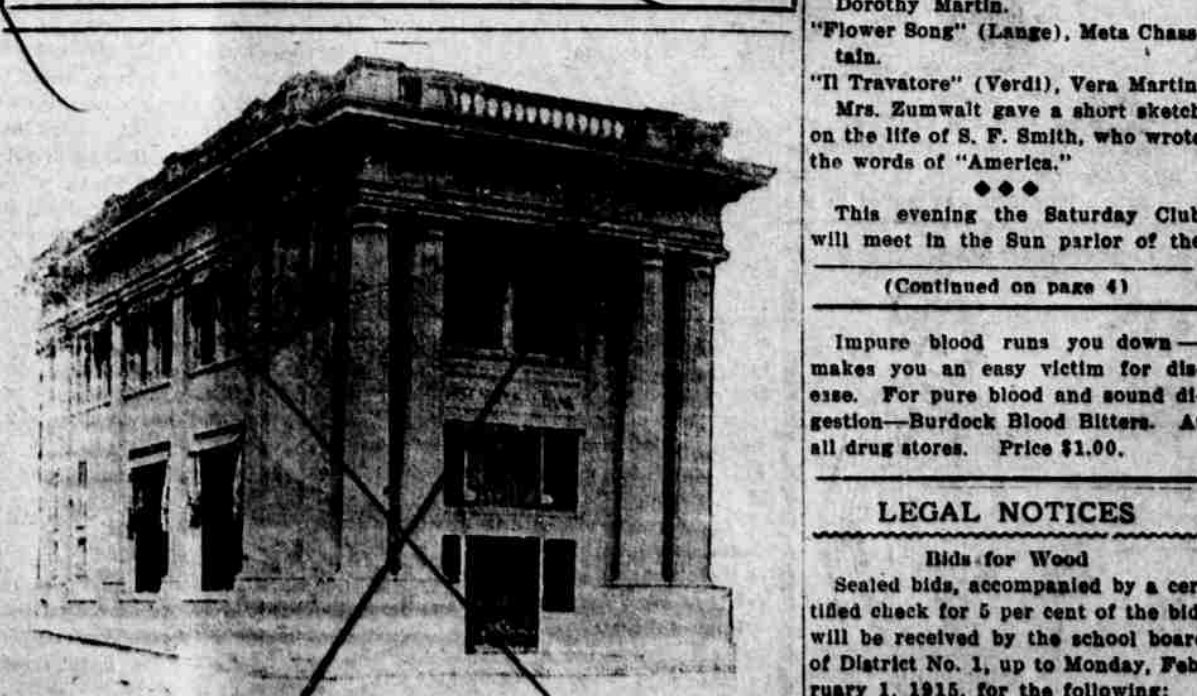

Wednesday evening a jolly crowd of young people enjoyed a sleigh ride in a big bobbed, winding up at Wocus ranch, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCornack, on the west side of the upper lake. Here the assemblage remained until a late hour. Music, singing, games and dancing being enjoyed. One big feature of the evening was a series of square dances, with enlivening music rendered by Mrs. McCornack at the piano, and John Procter playing the violin. During the evening cocoa, sandwiches and cake was enjoyed, and the ride home proved as lively as the rest of the evening. Composing the party were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Motschenbacher, Mr. and Mrs. E. Roy King, Mrs. J. R. Howie, Mr. Howie, of Midland; Miss Lulu Watsonburg, Mrs. Kathryn Williams, Miss Pearl Talley, Miss Carr, Miss Beatrice Summers, Miss Georgia Porter, Miss Milam, Clarence Motschenbacher, Andrew M. Collier, Mr. Hill, Wilbur A. Arnold, H. Roland Glasayer, Gilbert E. Arnold and Earl Chandler.

Members of the Grace M. E. Sunday school classes presided over by Mrs. Arnold and Earl C. Chandler, were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wood, at their home at Pelican City last night. The trip was made in Mr. Street's big bobbed, and those attending were Mr. Arnold, Miss North, Mr. and Mrs. Will Wood, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wood, Miss Vera Schmitzer, Miss Ada Ferris, Miss Frances Waldron, Miss Daisy Hayden, Miss Helen Candry, Miss Ruby Slade, Miss Vera Wood, Mr. Street, Earl C. Chandler, Cyril Benson, Ira Orem, Howard Orem, Jessie Summers, Frank Turpin, Bob Turner, Hugh Wood and Jack Hibbert. The ride and the party at Wood's were both highly enjoyed by the young people.

The Misses Waive Jacobs and Madge Dixon entertained at a "Yama Yama" party at the former's home, 520 Eighth street, on Thursday evening. The decorations were in harmony color with Valentine day, and
