JUDGE HANKS

THE PEOPLE of Klamath county, by a considerable majority, last November voted to place Marion Hanks in the county judge's chair. In this they expressed their disapproval of the extravagant administration of William S. Worden, whose four-year term of office was a heavy drain on the taxpayers.

But Worden refused to step down and out. He held that he was entitled to the office for another two years, and the matter had to be taken to the supreme court before it was settled. Today the supreme court rendered its decision, holding that the judges who have been in office for four years are now out and the men selected this fall are in for six years.

Great things are expected of Marion Hanks, some of them extremely difficult. He is expected to lead the county out of the wilderness of debt into which it has been plunged, and at the same time, conduct a progressive administration. He is expected to economize and at the same time carry on what work is needed in a rapidly developing section. He has a hard row ahead of him, and of course, will receive criticism from some, no matter what he does.

But Marion Hanks has been in business in Klamath Falls for many years. In that time, he has been steadily building up his business, steadily enlarging. His is the success that comes, not by chance, it is the kind that comes as the result of persistent application of business principles, the kind which secures one hundred cents for every dollar expended, and expends the dollar wisely—and that is the principle he will apply to the affairs of Klamath county—now in need of such attention.

Scattered Shots
WITH THE NEWS of Hanks' victory and of an apparently authentic railroad building breaking the same day, isn't it enough to make some confirmed knocker change to a rabid booster, and get so stirred up that he orders his old house painted, and takes on another hired man or two?

THE WORST of the warring armies is that just we get used to spelling and pronouncing a lot of polysyllabic geographical names, they move on into new territory and still worse named towns.

WE'VE ALL forgotten the snow of a few days ago. It is often the same with the man who only advertised once in a long while.

SPEAKING OF railroad booms, how does the one in today's issue suit you?

HAVE YOU ASKED Hanks for that county job you wanted?

TO SAY IT BRIEFLY, "Business is good."

The New White House Baby

This is the first photograph of the new White House baby, the child of Mr. and Mrs. Sayre. The baby was good natured when the father held it but deeply resented the effort of the President to hold it.

SOME MINOR WAR NEWS FROM EUROPE

LITTLE STORIES FROM THE FRONT THAT ARE COMING IN THROUGH THE CAPITALS OF THE NATIONS NOW FIGHTING EACH OTHER—SOME ARE TRIVIAL, BUT ALL ARE INTERESTING AT THIS TIME.

MELBOURNE—Rubber life saving collar has been presented to every enlisted man in the Australian navy by the British Rubber Growers' Association.

PARIS—A French infantry corporal now in the hospital at Tours, is suffering from 132 wounds, according to the surgeon attending him. The British record is held by a private soldier at Paighton hospital with 50 wounds.

LONDON—"I'm sorry, madam, but her grace is already bedded down," as the reply of a titled cavalry officer's servant to a telephone request to speak with the mistress of the household.

LONDON—"It's a delightful life in the trenches," remarked Tommy at home on furlough, "if you ever want anything all you have to do is to show your head over the side—and you get it."

LONDON—"Dutch lads after ale," is Prof. T. Atkins' translation of "Deutschland uber Alles."

PARIS—Having tested an alleged bullet-proof breastplate and finding it dangerous to the wearer, the war oflice is now prosecuting the inventor on a charge of chicanery.

BERLIN—The Scots Greys are referred to in some of the German newspapers as the "Scotch Regiment of the Foreign Minister Grey."

LONDON—A member of the crew of the Glasgow, who was in the fight with the Leipzig and the Dresden off Chile, says the Germans scored only seven hits out of a thousand shells fired.

AMSTERDAM—A despatch from Strasburg says that anyone using the French language in shop window signs there is liable to one year's imprisonment. The prohibition also applies to business letters, accounts and receipts.

AMSTERDAM—The Algemeene Handelsblad has now shared the fate of the Telegraaf, its sale being forbidden in Belgium. No leading Dutch paper is now allowed to appear in any part of the invaded country.

AMSTERDAM—All the books and arrows in Belgium, where archery was formerly a favorite sport, has been confiscated by the Germans, according to the Telegraaf, because of the discovery of arrows were being used to shoot messages across the frontier.

Up to the Expert
When soil expert Storey returns from the Gold Hill district, where he is now engaged in inspecting the land signed up in the campaign for beet sugar acreage, something definite will be known in regard to whether or not the Rogue River valley will get the factory. The committee in charge continues to seek acreage and look over that already obtained. Medford Sun.

Hanson as Manager
It is reported that J. E. Hanson, who has extensive farming and stock interests in this valley, is to succeed G. W. Rice as manager of the Goose Lake Valley Irrigation Company. Mr. Rice's resignation became effective February 1. At present Mr. Hanson is in Berkeley, but is expected to return to Lakeview tonight. His choice will meet with the popular approval of all as he is thoroughly capable of managing the business in an efficient manner.—Lake Co. Examiner.

Honor No. 3,948
James Hammonds, who has been herding sheep in the Lava Beds country of Klamath county, declares that from many of the big cracks in the lava rock, blasts of hot air pour in mysterious fashion, and that many times he attempted to drive sheep across to better feed when they would encounter the peculiar hot air coming from the cracks and rush back, refusing to go farther. One day while Mt. Lassen was sending up a tremendous volume of ashes and steam, a cloud of ashes arose from Bearfoot hill. At one place in the Lava Beds an immense pile of ashes has been blown up from the depths of a deep fissure. He insists that there is "something doing" beneath the bed of lava rock when Mt. Lassen erupts.—Ashland Record.

PUT STOMACH IN FINE CONDITION

SAYS INDIGESTION RESULTS FROM AN EXCESS OF HYDROCHLORIC ACID

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by hyperacidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. That we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices. Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results. (Paid Advertisement)
