

Bows and Arrows More Effective Than Guns

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, March 30.—(By mail to New York)—Two hundred Yaqui Indians once marched into Madero's camp in Mexico, and, armed with bows and arrows, they asked to be allowed to fight Madero's army. Madero's army was patchy enough as it was, but he did not want the services of the Indians. "But we will put gun cotton on the ends of our arrows," explained the chief. "Nothing doing," said Madero's officers, and the Indians marched back to the mountains. The American army experts along the Rio Grande laughed at the story of the bow-and-arrow Indians.

But today the great military leaders of Europe would pay fancy prices for the services of those Yaquis. Good bow and arrow men are at a premium. They are hard to find and they are badly needed. The French have tried bows and arrows all along their trenches, and, though the men were inexperienced in the use of the prehistoric weapon, they attained some highly successful results. A Yaqui Indian who could drop an arrow where he pleased could win the Legion of Honor badge.

The point is that trench fighting knocked the science of war to bits. After the armies had burrowed to and fro each other until they were nose to nose, they found that their marvelous long range rifles were practically useless. The trenches were so close together the artillery could not hit the enemy's trench without risking the destruction of its own.

The great twentieth century weapons failed. Now to get death into the other fellow's trench became the big problem.

State News of Interest

(Herald Special Service)
PORTLAND, April 12.—The work of consolidating the commercial and civic bodies of Portland having been completed, the new Chamber of Commerce is preparing to have a representative visit every city in the state where there is a commercial organization for the purpose of offering every assistance to make its work more effective. Any organization which desires the co-operation of this body in any matter pertaining to the development of its own town or its particular section of the state, is requested to immediately notify the Chamber of Commerce, and we will co-operate with them in every possible way. We are preparing to send out a man, not for the purpose of securing more members for our own organization, but to make an effort to bring about closer relations between Portland and the cities and counties of the state. The plan is being developed and dates will be arranged in accordance with the demands of the cities desiring the co-operation of this organization.

The good roads campaign which has been launched in Multnomah county is being given the unqualified support of the new Chamber of Commerce. Committees have been appointed to look after the details of organization and to make every effort to induce the voters to go to the polls and vote in favor of the bond issue. If the movement is successful, $1,250,000 will be expended in hard surfacing not less than seventy miles of roads in the county.

From Washington comes the welcome tidings that the rivers and harbors of the Pacific Northwest have received an unexpectedly generous share of the $30,000,000 appropriated for work of that class. The total sum set aside for this section is $9,926,175, of which $1,500,000 is to be devoted to completing the improvements at the mouth of the Columbia. With the Cello canal open to traffic and a clear, deep channel across the Columbia bar, the entire Columbia Valley is certainly in line for a long period of prosperity.

Unless present plans are materially changed, the new Portland postoffice building, to cost $1,000,000, will be in course of construction within the next sixty days, and the architect has promised that it will be completed within fourteen months. It will take the form of a big, fine office building, every part of which will be occupied by the government, the first building of its kind in the United States.

May 10th, the anniversary of the discovery of the Columbia River by Captain Gray, has been set aside by the management of the Panama-Pacific exposition as "Columbia River Day." The observance of this anniversary will come as a fitting climax to the week-long celebration of the opening of the Cello canal.

After the formal opening of the Cello canal, the steamers Bailey Gatzert and Dalles City will maintain a regular service between Portland and The Dalles, while a through service to the head of navigation will be given by the steamers State of Washington, J. N. Teal, Twin Cities and Inland Empire.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY
United Press Service.
WARSAW, Ind., April 12.—James Robinson is gradually taking on weight again. He lost 100 pounds in fifty-seven days, and incidentally set a new record for fasting in so doing. Robinson's trouble was that he had no appetite. He simply couldn't bear the sight of food. Finally he was induced to take a glass of buttermilk, and he gradually recovered. He had dropped from 280 pounds to 130.
This upsets the theory of medical science that fifty-five days is the limit of a man's endurance without food.

The Pacific Telephone company added 4,900 stations during the past year.
