

CELEBRATION IN JULY WILL HAVE MANY FEATURES

N. J. SINNOTT IS INVITED TO SPEAK

Efforts Are Also to Be Made to Secure the Services of a Loop-the-Loop Aviator, Who Will Also Take Local People Up in Flights—Wood Band and Ball Team Are Also to Be Asked to Come.

According to plans discussed by the July celebration committee of the Klamath Falls Business Men's Association, the celebration to be held here July 2, 3 and 4 will eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted in Southern Oregon. Already active work toward securing distinctive features is under way.

The present tentative plan is to have high carnival Friday and Saturday, July 2 and 3, and a "sane" 4th. Patriotic exercises will be held the 4th, and there is a possibility that Congressman N. J. Sinnott may be here to deliver the Fourth of July oration.

An invitation has been extended to the congressman to visit Klamath and speak on that occasion, and through as many sources as possible pressure is being brought to bear to have him accept. Sinnott attained fame for both eloquence and wit before he became a national legislator, and his presence here will draw a large crowd of constituents.

An aeroplane may also figure in the local celebration. Inquiries are being sent out to secure an aviator who can "loop-the-loop," and do other aerial stunts. It is also suggested that arrangements be made to have flights several times a day Friday and Saturday, with local people given the privilege of going aloft as aerial passengers.

The fast series of ball games between the Weed and Klamath Falls teams last July were so much enjoyed that efforts will be made to bring the Weed team here for another series. The Weed band, it is believed, will be engaged to play during the celebration, in addition to the Klamath Falls band, so there will be no lack of music.

A barbecue each day is planned. War dances by the Warm Springs Indians may also be daily features, and besides these, there will be races, dancing, aquatic sports, and no end of fun, sport and amusement.

Belgian Girls Work in Coal Mines

Their fathers, husbands and brothers in the war—those of them that have not been killed by the invading Germans—the girls of Belgium have been sent down into the coal mines for the roughest kind of work. Coal miners are proverbially the hardest workers, and these girls, most of whom should be in school, must take up their task. They work with pick and shovel just like the men, and come forth grimy and dirty. Skirts are, of course, impossible. They must dress like miners to do miner's work, and accordingly the women have taken to trousers. If the war continues much longer these girls will work in the mines many years after it has ended, for there will be few men left in Belgium.

SALOON LATEST CITY UTILITY

LEMMON, SOUTH DAKOTA, IS MAKING A THOUSAND DOLLARS A MONTH PROFIT OFF OF ITS MUNICIPAL BAR

United Press Service
LEMMON, S. D., April 17.—If business keeps up for the next two months as it has since last July, Lemmon's municipal saloon will have contributed approximately $12,000 toward the schools and municipal improvements. The monthly profit of Lemmon's one saloon is $1,000 a month.

Before the last law limiting the number of saloons per capita throughout the state, Lemmon, with a population of 1,250 inhabitants, had eight saloons. Competition was keen, and to make their respective saloons "attractive" some of them became the lowest manner of dives.

When the per capita law was passed, Lemmon was allowed two saloons. There was intense rivalry for the two licenses. A proposition that the city go into the saloon business was put to a vote, and failed.

Then the Lemmon Civic Association was formed after the city last spring adopted the commission form of government. The association included men of many different walks of life and business. Ministers were among the membership.

The association was given a saloon license. A manager, one of the strongest prohibition workers in the city, was appointed. He receives no salary. The two barkeepers receive such good salaries that graft of any kind is eliminated.

By the association's rules the sale of liquor is not pushed. A blacklist contains the names of persons who cannot buy liquor here. Patrons who once show a disposition to look even one time too frequently into the cup that cheers are blacklisted. Known drunkards may not enter the saloon; neither may persons whose families are known to be in want. Mayor B. R. Watt is one of the strongest boosters of Lemmon's municipal saloon.

OLD TIMER GONE TO HIS REWARD

S. D. WHITMORE DIES AT THE COUNTY HOSPITAL LAST NIGHT AFTER A LONG LIFE IN THE KLAMATH COUNTRY

S. D. Whitmore, an old time resident of Klamath county, passed away last night at the county hospital, after a short illness, due to senility.

Whitmore, who is 90 years of age, has been living in the eastern part of the county for many years, most of which time was spent in Bonanza, where he followed the trade of cobbler. He passed through this city when there was but a station here, and although living for many years in the county never again visited here until a short time ago.

His surprise at the growth of Klamath Falls and the many wonders to be found here was a source of amusement to his friends, as the old gentleman had a quaint way of expressing himself. His remarks regarding the moving pictures will be long remembered by those who overheard them. It was the first time he had observed this twentieth century invention, and his astonishment was indeed great.

While Mr. Whitmore left no immediate relatives, he left behind him a large circle of friends who will long cherish a fond remembrance of the aged cobbler.

HEARING OF CHILDS IS STARTED TODAY

United Press Service
SACRAMENTO, April 17.—The committee appointed to hear the evidence in the impeachment charges brought against Superior Judge Childs of Del Norte county, began its sessions today. Indications are that the trial will be lengthy.

Childs is charged with sending innocent persons to the penitentiary, and using his office in a manner not conducive to impartial justice.

A number of convicts have been called to testify against the jurist. Thus far, he has not objected to this nor cross-questioned any of these witnesses.

Josephine Horn, who is serving a six year term in San Quentin penitentiary on charge of aiding in a revolving crime against a girl, testified that Childs insisted upon trying her case after he had expressed an opinion that she was guilty.

J. P. Bowman, serving the term for obtaining money under false pretenses, testified that Childs demanded the verdict in his case, and threatened the jury to bring in a new verdict because the "dirt did not cover the prisoner of anything."

GROUND IS BROKEN FOR HOME OF ELKS

The first step toward the actual construction of the new $50,000 home of Klamath Lodge No. 1247, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, was taken shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon, when ground was broken at Main and Third streets for the excavation.

Following this start, the work is to be pushed toward completion of the building by September 15. C. A. Arnold has the contract for the excavation work, and has his teams and equipment on the job already.

The actual breaking of the ground was preceded by a short ceremony, which was attended by about fifty people. Elbert B. Hall, chairman of the building committee of the lodge, turned the first spadeful of earth.

Before doing this, Mr. Hall made a brief speech, telling of the dreams that precede all enterprises, great or small, and of the dreams of the local "Elks" of some day having a home for their lodge. The time for actual work had arrived, he said, and he started actual construction work by spading.

Other members of the local lodge then spaded and picked, loading a wagon with earth before desisting.
