"Detective Craig's Coup," a five part detective story, is the main attraction at the Star theater today and tomorrow.

"Detective Craig's Coup" is the story of a gentleman crook whose specialty is counterfeiting. He makes as his innocent tool a man about town, who in consequence is lodged in jail.

The production is brimful of thrilling escapades, which keeps the interest tense from start to finish.

"Romlet and Julio," a burlesque comedy, made by Bray, the cartoonist, will complete today's six reel program.

The Orpheus tonight presents "The Terrors of Great City, or a Traitor to the Kaiser," a three reel offering dealing with the life of an officer in the German army and the loss and subsequent recovery of valuable German army plans. This picture abounds with action, and is of unusual merit. "Shot in the Fracas," another of those screaming comedies now being shown at Klamath's Klasy Show House, completes the bill.

FRIENDS HONOR "GRANDPA" RUE

ENJOYABLE PARTY HELD AT SHASTA VIEW IN HONOR OF 77TH BIRTHDAY—SCHOOL IS SCENE OF ABLE DEBATE

(Herald Special Service)

SHASTA VIEW, March 11.—The following friends of "Grandpa" Rue gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strowbridge Friday evening in honor of his 77th birthday: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McManning, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Chandler, O. L. Chandler, Roy Beck, Mrs. Crosby Garrison, Mrs. Virginia Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elliott, Mrs. Wm. Sims, Mrs. C. M. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Chitwood, Mrs. J. L. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, A. M.

Garrison, Carl Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Miller, Mrs. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wilson, Mrs. John Hale and Rev. Hutchinson and wife. Quite a number of children were also present. It was a representative gathering, and the day was spent in an agreeable manner. The occasion was interspersed with vocal and instrumental music, wit, humor and reminiscences. A sumptuous dinner was spread in which all happily participated. Grandpa Rue was at his best, and thanked the gathering for the ovation tendered him.

About 7 o'clock the pupils of the Shasta View grammar school assembled at the Strowbridge home and debated the question: "Resolved: That the negro has been worse treated by the white man than the Indian." Mr. F. L. Chitwood was chosen chairman and H. E. Wilson, W. M. Chandler and C. W. Bailey were chosen as judges.

The question was ably handled, and the judges could not decide which side won, so they declared it a draw. It was the consensus of opinion that the question was handled in a more able manner by the youngsters than by debaters of more mature years.

Following are the names of those who participated in the debate: Affirmative—Joe Micka, Pauline Jones, Gertrude Jones, Ada Hunt, Rudolph Cacka, Mary Koters. Negative—Ethel Strowbridge, Albert Micka, Joe Koters, Mary Hunt, Helen Jones, Frank Micka, Charley Dobby.

Many Industry Buildings Put Up at the Exposition

Well, I wonder often what the Vintners buy One half so precious as the stuff they sell.

If Col. J. Omar Khayyam of Naishapur, Persia, the well known "wet" were to return to earth and take a stroll down the glittering row of manufacturers' exhibition palaces that is one of the most delightful features of the Panama-Pacific exposition, stopping in front of a perfect poem of a building and entering therein, he might find the answer to his query.

The colonel would doubtless be amazed to see in this bijou structure evidences that not only is the unfermented juice (which the Vintners buy) one half as precious as the fermented wine they sell, but rather the other way—the burden of proof is on the fermented drink to show it has half the value of the pure, unfermented juice.

In fact, in this day and age, old Omar would probably be hard put to it to find in his Persia or in Europe vineyards supplying the wine industry which will compare in size and wealth to that broad band of vineyard known as the "Chautauqua Grape Belt," which now embroiders the margin of Lake Erie from end to end and which has come into existence because of the development of the grape juice industry.

Grape juice has a temple all its own at the big San Francisco fair. Its exhibits show why the Lake Erie vineyards are so rich, for millions of gallons of "the national drink" are now consumed by Americans every year.

The Palace was dedicated February 20, by Dr. C. E. Welch of Westfield, N. Y., grape juice pioneer and head of the company which built the temple. The exhibits tell the story of grape juice from the first dozen bottles put up in a kitchen in 1869 and prescribed by physicians as a tonic to the vast manufacturing plants of today, whose annual output is three million gallons.
