A SAFE PLACE FOR SAVINGS

A GOOD BANK is a safe place in which to put savings; and there is only one safer place and that is a home, and at the same time the home will pay a larger return on the investment both in money and in use of the money.

Real estate has always been recognized as about the safest investment a man can make, and improved real estate is not only a safe investment but pays day by day returns. The man who has a building lot, or can get hold of one, will find that right now is the best time to build that he has had in a long time, or is likely to have for a long time in the future.

Labor and material are both plentiful and the time to build is distinctly now, while property values are low in Klamath Falls.

The man who puts his money into a home is not trusting the money to somebody else; he has it under his own control and within his own hands and it is paying him every cent of profit that the invested money earns. He knows absolutely where his money is, and it is employed and is getting all the good out of it he possibly can.

The old saying that "every man's house is his castle" applies not only to his independence as a citizen, but also to his independence as an investor. His home bank, and his money is where he knows absolutely how it is invested and can figure pretty nearly his return on it. He has the satisfaction of knowing also that everything that the money invested in a home earns goes into his own pocket.

Scattered Shots

WHETHER THE SHERIFF or the treasurer collects the taxes is not worrying the taxpayer so much as the fact that the taxes must be paid.

SOME SIMP jumped in to settle an argument about financial matters by stating that watered stock means cattle raised on irrigated lands.

THERE IS NO record to show that George Washington was the first man to ever tell the truth, nor that he was the last, but we'll admit that he is the only man in history credited with veracity. This is because his cherry tree story was judiciously advertised.

IN CASE OF WAR, how are these pro-Germans and pro-Allies going to line up?

THE ROGUE RIVER VALLEY has decided to drop beet sugar talk until 1916. But Klamath county hasn't, and has the proposition coming right along.

IN THE CIVIL war days those wishing to escape enlistment used to hike over into Canada. Now they are more liable to enlistment there, and in Mexico, too. Truly these are war times, and the position of the United States is one of the most ticklish.

IT'S STEADY hammering that gets us there. That fellow who stopped on third base to congratulate himself on his success, if you'll remember, failed to make a home run.

IS THERE LUCK in numbers? We of Klamath Falls show that we are un lucky in attempts to secure free mail delivery while some of our citizens neglect to number their houses.

The Rogue River Public service corporation will install an electric ditch digger.

A LITTLE SPORTING GOSSIP

By Hal Sheridan

United Press Service
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—How many more times does Freddie Welsh, the British holder of the lightweight title, have to be licked by American aspirants before he loses his crown? Easy. Just as many more times as the public will shove its ducats through the box office window to watch ten round no-decision affairs.

Up to date, the Englishman has been whipped, in the opinion of the experts, by four American contenders for his title. Yet the crown still rests will him. Charles White walloped him in Milwaukee, Joe Shugrue has beaten him, Jimmy Duffy outpointed him in Buffalo and Johnny Griffiths outfought him in Akron, O. And there is a strong suspicion in many quarters that there are two or three more Yankee battlers who could give him the gate, particularly Willie Ritchie, whom he uncrowned and whom he is matched to fight next month, and Johnny Dundee.

Jack Dillon, the Indianapolis "man-killer", should be in line for several more good bouts in the East. His last appearance was against Porky Flynn, in Brooklyn, and he fully demonstrated that he is entitled to the voracious names he had conferred on him. Dillon hasn't been very popular in these parts for some years. It was all due to a rotten show he put on here with Frank Klaus, but it is almost forgotten, now and loud was the praise of the Hoosier battler following the Flynn battle.

Dan McKittrick is making much out of the fact that his man, Young Ahearn, was awarded a popular decision over the Indiana boxer in a six-round bout in Philadelphia. He is using it in his publicity propaganda freely.

Henry Stoehler, who has a fine farm in Yonna valley, left this morning for home, after disposing of some dressed hogs in the local market.

Sam Padgett is on the sick list at present.

Miss Hazel McCormick was out of school last Monday on account of sickness.

The basketball teams received their new suits Monday. They are very much pleased with them.

The Keno Sunday school decided to give an Easter program, and preparations are being made for it at the present time.

Mrs. Powers left Sunday morning for a visit with her daughter at Roseburg.

Mrs. Jaquette is able to be out again, after much trouble with neuralgia.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR TURNS A GRAY, FADED HAIR DARK AND GLOSSY

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

Big Change in Battles

Civil War Veteran Draws Comparison With Europe

Russian or German or French or English field hospital can ten soldiers be found afflicted with bayonet wounds. "In our Civil War our field trenches were only waist deep, generally thrown up over night, while in the European war they are over six feet deep, and covered with adequate protection against the havoc of the exploding shells. The infantry arm of the service is under ground and out of sight. And when the field hospital record of this war is written it will be found that six soldiers died from pneumonia and malignant fevers, contracted in the damp trenches, to one killed in battle.

"In our war the soldiers on the march, or around the bivouac fires at night, sang patriotic songs, written by soldier song writers. The North rallied to "We are Coming, Father Abraham"; "We Have Drunk from the Same Canteen"; "Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are Marching"; and the "Battle Cry of Freedom"; while the Southern soldiers sang "Dixie"; "The Bonnie Blue Flag"; "Somebody's Darling"; "Maryland, My Maryland" in all some fifty inspiring battle songs were sung. The only song so far heard in the damp and distasteful trenches is "Tipperary", a roly-poly ditty without an inspiring idea.

"On the 14th of June, 1864, I commanded the skirmishers of the Second division, Twenty-third army corps, which assaulted Pine Mountain, Georgia, at the right of Kenesaw. I saw the shot fired by a 30-pound Parrot gun, which killed Bishop Polk, Episcopalia church, a distinguished lieutenant-general of the Confederate Army, who was right on the front line of battle. I saw Joe Hooker, at Rosena, Georgia, riding at the front of the advance skirmish line, splendidly mounted in the shining uniform of a major-general, with a yellow sash across his breast, the most conspicuous figure on that line of battle. It was at Lookout mountain that General Hooker led the advancing blue columns in that fight, immortalized in story and heroic song, as "The Battle Above the Clouds."

"At Franklin, Tenn., just before the veteran legions of General Hood made that series of desperate charges I heard the Federal band play that pathetic war melody, as the pathos words are well remembered: "Just before the battle motioned 'I am thinking most of you."
