ALLIES' FLEET RENEWS FIGHT TO PASS STRAITS

BRITISH ADMIRAL IS REPORTED KILLED

Official Denial of This is Made by Admiralty—Three Ships Reported Lost in Thursday Fighting Against the Turkish Gunboats—British Sources State That Admiral Carden Is Ill.

United Press Service

LONDON, March 20.—Admiral Carden, commanding the allied fleet which is battering away at the forts guarding the Dardanelles and the way to Constantinople, is reported either killed or wounded.

The admiralty office unofficially denies this. It announces that Admiral Dorebeck is commanding because Carden is "ill."

The admiralty states that aside from the loss of the British battleship Irresistible, the French battleship Bouvet and the British torpedo boat Oceana, there were no serious casualties in Thursday's fighting.

It is reported from Athens that the allied fleet has again resumed the fight for the passage. The vessels re-entered the Straits last night, and are shelling the forts guarding the narrow today.

Only sixty out of the 430 of the crew of the Bouvet were rescued. There were slight casualties on other vessels.

The British papers accept the losses of the allies philosophically. They state that the Germans schooled the Turks in the use of mines, and that the losses were due to encountering mines in advancing.

WEBBER FUNERAL TOMORROW AT 2

SERVICES OVER THE REMAINS OF PIONEER OF KLAMATH WILL BE HELD FROM WHITLOCK'S CHAPEL SUNDAY

The funeral of Harry Webber, who died February 19, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the Whitlock chapel, Pine and Sixth streets. Elder S. D. Harlan, pastor of the Christian church, will officiate.

The following obituary notice was contributed:

Harry, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. H. Webber, was born in Waukesha, Wisconsin, January 25th, 1857, and died at Klamath Falls, Oregon, February 19, 1915.

At the age of 22 he left his native state to live in Minnesota, later moving to South Dakota, but, in 1889, finally arrived in Klamath county, after an arduous journey of three months by team. No one knew better the meanings of the words of Job: "Man's days are few and full of trouble," than Mr. Webber. He never married, but lived a bachelor life. He was reared in a good home, his parents being members of the Christian church, and although he was not a member of the church, yet he believed the Bible was God's will to man. Mr. Webber was high, generous, tender-hearted and kind. At a tender age his father was killed from him by death. The world began soon by outward appearance, and God looks on the intentions of the heart. Piety is a fruit which grows not on earthly ground. By trade Mr. Webber was a taxidermist, painter and decorator. He had in his possession a Pioneer badge dated 1887, which bore the inscription, "We Banned the War." Denied parental love from his early youth, in the new Western country he worked and worked far from his relatives, he found for "That Better World" of which one has written:

"Beyond the farthest, shimmering star That twinkles in the arch above, There is a world of truth and love Which earth's vile passions never know."

He leaves to mourn his loss one

WALK THIS WAY, PLEASE, MILADY

WALK LEISURELY LIKE A PRINCESS, WITHOUT WRIGGLING, AND WITH YOUR CHIN IN, IF YOU WOULD LOOK GRACEFUL

It is impossible for a woman to be awkward in her walk if she walks straight and keeps her knees stiff. The act of swinging the feet out gives one a graceful gait.

Walk slowly. Akirts wind around your calves when you walk rapidly, and all semblance of grace is lost. Walk in leisurely manner, as if you were a princess, not a hurried, worried, overworked woman.

Don't swing your shoulders. Don't swing your arms. Don't twist yourself in sinuous motions. Don't contort. And don't for gracious sake, wriggle.

Hold your chin in. This is the most important thing of all.

RUSSIAN TOWNS WANTONLY FIRED

PETROGRAD, March 20.—A semi-official statement claims that the Germans have destroyed property worth $500,000,000 as they were being forced back toward the Prussian frontier.

The statement claims that they devastated ninety-five towns and large villages; 27,000 smaller villages are partly in ruins and 4,500 are totally destroyed.

The girl with a secret is like a boy with his first gun. Neither is satisfied until a noise is made.

It is said there is no marrying and giving in marriage in heaven. This perhaps means the old American that fools rush in where angels fear to tread.

Some officials here that the United States attempt to bring about an end to the Japanese in the Pacific, and such a declaration, it is felt, will be welcomed by Japan, as it would open the door for a more liberal Japanese treatment in the Asiatic continent.

It is admitted by high officials that China has urged the United States to stand between the two nations and the Japanese aggression.

It is understood that the American government is now toward the United States and Japan, which is the result of the fact that the United States is not to be regarded as the ally of Japan.

CARRANZA SELLING PROPERTY TO GET FUNDS FOR FIGHTING VILLA TO FINISH, SAY JUNTA MEMBERS

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.—The junta here is busy making strenuous denials that Carranza is turning his property into cash, with the intention of leaving Mexico and its troubles, and finding a home in some other country. The members of the junta do not attempt to deny the rumors concerning the sale of Carranza's property, but insist that the only object in thus converting his share of this world's goods into cash is to replenish his war chest. They also seem to think that the war chest will need a deal of replenishing to carry out the Carranzista plans for Mexico's future.

Should Carranza succeed in raising the cash, they claim, he will begin a general campaign against Villa. And in view of the fact that they claim that Villa has been forced to leave Guadaluajara and allow that city to be occupied by the Carranzista forces, it appears that their claims may not be entirely without foundation.

On the other hand, Villa has agreed to levy no further taxes on the churches, and to make no further forced loans on church property. This leads his followers to believe that he has replenished his funds to such an extent that this method is now no more necessary.

Conditions in Mexico City have greatly improved in the past few days, according to information reaching the state department. It is reported that by an agreement between Villa and Carranza that the capital city shall be considered as neutral territory, and that trains may be run without interference. This would relieve to a great extent, the danger to foreigners in the capital.

British Losses on Sea Are Totaled

In addition to these, twenty-eight fishing vessels have been destroyed by warships and nineteen mined.

The man whom Allen is going to marry this month is already bald-headed, consequently he can't be used as a horrible example of matrimony later.
