It is no small wonder that some of the smaller towns in the state have not made the progress they deserve.

In order to have a good working organization there is really no necessity for heavy contributions.

A little individual effort for the common good goes a long way.

A commercial body properly conducted is a civic necessity. It is an investment that realizes no end of profit to every member of a community.

SPEAKING ABOUT color combinations, a number of fellows who are "wearin' of the green" today are at the same time painting the town red.

BUT IT'S SMALL consolation to the Celts that all the world is Irish today, when they think that hard fought fight in Flanders, a regiment of Irish, fighting for the English, were licked by the Dutch.

Don't buy an automobile until you have tried the new Maxwell, now being demonstrated at White Palace garage.

If you are looking for a good farm or stock ranch, it will pay you to see O'Brien.
