A NEEDED IMPROVEMENT.

IF YOU HAVE dear ones sleeping the sleep Eternal, would you not gather a grain of comfort from the knowledge that their last resting place is a slightly, well kept cemetery? Can you imagine anything more terrible than the knowledge that these departed, or any dear one living, will be laid to rest in a tract overgrown with rank weeds and as unkempt and unsightly as an abandoned farm, with fencing so poor that cattle, horses, and other animals can trample over the graves?

The latter is the case in the local cemetery. Its condition hardly bespeaks proper respect for our departed. It is one spot that Klamath Falls should be ashamed of.

But this condition will be improved to some extent Saturday. Just to what extent depends upon the number of people turning out Saturday to clean up the cemetery. This is a cleanup that we should all assist. The Women's Relief Corps have started this admirable movement, and the city has shown its approval by voting money to help out.

Every person who can also help, by doing what they can Saturday, either making more slightly the graves of departed kinsmen or friends, or cleaning the weeds and debris from the resting place of friendless ones.

Scattered Shots

LOBSTER CREEK is the scene of Coos county's new gold rush. In the light of usual mining company developments, the creek seems most appropriately named.

THIS IS IDEAL weather—for fly swatting. Every fly swatted now means 10,000 less in August.

A GOOD BAND is a necessity in a progressive town. Klamath Falls is rated as progressive.

BOOSTING is a great encouragement but even a knock has its mission. It should show us how some people size us up.

WHAT IF BUSINESS is falling off for the fuel men. The ice dealers and soda dispensers see trade picking up.

"POOR THING"—thought the childless woman in the big auto looking at the mother or six, toiling over a tub. "She doesn't know what life is." "Poor thing," thought the mother of six, looking at the other, "She doesn't know what life is."

HONESTY is the best policy because it's safest.

Spas Interest

H. O. Enders was in Klamath Falls last week as a member of the Commercial Club committee which is boosting for a new road to Pelican Bay via the Dead Indian country. He says Klamath Falls people feel very kindly toward the proposition—not only the merchants, who realize that such a road would bring our fruits in and take their grain out, but by the sportsmen and autoists and others, who look upon the road as contributing to the public pleasure.—Ashland Tidings.

Mining Claims Located

County Judge Springer and J. H. Barkley, according to the Fort Rock Times, have recently located four groups of mining claims in the Pine Grove vicinity, a number of other people of the vicinity being associated with them in the enterprise. Sillon is the mineral believed to exist on the claims.—Bend Bulletin.

A Shirt Factory

P. H. Neill of Napa, Calif., spent last Tuesday here, and is said to be considering the removal of his shirt factory from the California town to this city. Mr. Neill is manager of the Napa Shirt company, and has had in mind for some time the idea of moving northward. On a recent visit he was so impressed with the appearance and climate of this vicinity as well as with the proposed railroad project into the timber districts, that he has now practically decided to make this place the location for his factory.—Roseburg Review.

Wage Reduction

The rumor that at all Smith industries in this section there was to be a cut in wages was confirmed recently when notification was posted in several places about the main mill and at Bay City. The notice exacts 10 per cent from each and every man employed by the Coos Bay Lumber company, the newly organized company which is working under the control of the committee appointed to handle the C. A. Smith affairs.—Marshfield Record.

Strange Animal Seen for the First Time by a White Man

James Chapin, explorer for the American Museum of Natural History, has come forth from the heart of Africa, the first white man to see the okapi alive. Scores of explorers have hunted this strange animal, a cross between a zebra and a giraffe, and several of them have brought out skins of beasts killed by natives. Mr. Chapin, after six years in the Congo regions, has come out with skins. He saw one alive.

In the heart of the continent a tribe had captured a young animal and held it prisoner. He and Herbert Lang, leader of the expedition, saw it and watched it and studied it scientifically. Further, they saw the bodies of okapi just killed by the natives and were able to study their anatomy and physiology, something that none had ever done before. Many works have been written about the animal, but previous to the work of these men no author had ever seen more than the skin of one.

J. A. Allen thus describes the animal in a bulletin of the American Museum:

"In the character of limbs and the length of neck the okapi differs little from the ordinary type of ruminant, as for example a deer or an antelope. Although it differs widely in external appearance from the giraffe, which has elongated limbs and enormously lengthened cervical vertebrae, the structure of the skull and teeth show it to be a member of the giraffe family. It has also two frontal horns, somewhat similar to that of the giraffe, but less developed, differing in this respect from ordinary ruminants. The lips are not prehensile, and its small eyes give the head somewhat the appearance of a deer.

"The okapi is said to live in pairs in the depths of the forest and to feed on the leaves of the undergrowth. Up to a recent date it was said that no white man had ever seen the living okapi in its native haunts, or was likely to, as it is extremely wary and shy, and nocturnal in its habits. The specimens taken have all been captured by the natives, who are said to be able sometimes to steal up to the animals and kill them with spears, but usually they take them in traps."

OLD-TIME GOLD CURE
DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.
