TURKISH SHELLS PREVENT LANDING PARTIES ACTING

ON THE EUROPEAN SIDE EFFECTIVE

French Battleship Destroys Turkish Fleet Napoleon, and Routs the German—Little of Interest in the War-Hidden Countries Coming Over the Wires Today—Greek Reply is Praising Official.

United Press Service

LONDON, March 3.—Athens dispatches say a British battleship and two smaller craft shelled the fort at the Gulf of Saros for several hours today. The Turks replied effectively, and prevented the sending of landing parties ashore.

The warships have resumed their bombardment. The fleet is encountering stiff opposition from the guns at Kild and Bahr, on the European side.

The admiralty does not credit the report that the Austrian fleet might go to the Dardanelles to attack the rear of the allies.

The Turkish fortress at Napoleon was destroyed by the French battleship Gaulois yesterday. The shells set fire to the barracks, and the troops left.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3.—Germany's reply is not causing any rejoicing by officials. It is held that the terms depend too much upon the British attitude, which is unrelenting and uncompromising. The counter proposals virtually kill America's proposals.

BERLIN, March 3.—The heads of households have been asked to furnish the government an estimate of the flour they have on hand.

Paschaloff's machine gun killed five, and his mechanic captured the sixth.

The prisoner was seated on the frame of the machine, with his hands tied.

The prisoner loosened the ropes and Paschaloff grappled with him 3,000 feet up in the air, the mechanic operating the aeroplane.

The officer stunned the prisoner with a blow on the head, and reestrapped him and brought him into camp.

SHIPPING BILL IS KILLED AGAIN IN THE SENATE

CONGRESS SPEEDS UP TO FINISH BUSINESS

With Adjournment Time Set for Noon Tomorrow, and Thoughts of an Extra Session Abandoned, There is Much Being Accomplished Toward Getting Things Cleaned Up—Appropriation Bills Going Through.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3.—Congress is now on the high speed toward adjournment tomorrow noon. All thought of an extra session has been abandoned, and bills are being disposed of as fast as possible.

The government's ship purchase bill was formally and finally killed in the senate this afternoon.

The legislative, executive and judicial bill, carrying appropriations aggregating $36,000,000, passed the house today. The house also passed the army bill, which the senate is expected to approve.

The rivers and harbors improvement bill, reduced from $58,000,000 to $25,000,000, passed both houses, and has gone to the president for his signature. There is a $5,000,000 balance from last year in this fund.

The president has signed the sundry civil service and the fertilization bills.

Agreeing upon the naval appropriation bill conference report, the senate excluded the Taylor "stop watch" efficiency system from any of the navy department work. The senate also agreed upon the conference reports on the diplomatic, legislative, judicial and executive bills.

MUTTON BEING SHIPPED HERE

LOCAL MARKETS OFFER TWELVE CENTS A POUND FOR DRESSED SHEEP—OTHERWISE, THERE IS NO CHANGE LOCALLY

There is a scarcity of mutton in the local markets, and to supply the demand, dealers are shipping in dressed mutton from the outside, while waiting for Klamath county sheep to be brought in.

Farmers bringing in dressed mutton will receive two cents higher than yesterday, as the price has advanced two cents. Live mutton will now bring $5.50 and $7 per 100 pounds, a gain over yesterday.

Aside from this there is little change locally.
