

Mrs. DeHay Willing to Settle for $1000

Mrs. Lillian De Hay, who has demanded $5,000 from the city as damages resulting from a fall on a sidewalk, appeared before the council last night. Her injury was discussed freely.

According to Mrs. De Hay, her arm was fractured, and her wrist so badly sprained that it will be at least a year before it will be improved, and that the arm will be permanently disabled. She said it is impossible for her to sleep with the arm in its present condition.

Some of the council suggested that Mrs. De Hay allow City Health Officer Truax to investigate the injury. She has agreed to do so.

"I think I am entitled to a thousand dollars," said Mrs. De Hay, when asked the lowest price at which she would compromise.

GETTING LOGS IN WATER NEAR KENO

DESPITE THE SNOW, LOGGING CONTINUES THERE — BASKETBALL TEAMS MAKE A CLEANING—OTHER KENO NEWS

(Herald Special Service)

KENO, Feb. 16.—Avery & Tarbell have placed a fine lot of sawlogs at Snowgoose's landing for Achley Bros., who conduct a sawmill at Klamath Falls.

Jacquette & Lang are cutting sawlogs for Achley's sawmill. The snow is quite deep, but the boys are cutting just the same.

P. C. Carlson has 50 cords of wood cut in B. E. Kera's timber.

Mr. Broyles has traded some Klamath Falls property to Allen Stanable for the U. E. Reeder property in Keno.

Last Friday night the Kamotton played basketball with the Klamath Fallleton. The Keno boys beat the Klamath sophomores 17 to 2, and the Keno school boys played against the Klamath Falls common school boys, beating them 23 to 12. After the ball game was over, Avery & Tarbell gave a dancing entertainment and supper at Padgett's hall. All enjoyed both the game and the dance.

WANTS SOLONS TO FORCE LOW RATE

KLAMATH COUNTY ORCHARDIST ALSO TELLS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE THAT LACK OF STORAGE HURTS FARMERS

The best method to secure a reduction in the freight rates on the Klamath Falls line is to have the matter taken up with the legislature according to Frank Evans, who has a splendid farm and orchard beyond the Enterprise ranch, and who addressed the directors of the Chamber of Commerce last night.

Evans stated that the legislature should cut off the increased rates allowed on lines under construction, and put the rates on these lines uniform with the rest of the state.

In his talk, Evans stated that the farmer, in addition to having the high rates to contend with, finds lack of storage and market here. When he ships to points elsewhere in the state, he said, the shipments must make an interstate journey, and he held up and inspected a couple of times.

Views of the Two Richest Men in the World, Carnegie and Rockefeller

These are the two best photographs ever obtained of the two richest men in the world, Andrew Carnegie and John D. Rockefeller. They were taken when the two appeared on the witness stand at the inquiry of the Industrial Relations commission in New York. In years gone by Mr. Rockefeller shied away from photographers, but this time a large camera was placed near him, and he did not try to avoid it. Since the steel man is eighty years of age and the oil man seventy-six, it is possible that such good photographs of them will never again be taken.

"Put on another Squeegie"

One of the strongest proofs of tire value is the desire of the man who has been using tires of a certain kind to have others of the same kind put on his car when he needs new ones.

The man who says, "Put on another Squeegie" when he drives his car into the garage, registers the highest possible endorsement of Diamond Tires.

Read this letter from a Tire Dealer:

"Oakland, Cal., Nov. 24, 1914.

"Our customers are more than satisfied with the service they are getting from Diamond Tires, and some of the reports of mileage received are wonderful. The best evidence of this is the fact that we seldom have to solicit repeat orders. They come to us voluntarily. 'Put on another Squeegie' is generally their first greeting on entering the store, and they leave with a smile, feeling that their trouble is over for a long time, and each a Diamond booster.

"RECORD TIRE COMPANY,
"Per A. J. Donovan."

In addition to the extraordinary mileage and freedom from trouble that you get in Diamond Squeegie Tread Tires, you can now buy them at the following

H. E. Momyer Leaves for Crater Lake Park

Park Ranger H. E. Momyer left this morning for Crater National park, where he was ordered by the interior department. He will be there until the close of the park next fall.

"It is my custom to make an trip into the park every winter to see that everything is all right," said Momyer. "This year, though, it has been learned that the many visitors who are sking and coasting in the park have broken many windows and committed other acts of vandalism. I will remain in the park to prevent this."

Mr. Momyer was accompanied by John A. McCall, who will spend two weeks in the park. They went to Chiloquin on the train and from there to the park on snowshoes and skis.

ROYAL PICTURES

A packed house witnessed the first episode of "The Exploits of Elaine," at the Star theater last night.

There is every reason to believe that "The Exploits of Elaine" is going to prove the best and most popular serial that has ever been presented to the public.

Arnold Daly, as Craig Kennedy, and Pearl White, as Elaine Dodge, are seen to exceptionally good advantage. The mystery part of the story is one that will be hard to solve.

The scientific methods used by Craig Kennedy and the "Clutching Hand" add much to the picture. The picture is well produced, the photography is perfect.

A big feature comedy bill of pictures will hold the boards at the Star theater today and tomorrow. "Love, Luck and Gasoline," a three part Vitagraph offering, is the main attraction. In this picture we see Lillian Walker, Wallie Van and John Bunny, in one of their funniest comedies. Bunny as the captain, and the father of the "tomboy" Lillian, causes no end of merriment. Lillian and her "Cutey" plan to elope, father is in hot pursuit. We see him in motor boats, flying boats, aeroplanes and every other modern high powered means of travel. The end does not come until Bunny falls from an aeroplane into the briny deep. Then and there he forgives the runaways.

The second number of the "Hazards of Helen" will be shown tonight. This series of railroad story is proving to be the best and most thrilling picture of the kind seen at the Star for a long time.

"Officer Kate," a Vitagraph comedy, featuring Kate Price, will complete the five reel program. 10 and 15c is the admission fee for Tuesday and Wednesday.
