WORLD'S WORST PAVEMENT

MUD is earth which has been in soak by nature. Mud is the most valuable thing in the world. After earth has been mud for a while it produces crops, without which mankind would curl up and die like a baby sparrow on a hot doorstep.

However, since man does not raise crops on the country roads, he has no particular use for mud in that particular spot.

All over the central part of the nation the country roads are paved with mud. Mud makes the worst pavement in the world. A five-mile mud pavement in March is as effective as a two-inch oak floor for keeping a farmer at home. There are hundreds of millions of bushels of grain on the farms of America in the early spring, but they do not have much effect upon the cost of living, because they are separated by several miles of roads which clamp the farm wagons to their bosom with a glad gurgie, and refuse to release them until three teams are hitched on.

Wherever mud is used for making roads the farmer sells his grain when the roads are firmest, instead of when the market is firmest.

American mud is extremely useless on the country roads. It is even more useless on the city streets. It is hard to work up a worry over the fact that the American business man does not worship old masters and broken-down statuary. But it is easy to become distressed over the aesthetic taste of a man who will wade down town ankle-deep in last winter's mud all spring without calling around at the city hall with a rope, and pleading to be allowed to hang the administration.

The efficiency of American city government can be measured in some ways by the amount of mud on the American city streets.—George Fitch in Iowa Service Bulletin.

Scattered Shots

THE CITY COULD spend money to no better advantage than in helping the maintenance of the Klamath Falls band. The summer concerts have always proved popular with everybody.

IT CERTAINLY seems queer, in these democratic times, with the price of lumber on the bum and prohibition certain, that it would be possible for people to let their warrants go uncollected so long that the county threatens to cancel them. The most of us are wont to slip into running shoes as soon as we can even get a witness-attendance claim, and see to peddle it for enough to pay the telephone bill.

LEST YOU FORGET. Sunday is "Mother's Day." Wear a white flower.

AND ANOTHER reminder. Klamath Falls will have a rattling good chautauque this summer.

BEAR ALSO IN MIND that as long as this city has no method of disposing of garbage, etc., other than an annual clean-up, fly-swatting will not make us healthy.

JAPAN GIVES CHINA twenty-four hours to answer a snipsh note favorably or fight, and the wires are getting so hot, in Italy that censors have been put on the job. Yea, verily, business is good—for the powder factories.

IF WE'D ALL dispense a little more assistance and less criticism, we'd all be better off.

THE WORST CRIMINALS in the country are these Doc boys, and especially John. His bad sets are considered by nearly every grand jury.

Strong Picture at Orpheus Tonight

ROBERT WARWICK IN "THE DOLLAR MARK"

In the big dam scene scene in the World Film corporation release of Robert Warwick in "The Dollar Mark," motion picturedom has one of the most realistic scenes ever attempted, and so successfully carried out that the spectator is held breathless until James Gresham and Alice Chandler are safe from the raging waters.

The sensational scene starts with the two principals in Jim's cabin, just below the big dam, on the river bank. From rain the river is swollen, and the rushing waters finally break over the dam and cause it to give way.

They sweep onto the cabin, which is carried along on the flood. Jim and Alice are able to float down on one end of the cabin, until, at length, nearly at the end of their strength, they find a haven near an overhanging branch. To this Jim is able to tie himself and hold fast until help comes.

The impression that the scene makes is so lasting that no one is able to leave his seat until the entire picture is shown. It is the sort of picture that quickens the pulse.

The stress of the story is mellowed by the romance between Jim Gresham and Alice Chandler, and with Barbara Tennant playing opposite to handsome Robert Warwick, the combination is irresistible.

AT REST

Dearest Public:
Remember the number, 511.
Remember that old adage: People who live in glass houses should undress in the cellar.

I told you I was starving; you were too late, I am dead.

Virtue has its own reward, but you waited too long.

I have some swell salts and peppers in hand-painted initial china.

They are just too cute.

If you haven't a Thermos bottle your trip is not complete, even with an asbestos suit on, and you were in, well, you know, and I imagine that ice water would be kinda nice to have around.

I have a number of new things for spring.

I love you, but I hope your watch breaks.

McHattan.

All Tired Out

Hundreds More in Klamath Falls in the Same Plight

Tired all the time; weary and worn out day and night; back aches; head aches; your kidneys are probably weakened. You should help them do their work. Let one who knows tell you how.

Frank Longwill, 102 S. Mistletree street, Medford, Ore., says: "I had severe, sharp pains in my back, felt tired, languid and run down all the time. The kidney secretions were unnatural and too frequent in passage. My rest was badly broken at night. Four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of all symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble. I have had no complaint since."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Longwill had. Foster-Milburn Co., props., Buffalo, N. Y. (Paid Advertisement)

Newsies Slightly Mixed

United Press Service
ST. PAUL, Minn., May 5.—Newsboys today threaten a revolt. During the sensational publicity given the Rev. James Morrison Darnell, they accustomed themselves to calling him "Mister Darnell." Then along came the bombardment of the Darnells the other day, the kiddies adopted the cry, "Wuxtry, British ship sunk by Mr. Darnell."
